THE WORLD'S GREATEST

strain, most amazing results last breeding season by purchasers of my champion Norwich, in almost every case a winner was bred; everywhere fanciers are talking about the almost marvellous results, such as no other strain ever will or can achieve. Scores of well known winners sold direct from my rooms, which contain the finest stud of Norwich only ever got together; champion stock pairs from 20/- to 60/-; single cocks and hens, yellow and buff, from 8/6 to 40/-; all small surplus stock sold to a well known dealer. The cream only in Norwich, with blood which tells; the proof you can test at a moderate figure, for the very highest class. Don't waste another season by picking up a bird here and there, a great mistake, but send direct to me and have a pair or single bird, which you can rely on breeding something out of the ordinary; send at once; see show reports: Judge Silk, Whitstable. Also other honours too numerous to mention.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST BLOOD in the Fancy you cannot do better than GIVE ME A TRIAL.

Read following and remember it is what others say, and I shall be pleased to give you the same satisfaction. From Les Caches, St. Martin's, Guernsey, Dec., 1912.—I am writing to tell you my success at the show. We have only two classes for Yorkshires, and with three entries I secured 2 1sts and 3rd. I thought you would be pleased to know this, as it proves you sent me the right stuff to breed them from.—Jas. Collcutte, to L. Dykes.

Burngreave Bank, Sheffield, Dec., 1912.—Am very pleased with the bird; it gives every satisfaction; arrived just 24 hours from posting letter; rather smart on your part, and if I want anything else shall know where to send.—F. Cobb to L. Dykes.

Acacia Road, Leamington Spa, Dec., 1912.—Birds arrived safely, in splendid condition. They are both lovely birds, and I am pleased with your selection, and you have well merited the trust I placed in you. —Wm. K. Beveridge, to L. Dykes.

Champion Yorks. Cocks, at 6/-, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each. Fine Racy Hens, at 4/-, 5/-, 6/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/- each. Pairs, properly matched, at 8/6, 10/6, full song, and some seven inches long. Clears, Ticked, Green Marked, and Cinnamon Marked, Colour-fed or Natural Colour, and all guaranteed cold-room bred and kept.

Also a few recent winners, at low prices, and others that can win at members' shows, at 15/-, 20/-, 25/- each. Specially selected songsters at 6/6, 8/6, 10/6 each. Travelling Cages, 3d. extra, and remember, I send all on seven days' approval at my risk, either for cash or on deposit system. Easy payments arranged to suit reliable fanciers. Please state wants. BEEN "HAD."

125, Highbury Road, Dec., 1912. "Bird arrived quite safe. Am quite pleased with same. I should have sent to you before, but as I have been had once or twice it makes one very cautious. But I shall certainly recommend you now. B. Carlton."

WHAT THEY BREED.

60, Sea View Street, Dec., 1912.—"You might send me on a catalogue. I want to tell you out of a Crestbred cock I got of you in 1911. I had winners from it this year, also out of a Crested cock I got in 1912. I had two young birds in the show; they took second and third prize; also won Holywood, and in the open show of all Ireland. John Welsh."

OTHER KINDS OF TESTIMONIALS.

Dec., 1912.—Dear Sir,—Received your cheque, thanking you for the straightforward and honest way in which you have dealt with me, and hoping to trade at some future date.—Saml. Burry.

Dec., 1912.—Dear Sir,—Cheque to hand, for prompt despatch I thank you. Yorkshire Greens arrived safe, and give me satisfaction. A very cheap pair. —G. Elkins.

AVADAVATS; full directions as to caging and feeding, and how to keep these charming little Foreigners in the best possible condition, are given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 16," 2½d. post free, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents, list published frequently).

FOREIGN birds for beginners, 1/1½, by W. T. Page, F.Z.S., etc., Foreign Bird Expert to "Cage Birds." A highly instructive manual. It contains a magnificent coloured plate and a number of black and white illustrations. Indispensable to all keepers of Foreign birds. Replete with useful hints: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

PARROTS for pleasure and profit, 7d., by C. P. Arthur. A practical handbook, dealing with the keeping, feeding, and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. It explains how to sex these birds, the treatment of newly imported specimens, and cures for their various ills: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

THERE is no more lovely seed-eater than the popular Gouldian Finch, which, however, is very difficult to establish. This trouble can be overcome, and the variety kept successfully. But you must follow the hints given in "Nutshell No. 14," from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C., post free for 2½d. From agents (see list frequently published), 2d.

SIX true pairs of beautiful giant Red-crested Cardinals, cocks in full song, 12/- pair; these are not the small miserable Cardinals from Argentine, but the large variety from Valparaiso; also three pairs Yellow Budgerigars (adults), 12/- pair; and a very handsome Troupial, 25/-; I guarantee the above in perfect health, feather, and condition: Mrs. Seward, Hatton-garden, Liverpool. (342)

BUDGERIGARS and Cockatiels are among the most popular foreign birds, and C. P. Arthur has had a lifetime's experience with them. His book, "Budgerigars and Cockatiels," will show you how to keep them, feed them for health, how to breed them, and how to teach them to talk. The price of this valuable handbook is only 6½d., post free, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

TALKING green Parrot, Blue-fronted Amazon, magnificent plumage, best, plainest talker living, speaks plainly as any Grey bird, fully 175 words, many long sentences, perches on shoulder and talks to you, whistles tunes, sings and recites "Polly Green," "Polly Perkins," spells Polly, talk any time in presence of strangers, 3 years old, splendid interesting pet, £3 15/-; approval before payment: E. Milton, Eagle Chambers, Liverpool. (335)

THOUGH they can often be purchased for the modest half-crown, Pekin Nightingales are very beautiful in plumage, have a fine song, and make ideal cage or aviary birds. Some very helpful information on this variety will be found in "Nutshell No. 19," the author of which is Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Get it at once. 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from our agents (list published frequently).

WAXBILLS! (Golden-breasted, Orange-cheeked, Grey, and St. Helena). Than this interesting quartette, which can be purchased at from 2/6 to 7/6 a pair, there are few more charming foreigners. They can be successfully kept, too, with little difficulty if you will follow the hints given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 20," 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Call at any of our agents and get it for 2d. (list frequently published).

FOR a reliable Amazon see list, and Parrot trick exposed; also grand breeding Budgerigars, yellow and green, home bred and imported; also breeding cages for same, superior husks, etc. "Rosyth House, Nelson Road, Whitstable, Kent, Dec., 1912.—The Polly Amazon which I bought from you 13 weeks ago is a great pet. All those who have seen it have been surprised to see how I can handle it, and it is so amusing. At present it is sitting on a perch on top of its cage. I am not sorry I bought same, although I had seen others advertised at 10/-, but as they were 'too cheap to be sent on approval,' I thought it better to pay more for a bird that I could see, to risk sending money for a bird that was useless. You ought to have heard my Polly laughing and talking when the hose-pipe burst and the water went like a fountain. I am greatly pleased with it, and will give your address to any friend who may wish to have one.—E. A. Court": W. Rudd, Bird Specialist, Norwich.

THREE METHODS
of increasing your business.
WHICH IS THE BEST?

Advertising by Circulars.

Supposing you wish to get right at 10,000 fanciers. Bearing in mind that the better the 'get-up' of your circular the likelier it is to pull, 10,000 circulars will cost you 10 guineas. This is a low estimate. Then there is the postage, another 20 guineas, roughly. But what about the addresses? You have to get them: that is difficult; and even if you had them, remember, the waste paper basket is the premature grave of many a circular.

Arguments against—too strong.

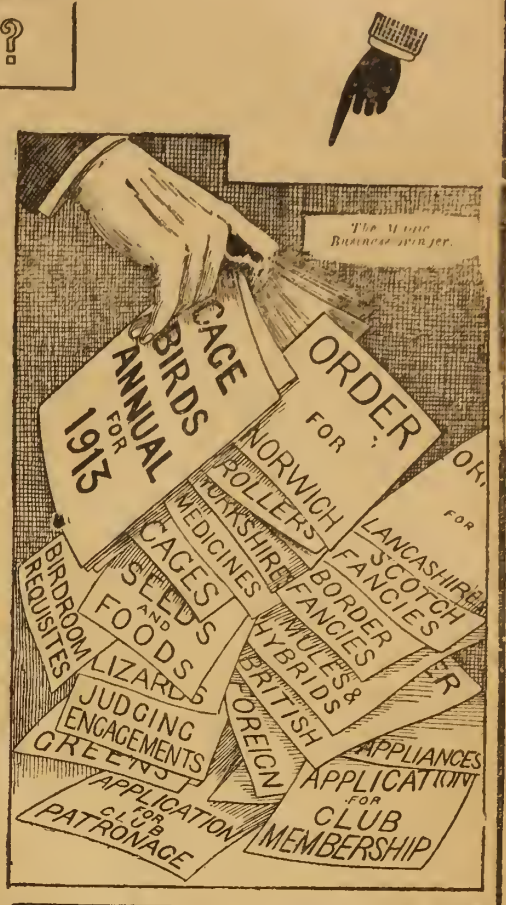
Relying on Prestige.

Success on the show bench brings a certain amount of fame to exhibitors, but the scope afforded here is limited to comparatively a few. The best results, in new business, cannot possibly be obtained, even by successful exhibitors, unless the prestige is backed up by judicious advertising.

What about Breeders, Food and Medicine Retailers, Appliance Makers! A reputation for fair dealing is valuable to them. But they are more handicapped than exhibitors, for few shows cater fully for them, and cannot bring them anything like the amount of business they could wish for.

Not sufficient—Turn to the third method.

Advertising in "Cage Birds Annual."



A TRUE ESTIMATE OF THE MEDIUM.

"The Annual has evidently a very wide circulation, as I had enquiries from Belgium, New Zealand and Canada."—An Advertiser in the "Annual."

Circulation, 10,000. A space of about 25 square inches works out at about 5d. or 7d. per week (according to position); an inch space less than 1½d. per week. The contents, including the only full up-to-date detailed list of Cage Bird Societies published; an expert review of the past Show Season, Standards and Scales of points; Breeder's Calendar; the latest Emergency Hints, and a host of helpful articles, will make "Cage Birds Annual" a reference which all who take a real live interest in bird-keeping will find necessary to have at their elbow. It's influence lasts throughout the year.

THINK WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU.

A method worth adopting.

An Unobstrusive Bird.

In a quiet spot near the writer's garden a Hedgesparrow builds, year after year, behind some logs of timber, where the ivy clambers. The Hedgesparrow is one of the quietest of birds. He slips about the hedges and bushes all round the gardens so quietly that unless you watch you will hardly notice him. Yet he does not seem shy. If you stand still he will approach quite closely.

Club Reports.

SPRINGBURN & POSSIL PK. C.B.C

Monthly meeting held Dec. 18th in Reid Hall, before a good attendance. Mr. H. Sloan occupied the chair. Members received their specials and viewed the medals for the cup winners. Four new members were proposed. Settled to hold next meeting in Reid Hall as usual, Jan. 18, when the annual report would be forward, and office bearers elected for next season.—J. Waugh, Sec.

ANFIELD PLAIN C.B.S.

Meeting held at Mr. Lumley's, Anfield Plain, Dec. 24, Mr. S. Foster in the chair. We decided to pay prize money that night, 6s. 6d. per class, with special prize to every member. We paid 6s. 6d. per class for 37 classes, which I think is good from 6d. per cage entry and a 4s. per year sub. I am instructed to write and thank you for the grand report of our show, which I think will take some beating. Would you please send me some of your calenders and I will distribute them. We wish CAGE BIRDS every success.—R. Peart, sec.

DUBMIRE (Workmen's Club) C.B.A

Meeting held Dec. 28 for election of officers, when we had a good muster present. The society, which is only two years old, is doing well. We made another good member, Mr. J. Atkinson. Officers appointed for the ensuing year:—President, Mr. F. W. Hall; vice-pres., Mr. J. Davison; chairman, Mr. J. Fenton; sec., Mr. B. Robinson; financial sec., Mr. G. Lynn; committee, Messrs. W. Holton, W. Hedley, T. Stokeld, W. Finlay, R. Liddle, J. Atkinson, and J. Henderson. The members wish to thank committee of the Dubmire Workmen's Club through CAGE BIRDS for donation and loan of hall.—B. Robinson, sec.

CLYDEBANK AND DIST. C.B.C.

Usual monthly meeting, held in Higgins Hall, Dec. 26th, Mr. G. McGown presiding in the absence of Mr. Robb. There was a fair attendance. Letter was read from Mr. Jas. Hart resigning the secretaryship, which was accepted. The financial report for the year was then gone over. It was very satisfactory, as with the exception of one small account, it leaves us with a balance on hand of £13. Election of office-bearers was then gone on with, which resulted as follows: President, Mr. Geo. McGown; secretary, Wm. Kane; treas., Mr. D. Chambers; committee same as last year, with the exception of Mr. Robb for Mr. Kane. Resolved unanimously that the yearly subscription be reduced to 3s. 6d., 1s. payable on nomination, remainder on or before First Feather Show.—William Kane, Sec.

BISHOP AUCKLAND C.B.S.

Meeting held Dec. 18, at headquarters, Y.M.C.A. Hall, when a good number of members were present. Several new members were proposed and accepted. A washing exhibition was given by a few members, birds being tubbed by Messrs. Parnaby, Ogden, Messenger, and Elliott, and the lesson was very much appreciated, particularly by the novices. At next meeting, January 22, all arrangements will be made for our pair show, 1913, fanciers wishing to join us should do so at once, as we hope to have a very successful show. Several old members in the district have promised to join the ranks. We are also (time permitting) to have a paper by our worthy chairman, Mr. Button, on inbreeding. Will those who were unable to be present at our last show kindly bring along some good entries.—R. Elliott, Hon. Sec.

LIVERPOOL BIRD BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION.

Successful Smoking Concert.

A grand smoking concert and prize distribution was held in the rooms of the Mitre Hotel, Dale Street, Liverpool, Dec. 11. There was a grand array of season's specials—silver cups, medals, etc., etc. Mr. Isaacs (pres.) occupied the chair, supported by Mr. F. Handley, chairman; Mr. J. Abbot, vice-chair; Mr. T. Jones, treas.; Mr. F. Eccleston, hon. sec., and Mr. J. Lloyd, assist. hon. sec.; and amongst those present we noticed Messrs. Steinart, Wilson, Brotherton, W. Wilcox, A. Wilcox, Jarbock, Black, Magee, C. Rumsby, W. Jones, jun., Marnick, Adkin, Matherson, Crowe, Draper, Malone, W. Jones, sen., Bell, Hurst, Fearnley, Cliff, Nevin, Armstead Carlin, Farrell, Mays, Hill, Handley, jun., Holt, Thafnor, Connor, Sankey, Kinsey, McCullock, Cowan, Knight, Hawkes, Carlyle, Capstick, McMahon, and numerous others, the names of whom we did not get. The president having proposed the toast of "The King," which was responded to in a right royal manner, the song "Poet and Peasant" was rendered in a beautiful manner by Miss Breen to her own accompaniment. Mr. Sid Mills sang "Come and hear the gramophone" in great style. Miss C. Harvey sang "You wish me to forget you" in a most pleasing manner. This item was greatly enjoyed, and deserved the rounds and rounds of applause it received. The next toast, "The Breeders," was proposed by that most popular fancier, Mr. S. Hadwin, who commented upon the numerous cups, etc., the association always managed to get together for competition, emphasising the fact that novices are especially catered for, and that these novice members are the backbone of a society—a fact which must not be overlooked. Mr. Handley (the chairman) replied to the toast in his usual vigorous and happy vein, winding up by saying he wished he were a novice. After a song, "Mamie May," had been given by Mr. Handley, jun., the President, wearing his usual happy smile, presented the prizes, as follows:—Season's specials: 1st, gold medal, J. McMahon, 121 points; 2nd, "Our Canaries," Mr. W. Jones, 117; 3, E.P. cup, Mr. J. Crowe, 96; most points Borders, W. Pullman, W.B.F. silver medal. Special for old show champions: Most points, J. W. Metcalfe, 68; 2nd, C. Robinson, 53; 3rd, W. Jones, 51; 4th, S. McNulty, 50; 5th, F. Handley, 46; 6th, W. R. Knowles, 37. Nov.: Most points, J. Crowe, 50; 2nd, J. McMahon, 36; 3rd, J. Darlington, 35; 4th, W. Whiteside, 23; 5th, J. Knight, 26; 6th, W. Bell, 24. Most points, Brit.: 1, J. Lloyd,; 2, W. Whiteside. An illuminated certificate for best Border, presented by Mr. Henry C. Butler, Harwarden, was won by Mr. J. W. Metcalfe. Best vhc, C. Robinson. Most points gift class, C. Robinson. Novices, J. Crowe. Juvenile Class: 1, Miss Lena Eccleston; 2, Miss T. Malone; 3, Miss Draper; 4, R. Brotherton, jun.; 5, J. Lloyd; 6, W. Pullman. The prizes made a grand array of most useful articles, and should be an incentive to fanciers to join the association and support the officers who had been able to provide such good sport. Presentation of prizes being over, and after a pleasing reminder that our friend Mr. Crowe was an old fashioned novice, the company thoroughly enjoying the joke, the musical portion of the excellent programme was resumed, interspersed with toasts and replies. Mr. R. B. Wright replied to the toast of "The Kindred Societies," and in a few well chosen remarks commented on the beautiful array of prizes provided by the officers of the association for competition amongst the members. He was especially pleased at the way in which the novices are catered for, and hoped the members would endeavour to get all their fancier friends to join the association and help to make the Breeders' a society second to none. The district societies were now putting their houses in order, and at some future date, not far distant, he hoped that all would be working hand in hand for the benefit and well-being of the Fancy in the second city of the kingdom. The many songs having been given to the evident enjoyment of the company, the artistes and visitors were suitably toasted by Mr. Handley, and the singing of "God Save the King" brought to an end one of the most pleasant evenings in the annals of the Liverpool Bird Breeders' Association. —R. B. Wright.

STIRLING AND DISTRICT C.B.S.

Monthly meeting held in McDonald's Temperance Hotel, Dec. 21. Mr. J. Smith in the chair. The books were audited by J. Smith and G. Fernie, and found correct. Moved by J. Auld and seconded by J. Mitchell that the year's business be finished, all prize money being paid out. Office-bearers for next year to be elected.—W. Clubb, Secretary pro tem.

SHEFFIELD O.S.

At a committee meeting held Dec. 17th, it was announced that the fine silver cups will each carry a gold medal, the cup to be held for one year, and awarded to the exhibitor in each section showing the four highest birds. The special prize list for the annual members' show to be held Jan. 18, has been considerably added to, as follows: 5s. for the most entries in each section, Yorks., Nor., Crests, Foreign, British and Hybrids; 2s. 6d. for most points in each section, and 2s. 6d. for the best vhc bird in each section. Fixed prize money as usual, 4s., 2s., 1s. for a 6d. entry fee, also several other specials. This should draw a record entry.—John A. T. Woodall, Press Correspondent.

KELTY AND BLAIRADAM C.B.A.

Meeting held Dec. 24, Mr. J. Stenhouse (Pres.) in the chair. Principal business was club show, held Jan. 18. Full report of classes and specials will be sent on later. Letter was received from Dunfermline C.B.S. saying they had selected the following gentlemen to judge our Club Show:—Scotch Fancy, R. T. Campbell; Crest, Norwich, and Selling, T. Wildridge; Yorks, Borders, etc., A. Kilpatrick; Mules, Brit., and Fo., J. Grewar. The secretary gave a report of meeting held by West Fife League. Some interesting discussion took place as regards the lack of enthusiasm in the League, also as to whether something could not be done to make closer competition for next year. Nothing definite could be settled until next meeting, when we hope to have a better turn-out of members. Next meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 14, which is an alteration, as so many of our members have been on the afternoon shift when our meetings fell due.—A. Dickson, sec.

LANCASHIRE AND LIZARD F.A.

Meeting held at the Church Inn, Oldham, with only a poor muster of members. The chief item was arrangements for next club show, and the place to have same. Owing to the kindness of the Oldham C.B.S., who generously placed their show room and staging at our disposal, it was unanimously decided to have show at the Textile Dining Room, Shaw Road, Oldham, Jan. 12th. Decided, that a rule be in force for this show, as follows:—That any entry in hen class caught singing, be reported, and on proof of same be thrown out of competition, and any prize won by same be forfeited, and points be deducted. Also decided, That all birds must be in show room on Friday night, January 11th, as Mr. Martin, who is kindly looking after arrivals, will not be able to see to them on the Saturday. The two medals from Toronto C.B.S. will be given for best Lancs. and Lizard respectively. There will be eight Lancs. classes: Yell. coppy cl. or tkd., buff ditto, yell. P.H., buff ditto, and two hen classes for champions, also 2 novice. Champion Lizards will have eight classes, four for cocks and four for hens, also 2 cock and 2 hen classes for novice Lizards. I shall be pleased to hear from any member willing to give a special. A hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Swalwell, who ably occupied the chair, brought the meeting to a conclusion.—John Rukin, Hon. Sec.

COWDENBEATH C.B.S.

Annual general meeting held in the Arcade Temperance Hotel, Dec. 28. Mr. A. Simpson presided over a good turn-out of members. The secretary submitted the balance sheets for the year. The club show balance sheet showed a good balance, while that for the year's working showed a balance of £12 in bank and £9 5s. 6d. with treasurer. After the balance sheet had been handed round for the inspection of the members, comment was general on the highly satisfactory position of the society. Mr. Jas. Baxter moved approval, Mr. J. MacKiver seconding, which was carried unanimously. Office-bearers for 1913 were then appointed as follows:—All honorary office-bearers re-elected. President, Mr. John C. Murray re-elected; vice-pres., Mr. A. Simpson; treas., Mr. G. Beveridge re-elected; sec., John Holms, Hill Street, Cowdenbeath; assist. sec., Joseph R. Reid. A long discussion took place re the date of our next open show; ultimately it was agreed almost unanimously to alter date to the first Saturday in November. The committee appointed for the club show gave their report, and it was agreed that it be held in the Masonic Hall, Jan. 25. Judge, Mr. Wm. McAdam (Lasswade). Judging to commence at 12 noon. Entry fee, 2d. per bird. A special prize will be given in each class, probably two. The Leith Publishing Co.'s offer for model cards was accepted. Classes are provided as follows:—Scotch Fancy, 2; Borders, 5; Yorks, 4; Norwich, 6; Crest and Crest-bred, 1 each; Common, 1; Gift, 1; Brit, 6; For., 1; with one novice class in each section. It is hoped that the members will take full advantage of the above classes and give Mr. McAdam, who judges, something to do. Agreed that next meeting be held in the Commercial Hotel Jan. 22, when stewards will be appointed and entries taken to lighten the work on the morning of the show.—Joseph R. Reid, assist. sec.

WEST STANLEY C.B.S.

Annual meeting, held Dec. 28th, at head-quarters, Mr. W. H. Butler in the chair. We had a very large turn up of members. Officers for the following year were elected: Pres., Mr. J. Longsdale, Spennymoor; vice-pres., Messrs. A. Dunn, W. Shield, G. Watson, R. W. Wilson, M. H. Lindon, Dr. Johnston, R. Paley, J. Crowther, T. Blackett, M. Pattinson, and T. Rowe; chairman, W. H. Butler; vice., J. Emmerson; treas., R. Peart; auditors, G. Bates and T. Robinson; committee, Messrs. W. Boyd, R. Goodchild, S. Foster, J. Calvert, J. H. Elliott, G. Bates, W. Thompson, R. Coates, and J. Robson; sec., W. Elliott. The Sec. was instructed to again advertise date of annual show in CAGE BIRDS, and also in CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL. Decided to again book the Hibernian Hall for open, and also try for a room for monthly meetings. The following judges were nominated for annual show, Nov. 7th and 8th: J. Dixon, Wigton; T. Dixon, Bedlington; F. Marwood, J. Robson, W. Reid, C. A. House, J. Stanger, Wilson, of Frizington; W. A. Cowgill, Maddison, and A. Heys. The Sec. to write for their terms.—W. Elliott, Sec.

LONDON AND COUNTIES A.C.B.

Catheart," Osnaburgh Street, N.W. Chairman, Mr. R. J. Pretty, a good turn out of members being present to finish the old year. After the usual business was over, a table show of Norwich was held, some splendid specimens being shown. Champion Class: 1, E. Pretty; 2, 3, W. Shakspeare. Novice: 1, Harrison; 2, Cullers; 3, Harrison. Will all members do their utmost to bring along new members for the coming season. Mr. Thomas Harrison has presented the club with two handsome medals to be competed for by novices with Canaries during 1913: a gold centre medal for most points in young bird show and autumn show combined, and a silver centre medal for next highest points not in same variety. If ties occur best bird to be the winner. Mr. E. Pretty then gave some very interesting advice on the Norwich Plainhead. Each member in turn asked a question on same, which was answered with the greatest readiness, and to the satisfaction of all. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. T. Harrison for his kindness and generosity to the club, and to Mr. R. J. Pretty for acting as chairman, which brought a pleasant evening to a close.—G. G. Stubbs, Hon. Sec.

WELSH C.B.C.

Swansea members of above met at the Secretary's address to draft schedule and make arrangements for next club show, to be held at Swansea. Present, Messrs. Bancroft, Heal, Jenkins, Longden, Jeffries, and George. Decided, that date of show be January 25th, at Royal Standard Hotel, this being a splendid room, capable of holding 500 birds. Classification agreed to: Nor. 5 (1 Nov.); Yorks. 5 (1 Nov.); Borders 2; A.O.V. Can., Mules 2; Brit., 8; For. 1; Sell. 2. Fee 1s., prizes on sliding scale, 2d. in the 1s. to be deducted for working expenses. Birds to be staged not later than 10.30 a.m. day of show. Judge, Mr. D. A. S. Longden. Show managers, Messrs. J. E. Jeffries and D. Jenkins. A number of cash specials was promised by those present. May I make a special appeal to all members of the club to rally round the committee and make this show a financial success, by giving us every possible entry that they can make. It is only from the members we can draw the entry, therefore we trust that they will do their duty towards the club. I shall be pleased also to receive as many specials (cash or otherwise) as possible to encourage members to compete. Will donors kindly forward same to me at their very earliest, so that I may be able to get same into the schedule. I trust that the response to this appeal will be one that will be worthy of the club. —S. H. George, Show Sec., 32, Fisher Street, Swansea.

CODNOR PK. & EASTWOOD C.B.S.

First annual supper at the Three Tuns, Eastwood, Dec. 14, in connection with presenting the cup and special prizes to winners at the open show, Nov. 15 and 16. Justice was done to the grand spread our host and hostess had prepared for us. The cup was presented by Mr. J. H. Mitchell to Messrs. Adnitt and Driver, as winners, with 150 points gained at the open show. Mr. Adnitt responded, and his remarks were enthusiastically received. Mr. Holmes was then presented with the medal for runner-up with 102 points; Messrs. Lee and Smith, gent.'s umbrella, for third with 76 points; Messrs. Simpson and Vertigan, fourth, with 27 points; Messrs. Martin and Faux, CAGE BIRDS special (pair of framed plates), for the fastest losers. The rest of the evening was wholly taken up by songs and toasts, which kept the whole company alive, the chairman having to call "Time!" much too soon. A better evening has never been spent. A vote of thanks was given to CAGE BIRDS and its reporter for such a splendid report of our open show. We numbered 43 at the supper and 56 for the presentations, including many ladies, who seemed to be enjoying themselves as well as anyone.—"One present."

YORKS C.C. OF SCOTLAND.

Meeting held in Good Templars' Hall, Glasgow, Dec. 17. President Heggie in the chair. Owing to the bad weather and Partick Club smoker the attendance was very poor. HENRY J. FULLJAMES,
Secretary CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE,
154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

How to become an Associate.

Many readers of CAGE BIRDS have written to say that they would like to join CAGE BIRDS' LEAGUE, but cannot afford the subscription. To meet their wishes we have decided to form, in connection with the LEAGUE, a body of Associates. All we ask of these Associates is that they will promise to give every possible attention to the wants of their birds. And they must induce others to see that their birds are kept happy and contented.

All that the intending Associate has to do is to sign the coupon herewith, get five of his or her friends to sign each a similar coupon, and send the six, together with a penny stamp, to the Secretary of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE, who will forward by return an enamelled Button Badge of the LEAGUE. There will be no other charge. NOW, THEN, BIRD LOVERS!—USE YOUR BEST EFFORTS IN THIS SPLENDID CAUSE.

THE BIRD LOVER'S PLEDGE.

I hereby promise to take every care of my feathered pets and to induce others to do the same

R. A. Newley is "the" man for show cages. Order early. Address: 24, Stockwell Green, London, S.W.—(Advt.).

All prize money was paid in five days, writes Mr. W. Ayers, the secretary of Jarrow, Hebburn show.

We are asked to notify the following change of address: Mr. H. Birbeck from Lidgett Green to 14, Birklea St., W. Bowling, Bradford.

Members of the Sheffield O.S., writes Mr. Woodall, should note the magnificent specials the committee are offering for competition at the members' show, Jan. 18.

Kindly advise my change of address from 18, Carlton Rd. to 77, Overton Rd., Hillsboro, Sheffield, writes Mr. J. A. T. Woodall, vice-chairman of Sheffield O.S. Secretaries please note.

Mr. H. Mason, sec. Grimsby and Cleethorpes R.C.C., writes that the winning numbers in Gift Class at the recent show are 1886, 1042, 1141, 2318, 722, 2177, 2408, 236, 720, 284, 1162.

I have posted 1,400 schedules to known exhibitors, writes Mr. J. Jeffrey, sec. Sunderland C.B.A., 3, Glenthorne Rd., Sunderland, and will be glad to supply one to anyone applying.

The Coventry Godiva C.B.S. open show for 1913 is fixed to take place on Oct. 25, writes Mr. H. Saunders, hon. sec. We have decided to alter it, owing to clashing with several other societies.

Will members please note that prize-money will be paid at next meeting, January 9th; also there will be a table show (see Club Notices for classification) writes Mr. J. W. Reed, Sec., Newcastle C.B.S.

We are informed that prize-money has been paid in respect of the following shows. Anyone who may have been overlooked should apply to the respective secretaries: Jarrow, Manchester Amalgamated, Auchterarder.

Very many thanks for the beautiful drawing on the front page of my Hawfinch, writes Mr. G. Oliver, of East Ham. I am pleased to say he was 1st and special at East Ham, 1st and special and British bird cup at Leyton; also 1st and special at Ilford. I wish Cage Birds success in the New Year.

[Mr. Oliver's address was in the inscription given as "Eastbourne" by mistake.—Editor.]

The Meadowfield and Dist. Social Club members are holding on Jan. 11, a show, open to members and affiliated members, of the Club Union. Six classes are provided: Nor., Yorks., 4 Brit., and For. Prizes are 8s., 4s., 2s.; fee 1s. Mr. W. Reid, Sunderland, judges. Entries close Jan. 8, to T. E. Jones, Frederick St., Meadowfield, Brandon Colliery.

We understand Mr. R. Lambie, Whitburn, that the correction published in our issue on Dec. 21st in regard to the B.F.C.C. novice medal and other specials, did not properly represent the case. Mr. R. Fisher, Bonnyrigg, won the novice B.F.C.C. medal, Mr. Wm. Lambie the novice special confined to Whitburn, and Mr. Robt. Lambie the special for most points in the Norwich and Border sections.

At a meeting held in the Coffee House Hall, writes Mr. T. Cameron, sec. Bo'ness and Dis. F.A., 7, Ash Terrace, Grangepans, Bo'ness, the following officials were appointed: Mr. T. Bell, Pres.; Mr. T. Scotland, Vice-Pres.; Mr. R. Stevens, Treas.; Mr. C. Lidder, Ass. Sec.; Mr. T. Cameron, Sec. I am very pleased to state that instead of a deficit we have a balance this year. We are considering having a two days' show next year.

Many thanks for the drawing of my yellow Crest-bred in Cage Birds, writes Mrs. Litchfield (Streatham). This is his first show season, and he has given a good account of himself, being 2nd at Plymouth, 2nd at Cheltenham, 2nd at Nottingham, 2nd at Wimbledon, and 1st at the L.C.B.A., the only times shown. He is my own breeding, the son of my winning yellow Crested hen, who, I am sorry to say, I have had the misfortune to lose. I wish Cage Birds every success in the New Year.

Bromley and West Kent fanciers, writes Mr. A. T. Bellinger, are holding their next open show Oct. 15 and 16; judge, Mr. J. Robson. Will secretaries please note the date, to save clashing

Crystal Palace Cage Bird show, Feb. 7 to 11. The best place to buy or sell any kind of cage-bird. Special classes provided for the sale of surplus stock. Stalls to let, 3 guineas each. Advertisements received for insertion in catalogue at 30s. per page. Breeders' cards inserted 2s. 6d. each.—J. W. Ramsden, show manager, 11, Josephine Avenue, Brixton.—(Advt.)

Owing to the serious and dangerous illness of my three little girls, writes Mr. R. B. Wright, Sec. Anfield, Everton and Dis. C.B.S., I am unable to give the attention to the business of our open show I should like to, and ask the indulgence of fanciers for a few days. Our show was a great success. All points, specials, etc., will appear in next week's issue.

We have engaged Mr. W. McAdam (Lasswade) to judge our club show on Jan. 25, writes Mr. J. R. Reid, asst. sec. Cowdenbeath C.B.S., and I have also to announce that Mr. John Holms, Hill Street, Cowdenbeath, has been appointed secretary of this society, and all communications should be sent to him. We have altered our open show date to Nov. 1st.

OBITUARY.

Mr. J. Caithness.

I feel deeply grieved, writes Mr. J. R. Reid, asst. sec. Cowdenbeath C.B.S., to announce to you and our brother fanciers the passing away of Mr. James Caithness, one of our members, who died on Sunday, Dec. 29, after an illness of only a few hours. Mr. Caithness was one of the promoters of this society, and acted as a steward at our recent open show. He always showed a keen interest in the welfare of the society, and was ever ready to help any of the younger members in their hobby. His fancy lay in the rearing of British Softbills, and not a few of these earned winning brackets for him on the show bench. I would like to convey to Mr. Caithness, sen., and family, the sincere sympathy of the members of the Cowdenbeath C.B.S. in their sad bereavement.

Hard Luck.

We hear from our representative that the Leek show down to be held on Dec. 28, had to be abandoned.

A Watch Worth Having.

I received Cage Birds Watch last Saturday evening, and I am pleased to say it is keeping splendid time. It is a marvel at the price. I don't wonder at you being sold out.—W. Odell (Edmonton).

Scottish National Record Entry.

We were pleased to receive on Monday a telegram from Mr. Winter, the popular President of the Scottish Nat., that the entries had closed with a record, 2,025 all told.

A £10 Norwich Plainhead.

The Buff Norwich cock your reporter gave such a grand account of at Frome show, I sold this week for £10, writes Mr. C. E. Silk (Emsworth). I don't know if this is a record for a Buff Norwich; it is by far the best with me.

Who Holds It?

At the Manchester, Salford, and District Amalgamated Societies' show, the lucky number of Bird and Cage was 828, writes J. Spencer. Prize-money was paid out on day of show; the remainder sent off on Monday evening. Anyone not having received theirs should send me word, as some may have got lost in the post through the rush at Xmas time.

L. and P.O.S. Annual Dinner.

This enjoyable function is due on Thursday, Jan. 9, at the Holborn Restaurant (Queen's Saloon). The time fixed is 7 p.m. sharp It seems that in my previous announcements, writes Mr. C. W. Law, hon. sec., I omitted the time. for which I apologise. A very fine musical programme has been arranged by Mr. Fred Gibson, and Miss Nance Haines, who proved such a success last year, will be among the artistes contributing.

An Esteemed Fancier's Progress.

Readers of our Journal will be glad to hear that Mr. Joseph F. Hills, who for so many long years was one of our most esteemed judges of British birds, is keeping in fairly good health, and manages to find some consolation for his failing eyesight. In a note just received, Mr. Hills writes:—"I am fairly well myself, can eat and sleep well, and take long walks, but my sight is nearly gone. I cannot see a line of this, and Mrs. Hills has to show me when to begin, and when to leave off. She reads the papers to me, so I keep up in bird news, which is a great comfort." Mr. Hills will have the best wishes of all fanciers for the New Year.

Leeds to Go Ahead.

Leeds next open show is, we hear, to be of a very enterprising character. The present officials are the best, and by far the most enthusiastic band the society has possessed for a good number of years. Progression is their motto, and their intentions are to place Leeds amongst the foremost shows of the country.

Bird Missing from Tonypandy Show.

Should any exhibitor have received the wrong birds from the above show, writes Mr. A. H. C. Legg, 7, Primrose Terrace, Llwyncelyn, Porth, Glam., I shall be glad to hear of the same. The missing bird belongs to one of our members, Mr. L. Hughes, 23, Marion St., Williamstown, Rhondda Valley. It is a clear buff Norwich hen, 2nd members' class.

A Scotchman in Canada.

Mr. John Fairley, of Toronto, well known when in Coatbridge as a highly-successful fancier of Belgians and Scotch Fancies, writes: "After some trouble and loss of birds through rats, I was compelled to remove to new quarters, and have been fortunate in getting a house where my bird-room has a Southern exposure. However, the removal upset by breeding season, but withal results were not so bad:—2 Belgians, 2 Crests, and 3 Plainheads, and all good birds. Now Sunday is a great day for visitors; seldom do we get a Sunday to ourselves; but we are always glad to see friends. Should this meet the eye of any of my birdie friends who purpose coming to Toronto, a visit from them will be welcome. We had a bird show here on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13 and 14, and I entered 12 birds, winning 6 firsts, 2 seconds, and 3 good specials (a club show). Another show takes place on the 27th of Dec., of which I am a member; also there are three cups, one each for Belgians, Scotch Fancies, and Nor. Plainheads. I intend to give a good account of myself, when it comes off. There is a great demand for common singing birds here. I am sorry I cleared out all my feeders before leaving the old country, as you have to pay high prices for them here; German hens 1½ dollars (what we get in Scotland for 1s. 6d. and 3s.); cocks 4 to 5 dollars. What makes them dear is the big demand for them. I get my Cage Birds very regularly. I notice the Belgian classes, which I had so much pleasure in breeding for, are on the downward grade. Am doing all I can for them here. The report of the City of Glasgow show for Belgian classes was very discouraging. I have great hopes of starting a Belgian and Scotch Fancy Club here in Toronto for next year. We have a lot of Norwich and Yorkshire breeders here. For this coming show, there are two classes for Belgians and 8 classes for Scotch fancies. Fanciers in New York and Buffalo give a cup for them. Wishing all my friends a happy and prosperous New Year.—John Fairley (29, Shirley St., Toronto, Ont.).

The Christmas "Cuckoo" Once Again!

A correspondent to "The Daily Mail" writes that he and at least two others heard a Cuckoo near Pentwynmaur, Monmouthshire, on Christmas Day, and he asks if the bird has ever been heard elsewhere at this period of the year?

Readers of Cage Birds will know, of course, that the reputed ultra early "Cuckoo" is with us every year from about Christmas until the real Cuckoo arrives in early April. Occasionally a real Cuckoo will reach us in late March, but the Christmas "Cuckoo" we hear about every year, and those of its kind which are reported throughout January and February have clothes instead of feathers to cover their bodies.

WHERE ADVERTISING PAYS.

I have had 20 replies to advert in your paper last Friday re exchange Roller for Goldfinch, from all over the country. After I had exchanged my Roller I replied back to about 15 of them, till I got weary and stalled. (They are still coming!)—W. Spencer.

Allow me to thank the many correspondents who answered my advert in your last issue, writes Mr. Riley (Stacksteads). I had 27 replies,, which speaks well of the popularity of CAGE BIRDS.

So many applications have I had for cages and birds, writes Mr. C. H. Hill (Wivelscombe) that I advertised in your paper, that it was impossible for me to answer all. Please thank all who replied to the advertisement. Wishing you and your staff and CAGE BIRDS a prosperous 1913.

THE BUSINESS MACHINE OF THE CAGE BIRD FANCY.

How to Get the Most Out of Your Hobby.

There are two kinds of bird-keepers—one, the "happy-go-lucky" sort, who cares little so long as his birds sing a bit, and, maybe, breed a few young, and is content with a few nondescript cages and appliances. The other, the serious fancier, recognises that profit as well as pleasure is derivable from his hobby, and, further, that if the maximum of each is to be obtained, good cages and appliances, careful dieting, medicine for emergency, and co-operation with other earnest fanciers are as essential as are good birds.

A Record Show Season.

When it terminates with "the Palace" in February, the present show season will have beaten record—a matter full of import. No imagination is necessary to realise the powerful stimulus to our splendid hobby, which this show season will prove. Hundreds of societies, holding shows, have diligently sown the seed of advertisement, which has yielded a vast crop of entries, and these have resulted in the garnering by fortunate exhibitors of a bounteous harvest of prize money and "specials." It has been a rich harvest, and truly the hobby is booming.

A Sure Thing.

Fired with ambition at the sight of so many honours won, the hitherto happy-go-lucky bird-keepers will join the already great army of serious fanciers, who, in turn, will redouble their energies in the race for fame.

One serious fancier from the point of view of possible business, is worth twenty of the other sort, and those who cater for the needs of fanciers will readily agree that if, during 1913, they can secure an introduction to the serious ones, they will have done well.

A Question Answered.

How is it to be done? The answer is easy. He who takes up anything seriously, at the very outset feels the need for guidance. Time was when bird-keepers had to adopt, as their teacher, severe experience, and all honour be to those "old-timers" who, despite drawbacks and disappointments, have attained fame in the hobby. But in these strenuous times the old adage, "Try, try," etc., is shorn of its glamour, and every earnest bird-keeper wishes to "get there" by the shortest route. What is more, he knows it is now possible to do so. No matter how skilful he may be in his hobby, he is not above picking up a tip, and so the year 1913 will find every serious fancier adopting as his guide something which will help him at any stage in his pursuit of premier honours. That guide, the only one that will smooth out all "kinks," will be

"Cage Birds Annual" for 1913.

Whatever opinion he may have held before, Cage Birds Annual for 1913 will convince the serious fancier of the vital importance of good birds, good cages, and appliances, medicines, and sound seeds and foods. But that is not all. By means of the only detailed review of this great show season, it will conjure up in his mind dreams of future success—result: he will buy keenly and readily.

Purse-strings Loosened.

Than Cage Birds Annual for 1913, there will be no more certain loosener of fanciers' purse strings, to the great benefit of those who, on the spot, through the "Annual," show them their ability to meet all demands.

An Irrefutable Argument.

Show season 1912-1913 must inevitably prove highly beneficial to those who cater for the needs of fanciers, but the plums will go to those who are represented in Cage Birds Annual for 1913, which, at once the cheapest and most influential medium, may justly be termed "The Business Machine of the Fancy."

The Seal of Sound Dealings.

One thing must not be overlooked. The readers of the "Annual" will not merely buy readily, they will want the best. Thus, all who advertise in the "Annual" will have the stamp of reliability placed on their dealings.

There is business for all to be got through it. Big sales of cages and appliances, of seeds and foods, of medicines, and of all varieties of Canaries, Mules, and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds will result.

And, because the readers will be of just that enthusiastic class, whose membership is desirable, Club and Societies should not miss the opportunity of supplementing their free particulars by a bold announcement setting forth the advantages they can afford.

Again, because it will be found indispensable by every society secretary, judges of cage birds will find a small outlay on a "card's" money well spent.

Everybody in the Fancy wishing to make 1913 his best year should not fail to book space. Rates will be found given on another page, and advertisements close January 18th

The Manager, "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C., will be glad to answer any enquiries.

MAGNIFICENT SHOW AT PAISLEY

Great display in almost all classes. Total entry well over last year. Big crowds appreciate the New Year fare.

Paisley kept up its reputation as one of the leading shows of Scotland at the 39th annual exhibition (open to the United Kingdom), of poultry, etc., and cage birds. It was held in the new Drill Hall, on 1st and 2nd Jan. President, John Taylor, Esq.; vice-president, Wilson-McNair, Esq.; general secretary and treas., Mr. R. Arrol; cage bird secretary, Mr. W. Lambie with a large and efficient committee of well-known fanciers, comprising Messrs. A. Carse, A. Robertson, J. Stevenson, J. McIntyre, W. Paton, James Paton, J. Ritchie, John Paton, J. Paterson, J. Sinclair, T. Potts, and J. Gemmell. The hall is nicely situated, being convenient to the railway stations and cars, with abundance of size and light; there is not a more comfortable hall in the kingdom. Secretary Lambie, with his veteran helpers, had every available inch of space nicely arranged with the exhibits, and the hall was kept at a suitable even temperature. The exhibits, in fact, were well looked after in every respect. There was a large turn out of visitors and exhibitors, and on the second day of the show the hall will no doubt be crowded. In the cage bird section the entries are far ahead of last year's total, being quite 200 up. British were well ahead in point of numbers, and were an excellent lot. Scotch Fancy and Norwich, too, were splendid classes. The Borders were disappointing, being the only section that was down a shade. In the Scotch Fancy section Mr. J. Fulton, Paisley, won the Love cup for best young bird bred and owned by a member; Mr. Fulton had the runner up for this cup also, being the best of opposite sex. The Border Fancy Club medal was won by Mr. A. Walker, of Lesmahagow. The Thomas Love cup was won last year outright by Mr. Fulton, of Paisley. Mr. Love has since died, but his widow has very generously provided a new cup, and expressed her desire to continue her support, which the association appreciated very much. This year's show is a decided success, and the fact of the Glasgow and Dis. Association having altered their date from last year may have helped Paisley a shade on this occasion. Scotch Fancy judges: Messrs. J. D. Maxwell (Launceston), J. Watson (Glasgow), J. Hunter (Irvine), J. A. Stewart (Cathcart), J. Hannay (Dumfries), and A. M. Baird (Paisley); Norwich and Cinns.: Mr. A. Chalmers (Kirkintilloch); Yorkshires, Mr. C. Martin (Glasgow); Borders, Mr. R. Lambie (Whitburn); Hyb., Brit., and For., Mr. M. Craig (Tollcross). The judges' tasks were rather difficult, and they were not finished till nearly three o'clock in the afternoon. Their awards seemed to give general satisfaction. (In one or two sections our reporter is only able to give the awards; the detailed criticism will be published next week.—Editor).

The Mules, Hybrids, and Foreign.

LIGHT MULE, ETC. (3): 1, McQuiston, lightly marked Greenie, in lovely feather, shows the cross well; 2, Heron, capital Goldie-Bullie, A1 feather, in magnificent order, fine col., perfect staging; 3, Mills, lovely Redpoll-Bullie, in fine trim, nice feather, steady, good exhibit. DARK (8): 1, McQuiston, capital Jonque Goldie, in rare bloom, splendid size, good deep rich col., fine blaze and wings, wins; 2, Parker, clinking Linnet, in lovely bloom, rare size and fine qual., well up on leader for 1st place; 3, Morrison, jonque Greenie, in capital bloom, fine size, A1 condition, nicely placed; 4, Donaghy, jonque Goldie, grand feather and condition, only behind in size, nice depth of col.; 5, Steel, jonque Greenf., in A1 order, but lacks subs; 6, Heron and McNair; 7, Ross; 8, Buchanan. BRIT. GOLDIE (27): 1, Anderson, topper, real British, pure and distinct in markings, rich expansive blaze, fine buttons, deep rich wings, in capital order; 2, McGregor, well up in size and cond., fine square rich blaze, fails only in purity of col.; 3, Graham, nice one for col. and markings, but not quite the size of leaders; 4, Hope, nice Finch, well up in size and col., some doubted its nationality; 5, McQuiston, good col. and plumage; 6, Guthrie and Son; 7, Buchanan; 8, McRobbie. GOLDFINCH, FOREIGN (15): 1, Adams, lovely exhibit, fine size and col., neat, good in markings, deep coloured blaze, finely buttoned wings, staged in capital order; 2, Guthrie and Son, real nice one, fine size, very steady, good clean cut, tight feathered exhibit, runs hard for top honours; 3, Graham, clinking Finch, broad, deep expensive blaze, fine col. and markings, not looking too well when we saw it; 4, Taylor, grand col., tight in feather, steady as a rock, not quite so expansive in blaze; 5, Mills, very nice one for qual. and cond., fine markings, not quite so pure in colour; 6, Blair; 7, Buchanan; 8, Livingstone. BRIT. BULLF. (8): 1, McCloy, lovely exhibit, in clinking good order, rich breast, fine deep order; 2, Hannah, capital, faultless condition, fails expansive cap, fine col., nice wing bars, in lovely only in depth of col., otherwise perfect; 3, Selkirk, very nice one, in grand order, lacks size of winners; 4, Wallace, nice size, good feather, rather too smoky in col., otherwise good; 5, McGregor, in rare cond.; 6, Mills; 7, Williams; 8, Miller and Eadie. GREENF. (13): 1, Rennie, jonque, not a monster, but for col. and cond. hard to shift in this company, in spotless bloom; 2, 3, Parker, leader again a beauty, in superb cond., not quite the depth of col. of leader; 3rd, nat. col., monster for size, with a good moult will have to be reckoned with; 4, McCloy, tight feathered, in capital order, fails in steadiness; 5, Miller and Eadie, beauty for feather and cond., only needs size; 6, Pirrie; 7, O'May; 8, Williams. LINNET (16): 1, McQuiston, real good, rich nutty-brown col., finely pencilled, good whites, rare polish, like wax, steady as a rock; 2, Livingstone, nice, steady, neatly pencilled, shade dark in ground col.; 3, Graham, nice qual., fine col. and neat pencilling, looking trifle soft when we made our notes; 4, Parker, fine nutty col., in rare trim, only behind in size, otherwise well up; 5, Jeffrey, good one for size and steadiness, but not quite so perfect in feather; 6, Hutchison; 7, Campbell; 8, Trotter. SISKIN (8): 1, McQuiston, lovely jonque, all there, fine size and col., rich and clean cut markings, fine cap and bib, hard to find fault with; 2, McBride, nat. col., in rare fettle, fine cap and neat markings, put down in A1 order; 3, O'May, nice exhibit for col. and markings, lacks the finish of leaders; 4, McGillivray Bros., little beauty, in capital order, fine cap and nice markings, in lovely bloom; 5, Parker, pure col., good markings, not steady; 6, 7, Pearce; 8, Hutchison. LINNET, F.M. (15): 1, McQuiston, rare size, capital col., fine nutty-brown body, good whites, lovely cond., faultlessly staged; 2, McGregor, nice exhibit, well up for size and cond., not quite so neatly pencilled or so steady; 3, Jeffrey, capital feather, nutty, nice pencilling, runs close for 2nd position; 4, McMillan, nice exhibit for col., size and markings, but very unsteady; 5, no name, steady, in fair order, could have been staged to better advantage; 6, Dunlop; 7, we missed; 8, Campbell. TWITE, ETC. (8): 1, O'May, capital Mealy, rare size, fine col. and markings, one of the best we have come across for some time; 2, Graham, fine Twite, in rare order, nice ground col. and markings, in lovely order; 3, McQuiston, very nice Mealy, grand col. and markings, but behind in subs.; 4, Buchanan, Twite, nice condition, good col.; 5, Boslem, Mealy, staged in lovely fashion, and deserves its position; 6, Forester; 7, McMillan; 8, Campbell. MULING BRIT. HEN (21): 1, McQuiston, lovely Bullfinch, fine size, superb cond., tight feather, lovely cap and wing bars; 2, Anderson, fine steady Bramble, in clinking feather, nicely spangled; 3, Halliday, in fine trim, nice size and cond., not far behind leader; 4, McCloy, Greenie, fine cond., steady and well staged; 5, Forrester, Greenie, must have pressed hard; 6, Boswell; 7, Pirrie; 8, Houston. LESSER REDPOLL (9): 1, McGillivray Bros., all there for quality, fine size and col., neat and steady, well put down; 2, Anderson, in capital feather, steady and good in markings, secures position nicely; 3, Lyall, good one, hard on the run for higher honours here; 4, Fraser, nice condition and col., good bib and pencilling, very little behind; 5, Raine, steady and in nice feather; 6, O'May; 7, Thomson; 8, McMillian. SMALL BRIT. (11): 1, Taylor, lovely Dartford Warbler, in nice condition and staged in this owner's well-known style; 2, Miller and Eadie, magnificent Bearded Tit, in splendid order, deserved its place, good one; 3, Morrison, very nice Bramble, in fine feather, grand col. and spangling, steady, in top form; 4, 6, Pirrie, Nuthatch, in lovely order, perfect feather, real taking exhibit, might have gone up a peg; 5, Clark, fair-sized Chaffinch, good feather, nice col. and markings; 7, Fraser; 8, no name. LARGE (3): 1, Morrison, lovely Magpie, staged in faultless condition, well known winner often described; 2, McGavin, fine Hawfinch, steady, nice feather, fine colour, well put down; 3, Clark, Song Thrush, in good plumage, steady and nicely marked. FOREIGN (6): 1, Morrison, lovely Crimson-wing Parrot, A1 order, frequent winner; 2, Proudfoot, fine King Parrot, not just looking so perfect in feather as we have seen it on previous occasions; 3, Bruce, lovely little exhibit in perfect feather; 4, Sanderson, pair Budgies, in lovely condition; 5, Ross, splendid Gouldian Finch might have scored another point here; 6, Pirrie.

WINGATE (Durham).

First annual show held January 1st, in the Literary Institute—a splendid place for the purpose. Our visit to this show revived memories of the glories of the old flower show days, when Wingate was second to none in the county of Durham in the excellence of its exhibitions. In those days the cage bird section was quite one of the features of the shows, and attracted a large number of fanciers every year, and the writer remembers winning his first open first here, just on a decade ago. However, a few years ago, through circumstances over which they had no control, the committee were compelled to leave out the cage bird section, and from then until the present time there has not been a cage bird show in the town, therefore we feel impelled to welcome most heartily the resuscitation of the cage bird Fancy in the district, and we wish the organisers of the show under notice every success. The classification on the present occasion was not an extensive one, only twelve classes being provided, and the entry was only moderate, just close on 80 birds being staged. However, what was lacking in quantity was amply made up in quality, and several grand birds were put down. Our section was staged in a separate hall, with plenty of room, and very comfortable, and made a very nice display. The genial and obliging secretary, Mr. J. Burdett, had every thing in grand order, and apparently has nothing to learn in the matter of conducting a large and successful show. His arrangements for the care of our section were splendid, and a grand body of workers, led by Messrs. W. Burdett, J. English, and W. Stogdale, all keen fanciers, and doing their very best for the good of the show, were in charge of the cage birds. Norwich were the pick of the show, and some well-known winners were staged her. Yorkshires were very poor in numbers, but the British came up fairly well, and were really good in quality. The day was not a very promising one, yet the show was well attended, and we have every hope that it will prove a financial success. Mr. J. Stanger (Pelton Fell) judged.

Despite the very large amount of space devoted to show reports this week, we have been compelled to hold over accounts of three or four members' fixtures until our next issue.—Editor.

EDINBURGH SCOTCH FANCY & BELG. SHOW

Edinburgh S.F. and B. society held a grand show, Jan. 1 and 2. A collection of gems of the "King of the Fancy" was drawn together. All the classes were keenly contested, and the cup winners were real outstanding specimens. We never saw such a level lot of exhibits on the show bench, many classes being hard to separate. Belgians were good, although on the whole we thought they were a shade on the small side. The hall is an ideal one for a show, and the birds were well arranged and looked after. The secretarial duties were in the able hands of Mr. Lile, who carried out his work in a masterly fashion. The committee is composed of Scotland's premier breeders, and all the details were well attended to. Office-bearers: Hon. Pres., Mr. J. Kerr; Hon. Vice-Pres., Mr. J. M'Lennan. Committee, Messrs. G. Hope, R. Menzies, J. Hendry, W. Carson, J. Stewart, P. McNiven, J. Robertson, M. Petrie, J. Sinclair, P. Farrell. The judges were: Messrs. Wright, Carlaw, Leslie, and Hamilton, and their awards were well received.

FORFAR.

Forty-second annual show held in the Reid Hall on Jan. 1 and 2, the cage birds being staged in the upper hall, which is most excellent, being wonderfully well lighted, lofty, and spacious, and absolutely void of draughts, also extremely well situated. The entries were slightly down from last year, which is not easily accounted for, as the exhibits have all attention that could be desired. Norwich lead the way; every class had good specimens, and we noticed in the clear or ticked yellow hen class a well-known winner marked "wrong class." Borders were also good, and every class was keenly contested. There was also a fair entry of British and foreign. The judges were:—For Norwich, Mr. W. Ewen (Aberdeen); and for other classes, Mr. P. Gentleman (Avonbridge); and their awards gave every satisfaction. The society is blessed with a splendid staff of officials, as follows:—President, Mr. Ernest Grant; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. Bowman, W. Worden, and A. Shepherd; committee, J. Low, D. Cables, G. Cables, J. Smith, J. Fyfe, W. Guild, A. Tyrie, A. G. Stewart, J. Cables, W. Smith, D. Falconer, G. Bruce, D. Farquharson, D. Johnston, G. Blythe, and D. Balfour. We hope to hear that the show was a financial success.

WORKINGTON F. & F.S.

2nd annual exhibition, Jan. 1st. The covered market in which the show was held, is well adapted for the purpose, being roomy, comfortable, and well lighted from the roof. The birds were nicely arranged and well looked after. Borders continued birds of exceptional merit, and were well handled. In Yorkshires Mr. J. Stewart took the lion's share of the awards, with birds of good type and excellent in all round qualities. British were also well filled classes, the Goldie or Bullie class being especially so. Foreign classes were small in number, but were full of variety and proved a source of attraction. The secretarial duties were ably discharged by Mr. H. Hyde, who had the assistance of Mr. J. Wilson, and the other members of the committee, viz., Messrs. T. Pennice, G. Hetherington, C. Nicholson, W. Barwick, A. Middleton, T. Haikes, W. Glaister, W. Bragg, J. Henderson, R. Seymour, junr., W. Campbell, and John Wilson, who all worked assiduously for the comfort of exhibits and exhibitors alike, having all arrangements well in hand. Mr. J. W. Ellwood, Cockermouth, judged, and gave every satisfaction.

ORMSKIRK C.B.S.

Annual members' show, held Dec. 26, in the Church House, a very suitable room indeed; the light and warmth were really fine. Yorks. were not up to former years, but Borders are taking their place; a real hot lot they were, something like the famous Ormskirk ginger bread. The L.C.B.A. diploma winner in new hands was on view, but had to take a back seat owing to condition, and looked strong. Norwich were very even, Mr. Tasker's unflighted being a gem, like a ball of fire, naturally won Ramsden's medal. British and hybrids were eye openers. Mr. J. W. Johnson's team were here, and that is quite sufficient to say of them. The management is in the hands of Mr. J. H. Tiffen, who is a worker throughout. He informed us he had some grand specials promised for recruits joining this year. Now rally round him you country fanciers. Special prize winners:—Cup and medal, best unflig. and best green, Mr. Walker; best Nor., Mr. Tasker. Most points green Border, Tiffen; Yorks., Walker; Bord., Hesketh; Brit. and Hyb., J. W. Johnson; Cluces specials, Walker, Lewis, Hesketh, and Johnson, junr. Mr. J. W. Metcalfe, of Liverpool, judged, and we heard no grumbling.

KILMARNOCK C.B.S.

This ancient society held its 61st annual show in the Agricultural Hall on January 1st and 2nd, the cage bird section being provided with a separate hall. Exhibitors should take a note of this. The hall we found a very suitable one, roomy, plenty of light, and entirely free from draughts. The management was all that could be desired, the following gentlemen rendering yeoman service: President, Mr. D. Fulton; vice-presidents, Messrs. A. Bowie, A. S. Marr, and D. J. C. Aird. The secretarial duties were in charge of Mr. John Blane, who we found very energetic, painstaking, and obliging. He knows his way about, and had everything in good order. He was ably backed up by a willing band of stewards, composed of Messrs. John Bowie, William Crosbie, and several others, who proved themselves excellent workers. The entry totalled but 210 in 52 classes; not very encouraging, and we would strongly advise the management to try and increase their prize-money, especially at this time of the year, when competition with other shows is very strong, and 2s. per bird for 2ls. prize-money is not to be compared with other societies. This we are sure is the main cause of poor entries, as we heard others commenting on the fact. We hope to see an improvement by next year. The quality was exceedingly good, several past winners again coming out at the top. Scotch fancies were only a fair lot. Mr. Wm. Robertson secured special for best ck., and Mr. Wm. Neill for best hen. Norwich contained some very fair birds, the most outstanding being Mr. Guthrie's fine team, which gained four firsts with four entries. Borders were a tidy lot, comprising some grand quality birds. The exhibits shown by Messrs. Smillie, Mossie, and Kirkhope were almost perfect. Hybrids, British and foreign, were a surprising lot, and proved the most interesting section in show. Mr. Robert Dale winning medal for best British bird with a very rich coloured Bullfinch cock, also sp. for best in section. Special for best Foreign went to Mr. Sam Duncan, with a charming Redfaced Lovebird. The show was well patronised by the public and there were present many well-known fanciers. There is every probability of it proving a financial success. The judges were Messrs. Robert Prentice, Scotch Fancy; John McLay, Norwich Crests, Bord., and Yorks., and Mr. R. V. Ruine, British and Foreign. Their awards were well received.

ELGIN C.B.S.

Third annual show held in the Academy Hall, Dec. 25th. The hall, which is of nice size, is well lighted from the sides, and very suitable for a show of the kind. The exhibits were well staged and well looked after. Entries totalled 264, there being some grand specimens staged in both the Norwich and the British bird sections. In Norwich clear or ticked yellow cocks, buff cocks, and the unflighted classes, there were some very hot ones for the judge to handle. Borders were a very nice lot, 21 for 3 classes, some outstanding exhibits amongst them. The British bird section was not so well patronised as in former years. Silver cup for best Canary was won by Mr. Hird, Macduff. Silver cup for points, by Mr. G. Baxter, junr., Fochabers; silver cup for best Hybrid or British, Mr. Robertson, Aberdeen; silver rose bowl for best members' Norwich, Mr. R. Garden, Elgin; silver centre piece for best unflig. Norwich, Mr. G. Baxter, junr.; silver cup, best Border Fancy, Mr. Blackie, Buckie; silver medal, second best Canary, Mr. D. Craigen, Huntly; silver medal, second best Hyb. or British, Mr. A. Jonor, Tomatin; silver medal for runner-up for the centre piece, Mr. R. Garden, Elgin; silver medal, most entries, Mr. G. Baxter, junr. The courteous and untiring secretary, Mr. James Lumsden, along with his committee, are to be complimented on the splendid success of the exhibition, which is now considered one of the best cage bird shows in the North of Scotland. The judging was in the hands of Mr. W. D. Milne, Montrose, and his decisions seemed to please.

CHOPPINGTON C.B.S.

Sixth annual show, held at the Railway Hotel, Choppington Station, on Dec. 21st. Entries came up very well, and quality was excellent. This show is for young birds only, and many of the birds had won in open shows. The arrangements were in the capable hands of E. B. Atkinson, treasurer, H. Seely, chairman, and the committee, Messrs. Rigg, J. Archbold, W. Archbold, and E. Edwards. Mr. G. H. Seely, secretary, had everything well in hand, and the show was a financial success. Mr. J. Archbold won spl. for most points given by Mr. Seely, donor not competing. Mr. R. Rowell was the judge, and his awards gave satisfaction to all.

THE SCOTTISH NATIONAL.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The hall was packed with visitors, particularly on the second day, when at times it was almost impossible to get near certain sections. The railway company ran excursions from all the principal towns in the North. Some sightseers arrived before daylight, and after a refresher made their way to the show, so that at quite an early hour there was a good gathering. Among the many fanciers we noticed Mr. and Miss Wellings (Prescot) and Messrs. Scott (Newcastle), S. Cook, Johnston (Preston), Lingard (Burnley), Milton (Sale), Lewis, J. R. Metcalfe (Manchester), Nicholson, Holmes (Carlisle), Carr (Middlesbrough), Chapman, Harvey (Newcastle), McDonald, Johnson, and Montgomery (Walsend), Parlett (Sheffield), Brotherton (Bolton), Bower, Mundell, and Bailey (Bradford), Joe Thomas and Gledhill (Halifax), Cubby (Carlisle), Dixon and Pennington (Wigton), Binns (Blackpool), Barclay (Belfast), etc.

Additional principal special winners: Foreign bird trophy, Miss Peddie Waddell. Dewar Rosebowl, most points Crest section, J. Noble, Kilmarnock. Valuable £4 4s. tea service, most points in British, P. McQuiston, Ayr. Runner-up, J. Sykes, Musselboro.

The sales were hardly up to the average, the principal birds claimed being Mr. Tweedie's Crest at £5 5s., Mr. Watts Hawfinch, £2 2s. The gate receipts amounted to the respectable total of £70.

NEWTOWNARDS.

Second annual show, held Dec. 27th and 28th in the Town Hall. The hall is ideal for a cage bird show, being within three minutes of the railway station, and centrally situated. It is also well lighted and free from draughts. Entries showed an increase of about 20 on the previous year, but this was somewhat below expectations. The Scotch Fancy men came out well, and though the four classes came under the half-prize rule, some fine exhibits were staged. Norwich and Yorks. were a grand lot, several well-known winners being benched. These classes were also stuck at the half-prize money, with one exception, buff Nor. hens. The hon. secretary, Mr. F. Robinson, had all the details well carried out, and was well supported by his hard-working committee, Mr. W. Finlay, pres.; Mr. Wm. Montgomery, vice-pres.; Mr. R. Copeland, hon. treas.; Messrs. McDonald, Doggart, McKee, Cahoon, Montgomery, and Robinson, all rendering useful help. If this show is to attain the success it deserves the committee would be taking a step in the right direction by having their show at least a fortnight earlier, and the date inserted in the "Dates Fixed" column of "Cage Birds." Mr. D. Finlay won members' Silver Cup for best young Nor., and Mr. A. McDonald the members' special best young Yorks. Mr. A. Chalmers, Kirkintilloch, made the awards.

EAST. COUNTIES C.B.S.

Twentieth annual show, held Dec. 26th and 27th at the Social Settlement, Ipswich. The hall had been prettily decorated, in keeping with the Christmas spirit, by members of the committee. All the arrangements for the show were splendidly carried out by the Sec., Mr. Wm. Barritt, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. Gunn, Clarke, Baker, Cook, Gooderham, Carr, and Cole, under the chairmanship of C. Mouser, Esq., and vice-chairman and treas. W. Schofield, Esq. Naturally under such management the show was a decided success, a large number of people visiting the hall on both days in spite of the bad weather, the trams being very convenient, and passing the show from most parts of the town. During the year membership has greatly increased, and prospects for the ensuing year seem to be rosy. There was an increase of about 50 entries, the total this year being just over 360. Quality was most excellent, and the judge, Mr. C. Simpson, who has officiated in this capacity for the last twenty years, had a difficult task in selecting the winners in the majority of classes. It is doubtful if a larger collection of birds had ever been on view before in Ipswich. The show was formally opened by F. J. C. Ganzoni, Esq., who said that before coming to the show he had been reading a book on Canaries, in which he learnt that Canaries were first brought into Europe in the 17th century, that in their wild state they were much more shrill in their notes than those bred and trained in England, and that instead of being yellow they were green, greenish-yellow, and streaked with brown. What he liked about a Canary was that it was such an impartial bird. This season of the year was one of peace and goodwill towards men, when men laid aside their differences, but a Canary laid aside its differences all the year, for it was a yellow bird which had the good sense to lay a blue egg. Mr. Ganzoni then presented the cup, silver medal, and other prizes. Norwich were naturally greatly in evidence, and some good specimens were benched. We particularly admired Mr. Schofield's clear yellow, which, besides taking first in its class, won the silver medal for the best colour-fed bird in the show.

Crests were not very numerous, but Mr. W. Gunn staged a really magnificent specimen, which carried off the silver Challenge Cup presented by Sir Daniel F. Goddard, M.P., for the best bird in the show. Novice classes were very strongly supported, the majority of the prizes being won by Mr. A. E. Tydeman, with some really good ones; Mr. E. Girling was the next best novice. British classes were well filled, and we liked Mr. Cook's winning Goldfinch and Mr. E. Olle's 2nd prize Goldie, there being little between them, the steadier bird winning. Another we admired was the winning Bullfinch shown by Mr. Schofield. There were two classes for Foreign birds, Messrs. Andrews Bros. taking both 1st and 2nd prizes, winning in the small class with a grand Tanager and a Ruficauda.

The two entries presented to the Gift Classes were allotted to two numbered tickets, and these were won by Mr. J. Flowers and Mr. G. Hunt. There was also a guessing competition, the task being to guess the age of a 1912 singing Canary in days, the prize being the bird itself in a nice gilt cage. Mr. W. C. Wicks guessed its exact age, 241 days, while one competitor guessed 239, and two 240. There were nearly 50 special prizes, generously given by tradesmen of the town and district.

SWANLEY VILLAGE AND HEXTABLE C.B.S.

First annual show held Dec. 21, at Red Lion Hall, a capital place for the purpose, lofty and large. Entries came up well for a first show, 125 birds being staged. Walter C. Jackson, Esq., J.P., opened the show, and wished the society continued success. Mr. G. H. Peck (Bexley) judged, and his awards were well received. The champion section consisted of 30 Norwich and 30 Yorkshires—honorary exhibits of very high quality.

S. BIRMINGHAM O.S.

Second annual show held December 26, at the Sydenham Hotel, Small Heath. Boxing Day was ushered in by the worst gale for 30 years, with a driving rain which must have quelled the bravest heart to take birds to the show room, but out of the 150 exhibits only three were absent. Great credit is due to show manager Jim Wright, who was assisted by Messrs. Adcock, Kidner, Swinden, Greenup, and Hughes, all capital stewards. Mr. Roe, the judge, was early in attendance, although much battered by the storm. The birds were all staged in sharp time, and Mr. Roe had finished judging in time for opening of show with all award cards on the cages; his awards seemed to please universally. Yorkshires were perhaps the finest lot seen in Birmingham at a members' show for years. Amongst the visitors were fanciers from Hinckley, Worcester, Coventry, and other towns. The thanks of the society are extended to our host, Mr. Tom Leckie, for the great improvement in the lighting of the room, it being as bright as day when the large 250 candle-power lamps were on. The special winners are as follows: Mr. Swinden (novice), best unflig. buff; Mr. Harding (novice), best novice yell., also best yellow and best buff hen; Messrs. Wells and Clempson, best bird in show, also best yell. hen, best buff, best yellow, best in show, best variegated., best unflig.; Mr. West (novice), best Nor. in show, best novice Nor., and best variegated; Messrs. Seers and Sons, best Bord., best novice Bord., best A.O.V., with a choice Cinn. Bord.; Mr. Greenup, best commended; Mr. Raby, best Mule; Mr. Derry, most points; best champ. Nor., best Nor. unflig.; Mr. Johnson, most points, also best British and best Cinn.; Mr. Barnett, most points in Brit.; Mr. Fields, best vhc nov.; Mr. Constable, best variegated. nov.; J. Burke, best buff champ. Many of the classes failed to fill, so fanciers missed a rare chance of carrying off something for nothing. Messrs. Wells and Clempson were delighted, returning a good percentage of their winnings for the good of the society. Members should try and assist the secretary by returning all unsold tickets before next Wednesday's general meeting; several new members to propose.—J. Sheppard, Sec. (This report, and the critique which follows, are by the society's own critic and expert.—Editor.)

STANLEY C.B.S.

Show held Dec. 21, in the Empire Club Hall. There was a capital display of birds, and the numerous visitors were loud in their expressions of appreciation. Mr. Bewick, Newfield, judged. We understand that one or two other clubs in Stanley are anxious to emulate the Empire. The Victoria, for one, is said to be desirous of trying its hand, and so, it is stated, is one of the South Moor clubs. In this case the more the merrier. It will be a good thing to have the breeding of birds encouraged as an alternative to other hobbies, and we must hope therefore that the cult will extend. Mr. J. Emmerson is chairman, Mr. W. Robinson sec., and Mr. J. Smith treas. The show proved a thorough success.

TWENTY YEARS OF BIRD KEEPING AND BREEDING.

By "LOTUS."

Some very useful advice from a bird-lover of the gentler sex, who manages her birds on sound lines and thinks things out for herself, will be found in this contribution.

EVERY bird I have, Canary, British, or Foreign, is in absolutely perfect health; any of them could be put on the show bench at the present time, and win for condition. Good sand, good water, and good seed, with plenty of variety, and all the fresh air you can give them without draught, that is the way to keep feathered pets in condition.

Now, just a word about birds with slipped claws, don't have them if you can avoid it. They are a great danger in the breeding season. I have heard people say it does not matter, the bird will nest all right. Just so! Very likely it will, but a bird with such a foot is continually falling off its perch; I had one that used to fall off its perch at night always, then flutter about for a long time. Think what that means in the breeding room! Perhaps half the birds are startled, and fluttering all over the cages, hens sitting on eggs will be frightened off them, and may not be able to return till the morning. When you go into the bird room everything appears as usual, but when the eggs are due to hatch, dead in shell is the cry.

Curing the "Slipped" Claw.

It is very easy to cure a bird of slipped claw; as soon as you find you have a young bird so afflicted, soak its foot in as hot water as you can with safety, then rub the foot with vaseline, then get someone to hold the bird while you get a piece of white darning wool; get your friend to hold the leg, tie the wool between the joints of the claw, not too tightly, but so that it will not slip off over the joint; draw the claw up to the leg gently by the wool and tie the wool round the leg, twisting twice round the leg loosely, then tie both ends together. Care must be taken that it is not too tight, or it will stop the circulation, and the bird will lose its foot or claw.

I find this method much better than a rubber band; I have seen many done with the band, and they have nearly always lost the foot, the rubber pressing too hard. I cured a valuable young Crest-bred hen last season in this way. You may have to do it two or three times at first before you get it right, as if too loose, or too tight, it will not be a success. Watch the bird carefully, and if you see the leg or foot turning dark, take the binding off at once.

The "Cruelty" of Caging Birds.

Now, a word about caging birds. Is it cruel to keep birds in cages? I will give some examples which are absolutely true, as they happened to myself. When I was a child I saw a poor little Robin in a birdshop looking very miserable. I bought him, took him home, and cared for him to the best of my ability, I don't remember what I fed him on, but anyhow he did not seem to thrive, so after a time I thought I would let him fly, or perhaps he would die. Well, I did so, but he would not go; every day he came back again until the cat got him.

A short time after that my mother bought a Blackbird from a bird dealer. We kept that about a year, and, as mother thought it did not whistle quite like the wild ones, she decided to give it its liberty, so we took the cage into the garden, and let the bird out. The bird would not go away. Every time we put it out, back it came to the cage, day after day, until at last we took it right away into the country, where there were some woods, and left it there.

Another case happened last year, when one of my little Waxbills got out of its cage, and flew into the garden. Three times it went right over the fields out of sight, was out all day, but returned into its cage (which I put in the garden) in the evening. A wild cock Bullie which I once had two years, if let out of his cage would at once go in again, and remain there, although the door was left open for hours. I keep a large Crystal Palace aviary in my room full of foreign birds, and any of them if let out into the room would return of their own accord.

"Birds are Good Company."

Birds are good company. Even at night the Budgerigars and Lovebirds will break out into their cheery song (I don't suppose many would like that, they would wish them farther), and my little Orangebreast always rouses me at about five o'clock in the morning, no matter how dark it is, by his little "Chirp, Chirp, Chirp." How he knows the time is a marvel. I heard of a young man not long ago who had had an accident and had broken or injured his back. He was entirely helpless, and could not move a finger, his whole amusement being the watching of a collection of foreign birds kept close to his couch. And they want to prevent us keeping birds in cages. I hope they will never succeed, as what I should feel like without my pets I do not know.

I forgot to mention in the beginning that at the close of the breeding season I take all the birds out of the bird-house, clean and sweep it out, put the empty cages back in their places, close the window, and set light to a pennyworth of flowers of sulphur on a shovel, close the door carefully, and leave for 24 hours, then open window and door and leave for another 24 hours. The shed will then be sweet and clean to return the birds to, all insect life being destroyed.

A SHOCKING DISCOVERY!

WAYSIDE SEEDS AND BERRIES FOR BRITISH BIRDS.

By JAS. B. CLARKE (Rothesay).

A remarkable article the result of a lifetime's experience of birds in field and aviary.

COMMON FUMITORY (Fumaria officinalis).—A common plant with rose coloured flowers and bronish seed, similar to rape. A favourite food of all Finches, especially Bullfinches and Greenfinches. A grand blood purifier and most useful during the moult. This seed is easily gathered. Just draw your hand up the seed stem, when seeds will be left in the hand ready for use.

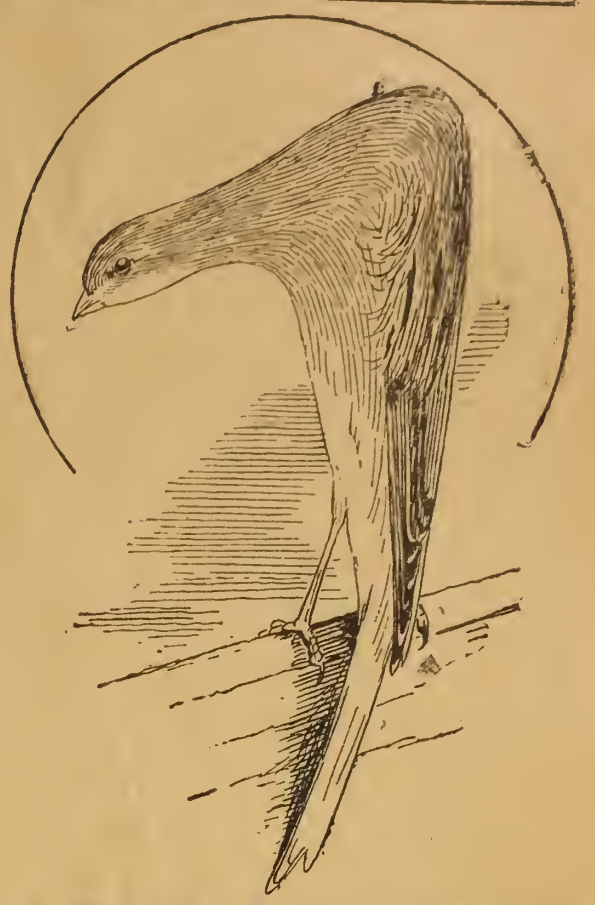
A Caution Against Dandelion.

COMMON DANDELION (Taraxacum officinale).—Known to most fanciers, and a very useful seed if given in moderation. I used to give my Finches large quantities of this seed, but now find it is better to give it less freely. I used to lose numerous Finches when giving this seed in plenty, but given sparingly it is most useful. To gather the seed pull the white heads before they open, and with a pair of scissors clip as much of the white down away as possible, when you will have no difficulty in saving the seed.

CUCKOO FLOWER OR LADY'S SMOCK (Cardamine pratensis).—A common plant with small white flowers and small round, reddish-coloured seeds, eaten readily by Linnets, Twites, Greenfinches, and Redpolls. A most useful seed; aids digestion, restores lost appetite, and has the same virtues as water-cress.

PURPLE CLOVER (Trifolum pratense).—The common meadow clover, so well known. A favourite seed for Linnets, Twites, and Redpolls, and useful during the moult.

GREAT NETTLE (Urtica diocia).—Grows two to four feet high, is well known, and is a favourite seed of the Siskin, Redpoll, and Bullfinch. I have seen large flocks of these birds feeding on this plant, and find it one of the most useful of seeds for these birds in confinement.



Can Maw be Used too Freely

COMMON RED POPPY (Popaver rheas).—A familiar plant in cornfields. Opium is procured from the opium poppy (P. somniferum) by extracting juice from the unripe capsules. The seed is destitute of narcotic properties, and yields a wholesome oil. The seed is know to most fanciers as maw seed, and is best given as a tit-bit. I do not think that it should be given too freely to birds in confinement.

COMMON PERSICARIA (Polygonum persicaria).—Better known as "Redshank." A common weed, grows one to two feet high, leaves flat with purplish black blotch in the centre, short erect red flowers, spikes of jet black seeds. I have seen all Finches feed on this and find it one of our best winter foods. Hawfinches also relish this seed.

MARSH PLUME THISTLE (Carduus palustris).—The tallest of British thistles, three to ten feet high, with small egg-shaped flower heads and crimson florets. A favourite seed for Linnets, Goldfinches, and Siskins, and I find it one of the most useful seeds for these birds in confinement.

SQUARE STALKED ST. JOHN'S WORT (Hypericum quadrangulum).—Common in wet places. Was at one time worn about the person in Scotland as a protection against witchcraft. Grows two feet high with square stems and clusters of small yellow flowers. A favourite food of the Linnet, Twite, and Redpoll, and I find it a most useful seed during the moult and winter months.

A WELSHMAN'S SCOTCH FANCY.

This fine example of the "bird 'o circle" has won many prizes for Mr. C. Farrow, of Merthyr Tydvil, including 2nd and two specials at Pentrebach Show, and 2nd and special at Cardiff.

WILLOW HERB (Epilobium montanum).—Grows from two to three feet high with downy stems and small drooping pink flowers. A great favourite of the Linnet, Twite, Siskin, and Redpoll, and one of the best seeds for these birds in confinement that I know of. It is a very small seed, and rather difficult to gather owing to the down mixing with the seeds. I am told the leaves of this plant are used as a substitute for tea.

WILD CHAMOMILE AND FEVERFEW (Matricaria).—Plants usually found in waste ground and cornfields. Twelve to twenty-four inches high, with small white flowers. The small cream-coloured seeds are most useful for Linnets, Twites, Siskins, and Redpolls during the moult and winter months; aids digestion.

RIBWORT PLANTAIN (Plantago lanceolata).—A common plant, abundant in meadows, and known to children as "cocks and hens;" they amuse themselves by striking one head against another until the stalk breaks. Readily eaten by Linnets, Twites, and Redpolls, and a most useful food for these birds in confinement, having great colouring properties.

A Favourite Thistle Plant.

SPEAR-PLUME THISTLE (Carduus lanceolatus).—A well-known plant; grows from two to five feet high, with large purple heads and teazle-shaped seeds. A Linnet, Redpoll, and Goldfinch favourite, and one of the best seeds for these birds in confinement. When gathering the seed, it is a good plan to take the scissors with you and cut as much of the down from the seed-heads as possible before taking them to the house (especially if you are married).

YELLOW OX-EYE OR CORN MARIGOLD (Chrysanthemum segetum).—Common in turnip and other cultivated fields. Has beautiful golden yellow flowers and teazle-shaped seeds. A favourite seed for all Finches. I have used it with the best of results during the moult and at other seasons.

GREATER PLANTAIN (Plantago major).—A well-known plant, commonly known as "Rat-Tails." A most useful seed for moulting Linnets, Twites, and Redpolls. Given along with linseed and rape will bring out these birds a nice rich brown colour fit to hold their own in the best company.

EARLY PURPLE ORCHIS (Orchis mascula).—A small, pretty plant, found in marshy ground. Flowers purple, with small brown seed. A Redpoll favourite, and very useful for these birds during the winter.

HERB ROBERT (Geranium robertianum).—A well-known species with red, hairy, succulent stems, and small red flowers. Flowers mostly all summer; seeds cream coloured similar to knapweed. A food of the Bullfinch and Greenfinch, and I have found it most useful for these birds in Winter.

SNEEZEWORT (Achillea ptarmica).—Common on meadows, small white flowers; seed similar to groundsel. A Twite and Redpoll favourite, and a grand seed for them in cage or aviary. Flowers in July, seeds in September. It is said that the leaves "chewed in mouth easeth toothache."

Questions and Answers.

DOUBTS AND DIFFICULTIES SOLVED BY SPECIALISTS

Queries will be answered under the following conditions:—

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and must conclude with either the correct name of querist or a pseudonym, or initials.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query. In no case must the address appear on the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must not be written on the same sheet of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated in bold letters on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—If an answer in the same week's issue is desired, queries must be posted to reach us by Monday's first post at latest. Queries will be dealt with in the order in which they are received, and only as space permits. The earlier queries are received the better attention they are likely to have.

(7)—Queries relating to illnesses of birds except enquiries as to cause of death (for which see Post Mortems) will be answered by return of post on receipt of a postal order for sixpence and an addressed stamped envelope. Queries of an ordinary nature will be answered by post, if desired, on receipt of a postal order for one shilling and a stamped addressed envelope.

(8)—All who require letters of complaints written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence, otherwise their letters will not receive attention. All the fees received from this source will be handed over in full to the "Referee's" Poor Childrens' Fund (London).

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Only queries so sent will be answered. Postcards are not admissible.

THE following gentlemen represent CAGE BIRDS staff of ADVISORY EXPERTS. Queries must in no case be addressed to any of them individually, but to the Editor.

Canaries.—Claude St. John. British Birds, Mule and Hybrids—G. E. Weston. Foreign Birds—Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., M.B.N.H.S., &c., Wild Bird Life—H. Norman.

NOTE.—If an answer is required concerning the proper mating, etc., of Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Cinnamons, Greens, Borders, Lizards, Scotch or any other variety of the Canary family, we shall, should the querist desire us to do so, be pleased to submit his questions for answer to some leading specialist of the day on the variety concerned.

CANARY QUERIES.

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

BAD COUGH AND WHEEZING (W. P. A.).—Your reference to colour of chest and abdomen is rather vague. Do you mean that the skin is discoloured on these parts, and if it is, is there an abnormal swelling or puffiness? See that the bird is kept quite free from cold draughts, impure heated air, and similar existing causes of bronchial troubles, and in addition to the staple seed diet, give a morsel of plain bread and milk sprinkled with soft sugar every second day, and on the alternate days a fair-sized spray of watercress. Limit the diet to this for a fortnight, and add 20 drops of whisky, five each of oxymel of squills and ipecacuanha wine, and two of eucalyptus oil to the drinking water, shaking it well together, every second day. If not well in a fortnight write again.

NOT SINGING (F. E.).—Are the birds caged together or separately? If the former, this will help to keep the cock backward in coming in song. It may also be that the birds were hatched late, in which case it is not very uncommon for the cocks to remain silent until towards the middle of January. It may, of course, also be of the gentle sex, in which vigorous vocal efforts are unfashionable. If not already separated, cage the supposed cock separately, give a morsel of sponge cake with a few drops of sherry on it and sprinkled with maw, every second day, and a spray of watercress or morsel of banana on the alternate days, in addition to the usual seed diet. This should bring it out in a fortnight or so, if it is of the right gender, and in good health. Should it fail to do so, please write again, and say whether the birds appear to be in good health, and if they moulted last autumn.

BLISTER UNDER EYE (M. W. M.).—Prick the blister with a quite clean needle on the lower margin, farthest away from eye, and gently press out the fluid. Be careful to puncture only the skin of the external blister. Then bathe the place with a lukewarm solution of boracic acid—a small teaspoonful of acid in a saucerful of warm water—for a few minutes. Dry as thoroughly as you can by absorbing moisture in wad of cotton wool, in order to prevent bird rubbing so much on the perch. If the eye seems bad after this, dissolve, or get a chemist to do so, five grains of sulphate of zinc in an ounce of rose water, and drop one drop of this lotion on the eye each morning and evening for a few days, beginning the day after draining the blister. Keep perches as clean as possible.

EFFECT OF SONG-BOXES (Inglewood).—The birds losing "all the nice changes," as you put it, after being kept in song-boxes for a week or two, and singing only one or two long tours, is only what might be expected. These song-boxes are designed as an aid to keeping the song tours of trained birds pure and soft, and to protect the bird from the excitement and distraction common in open exposed cages, and prevent the birds hearing and "picking up" bad notes. Except in the case of high-class contest singers it is not necessary, or, in my opinion, advisable, to keep the birds confined constantly in song-boxes. If you keep the doors of the boxes open for a few hours each day and evening, you will doubtless soon find the nice changes come back, especially if the boxes have where the bird can hear and perhaps see each other, the latter is not an advantage with some birds, but it is with others. You must, however, be careful if you wish to keep the song pure, as these changes which you appreciate are simply variants which the birds add under the stress of excitement through being more exposed. At the first sign of a bad note being interspersed in the song, or of the song becoming too loud, keep the culprit's box closed for a time to soften down the harshness sufficiently.

TWO UNSATISFACTORY NORWICH (Hallindalloch).—I'm afraid there must be something at fault with your management, or the environments, for the first bird to continue dropping feathers so long. See that the one you now have is quite free from draughts, and keep it in perfectly healthy and bright wholesome surroundings. Keep cage floor strewn with clean gritty sand, and treat for two or three weeks the same as advised to "F.E." in this issue. If this does not have the desired effect of bringing it in song, write again, and give what particulars you can about it. Your method of feeding, etc.; whether it appears healthy and active; its probable age; and so on. If it was a young bird when you bought it, I should not be surprised if it proves to be a hen.

TO TIGHTEN UP PLUMAGE (W.V.).—It naturally depends somewhat upon the cause of the looseness. You should have given some idea how the birds are treated, and whether they are in good health or not. Anyway, try the following, and if it does not soon produce the desired effect, write again, and give some particulars. Give a morsel of bread and milk the size of a hazel nut, with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw seed, daily for a week. In the drinking water add twelve drops of syrup of buckthorn for one day only, and afterwards six drops of tincture of gentian and three of tincture of steel, for three or four consecutive days.

BAD PLUMAGE (C. D. G.).—Keep the bird caged for a time, and in a comfortable temperature, and throw a light cover over the cage for a week or two in order to encourage the moult. In addition to the staple diet of canary and rape, give a morsel or bread and milk slightly dusted with flowers of sulphur, and finally with soft sugar, every second day for a fortnight, and then twice a week for another fortnight, and on the alternating days give half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts niger, millet and teazle. Give a spray of green food every second day, and allow bird to bathe daily if it desires to do so. Add 20 drops of whisky and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a threepenny-piece to the drinking water on the days when not giving bread and milk during the first fortnight.

MATING QUERIES (Derricke).—(1) Certainly a three-year-old hen will mate with a cock in its first year, and the pair should breed quite successfully. (2) Double-buffing will give increased size and substance, and more dense and close feather. If carried too far it will bring about coarseness in feather and a pale washed out colour. Although exceedingly useful when really necessary, it should not be done indiscriminately when the necessity is not apparent. You should be able to get any amount of good material to increase the size of stock if below the average without double-buffing to a great extent. (3) There must be a twist, or some abnormality, in the conformation of the beak, for the side of lower mandible to overlap the upper one. You should have enclosed a rough sketch to show the defect. Keep a cube of lump sugar and a piece of cuttlefish stuck firmly in the wires at the end of a perch for the bird to nibble at, and see if that will wear down the overlapping portion.

WARMTH AND EGG CAKE (Prudence).—(1) You do not say how long the birds have been in the outdoor birdroom. If they were bred and reared there, or even if thy come of a hardy, normally bred stock, you would be well advised not to heat the room at all. If severe weather should occur, so that your fears about the water pots being frozen were verified, add a little extra seed mixture to the dietary, and give a little egg food twice or thrice a week according to circumstances. If the water pots were in danger of being frozen, empty them each night after the birds have gone to roost and refill them early next morning—about 7 a.m. would be quite early enough. Examine them again at midday. Of course, if you have the means of heating the place at hand, and prefer to heat it, do so, and endeavour to keep up a regular temperature of between 40 and 45 degrees. (2) For an egg cake get the feminine powers to make you a cake with two eggs, six ounces flour, dessertspoonful of moist sugar, ditto of unsalted beef dripping, and a saltspoonful of carbonate of soda. Use a little milk if necessary to make all into a stiff dough for baking. You will find a number of recipes for egg substitutes in "Our Canaries," in chapter on Feeding.

AILING YORKSHIRE (A. J.).—I think it most likely that the bird had been accustomed to a warmer room than yours before you purchased him, and your cold-room and letting him out to fly about, which means more exposure than being in cage, does not suit him. Keep him until spring in a comfortable temperature. Do not overheat him, but keep just away from the chilly side, and let the place be nicely ventilated but free from draughts or great and rapid fluctuations. Give a morsel of bread and milk the size of a hazel nut with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw, every second day for a fortnight. Get the mixture advised to "D. Price" last week, and give 20 drops in the water every second day in alternate weeks until the wheeziness is quite cured.

LOSS OF TOES (Ignorant).—(1) It depends upon how much of the toes are lost whether the bird would be any use for breeding, and also to a great extent to the bird's general health and agility. If in good robust health and agile the complete loss of two toes from one foot should not prevent it breeding successfully. In your bird's case, however, there must be something still wrong with the foot, or it would have been used in a normal manner again long before this time. Try bathing for a few minutes three times a week for two or three weeks in a solution of Wych Hazel—a small teaspoonful of the extract in a saucerful of luke-warm water. (2) You could, of course, mate the Plainhead cock with the Plainhead hen and the Crested hen alternately if you decide not to use the Crested cock for breeding. The Crest hen will breed quite successfully with the Plainhead, but the young will be only cross-breds. By the way, it is not usual in breeding Crests to mate two crested birds. Are you sure the birds you call Plainheads are not Crest-breds? You should get a copy of "Our Canaries," dealing with the Crest and Crest-bred. (3) Assuming the cock is a real Plainhead, as you term him, a certain proportion of the Crested hen's progeny would still appear with a crest of some sort, and some with overhanging eyebrows, but you must not look for ideal Crests or Crest-breds among the progeny of such a union.

MOULTING QUESTIONS (J. W. Notts).—If the house to which you have lately moved is decidedly colder, draughty, or damp, it would undoubtedly be more or less responsible for the birds beginning to moult. If you take proper precautions to avoid these causes there is no other way in which such a change is likely to affect the birds. For the bird that has not previously moulted you should encourage this moult, and get it through completely as quickly as you can. Treat as advised to "C. D. G." in this issue. The previous reply you refer to, which would do for this bird, is the one to "A. A. E." on Dec. 21. Treat the bird that has previously moulted as follows:—In addition to usual seed diet, give half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with four drops of sherry and two of cod liver oil emulsion mixed in it and sprinkled with maw every second day. On the alternate days give a similar quantity of a mixture of equal parts hemp, millet, black rape, and teazle, and a morsel of banana. Dissolve half a drachm of ammoniated citrate of iron and quinine in an ounce of sherry, add a teaspoonful of glycerine, and give twenty drops of this mixture in the drinking water every second day until feathers cease dropping out.

A HINGE TAIL (Novice).—This is the same as the fault known as "drop-tailed," and is a natural defect in the Norwich. In some breeds, the Lancashire for example, a drop tail is to a certain extent a typical feature. If you look at an illustration of a typical Lancashire, showing a side view, and note how the tail drops, as it were, from the root and hangs straight downwards, instead of being carried so form a continuous line with the back, you will have a better idea of what a hinge tail is than a whole column of descriptive writing. In the Norwich the tail should be carried to form a line with the lower part of back; any tendency to drop downwards from the base and thus break the continuity of this line is a bad fault. You can do nothing to remedy it. To breed it out, mate the bird with a nice stout close-feathered buff hen, cobbily built, rather short on leg, and with a close-fitting, compact and rather short tail. If the tail is carried a little stiffly or high it will not matter, but see that it is quite free from any suspicion of hinge tail. Both the parents of this bird should also be free from the fault, and if they were two buffs, so much the better. Any hinge-tailed birds that appear in the progeny should be totally discarded for further breeding if of only moderate quality, but if any having this fault are of exceptional merit otherwise, mate them up the following season on the above lines, using the mother as a mate for one of the young cocks.

DROOPING WINGS (Ignoramus, Essex).—You ought to have been more definite. Your letter seems to imply that only some portion of your stock show this fault, and you do not say whether these individuals are healthy or not, nor how the stock is treated, or if any of the cocks so affected are in song. It's best to particularise in such cases. It may be due to weakness, as you suggest, or to birds being temporarily run down, or it may even be due to the birds being in high and fresh condition, and coming forward for breeding. Try giving each a morsel of bread and milk, sprinkled with soft sugar, every second day for a week, and on the alternate days half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, millet, and teazle. Add six drops of tincture of gentian and three of dilute sulphuric acid to the drinking water every second day for a week. If this does not brace them up, write again and give more particulars. Assuming the fault to be congenital, there is no reason why you should not breed with the birds if of a good strain and type, but they would need mating carefully with specimens quite free from any similar defect, and having themselves very well-braced and sound wing carriage.

TWO QUESTIONS (J.E.R.).—(1) The two birds with large white droppings are troubled with a sluggish and congested condition of the bowels. Keep them in a fairly large cage, well strewn with clean gritty sand; keep perches as clean as possible, and stick a cube of hard common salt in the wires for them to peck at now and again. Give a staple diet of plain canary seed only. Three times a week give half a teaspoonful of rape, soaked overnight in cold water, and on the other days a morsel of bread and milk, not larger than a hazel nut, strewn with gold of pleasure seed. Give these two items alternately. Break open a grape and fix the berry with the inner flesh exposed uppermost on the end of a perch for bird to peck at. In the drinking water add six drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much sulphate of soda as will cover a threepenny-piece every second day for a week. After this give four drops each of tincture of gentian, tincture of calumba, and aromatic sulphuric acid in the water every second day for a fortnight. Report result in a month, and I will advise further if necessary. (2) Give this bird a staple mixture of three parts canary to one part rape. Every second day give a morsel of bread and milk as above, and on the alternate days a pinch of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, teazle, millet, and black rape. Give a spray of watercress, if obtainable in good condition, every second or third day. Add the above rhubarb aperient to the water for three consecutive days, then give the same gentian mixture, as above, every second day for a week or so.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.,

CARDINALS, ETC. (T.G.S.).—(1) Under some conditions Virginian Cardinals do deteriorate in colour and occasionally so in aviaries. But in the latter case the loss is usually but temporary. Some live food, access to fruit, seed and greenfood, will help to retain the colour. I have one now, which was very bricky in hue before the moult (he had been caged for several years); now he is fiery scarlet. (2) The usual Bunting mixture, with white millet and spray millet supplied separately, with access to green-food, fruit, and some live food will suffice for the Nonpariel Bunting. (3) Yes, whenever the claws get beyond normal length they should be cut back. Mannikins especially being subject to overgrown claws; but whenever you notice a bird catching its claws in the netting or branches, even slightly, it should be caught and the nails trimmed back. There is a small vein running through the claw, which bleeds badly if opened, so you must only shorten back to the normal; but if by accident the claw is made to bleed, promptly touch it with Friar's Balsam and hold it in the hand till the balsam is dry, and little harm will result.

TO GET INTO CONDITION (An Old Reader).—There is no royal road. Feed it as advised in the Nutshell, which you have. Purchase only clean, sweet seeds; give it a roomy cage or aviary; check constipation with an occasional drop of Dinneford's Magnesia direct to the beak. If your birds have space for exercise, are kept clean, and fed with clean sound seeds, perfect feather and condition will be the result. Owing to inbreeding, etc., some specimens are constitutionally weak and fail to produce perfect plumage; unless yours is a case of this kind, if you feed and treat as advised in the Nutshell, fine plumage and condition will be the outcome.

GREY PARROT (Grateful).—Parrots are creatures of moods, and there is no accounting for them. Very probably the introduction of the other bird was responsible for the lapse, but here, again, no general rule is possible; some welcome the change, others jealously resent it. It is only a matter of time, talking will be resumed. You are probably even now reaping the fruits of previous mistreatment, which leaves traces in the system for a long period. I should keep a watch on its mouth and throat, and in case of slime or any slightly unhealthy appearance, use a little honey and borax. Are you supplying flint grit? If not, give it in a pinch daily and do not neglect cuttlebone. A good well-balanced seed mixture would be; one quart each canary and white millet seed, one pint each hemp and oats, half-a-pint each white maize, shelled nuts, paddy rice, and sunflower seeds, and a few chillies, the whole to be well mixed. As regards how much, I always act on the principle of constant supply. Fill the tin up in the morning and again in the afternoon, if necessary, after removing husks, etc. A Parrot takes first what it likes best from the mixture, but because it had eaten all of one sort I should not renew the supply while the tin remained half full, but if it persistently refuses the small seed, lessen the quantity. In case of any recurrence of the foot trouble, foment with hot water to thoroughly cleanse and moisten the skin; dry with a soft cloth and paint with neat whisky daily till the trouble yields. It will be the better for some ripe fruit daily, any kind it will take.

LEMON-CRESTED COCKATOO (G. Stubbs).—Give this bird a dry seed mixture of canary, millet, hemp, dari, oats, sunflower, and maize, with a few shelled nuts and chillies. Well mix and keep a constant supply in the cage. Continue the boiled maize regularly for a time, but as soon as you note it eating the dry seed freely, lessen the quantity of the boiled maize, and ultimately give it only twice a week. Stop all tea sops and the like. As it is fond of a moistened crust of toast, you can use chemical food and water as the moistening agent—various nuts, ripe fruit, pieces of plain biscuit (dry) are all wholesome and can be given freely. You must not omit grit and cuttlebone. Give it one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia once a week in its drinking water, and on other days half the quantity of chemical food will help to tone it up a little. Boiled maize only keeps fresh 24 hours.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS.

Answered by G. E. WESTON.

EXHIBITION LINNETS (D.V.).—A number of exhibition Linnets are colour-fed, but it is not by any means necessary to colour-feed every Linnet intended for show. It depends upon the ground colour of the bird when in field plumage. Some are naturally so deep (nutty) and sound in colour that to give them colour-food would spoil them by making them too dark, and so obscuring the pencilling. A good method of getting the colouring matter into the blood is to very lightly crack the seed every day and rub some colour-food amongst it. The colour-food should be that known as tasteless pepper (get a first-class brand), and add some best olive or salad oil to it, so that it sticks well to the seed—the oil also helps the colour to "run" freely into the seed.

MENU FOR BULLFINCH (Miss Thomas).—It would be too lengthy a matter to give a menu for each month in this column. Besides, the feeding varies but little in many of the months; it is in the spring and onwards to the autumn that variety of food-stuffs may most readily be provided. Don't confine him solely to dry, hard seed. He should do well on the following stock mixture: Canary and teazle, two pints each, sunflower one pint, linseed and summer rape half a pint each. As variety offer daily a pinch of one or the other of these things (in a separate vessel): Maw, niger, hemp, wild seed mixture, thistle and dandelion; also give thistleheads, hardheads, milk thistle, shepherd's purse, groundsel, chickweed, blackberries, privet berries, buds from hawthorn hedges, fruit bushes, etc., as may be in season, some suitable ripe fruit (banana, sweet pear, apple, orange, cherries, etc.), and a small mealworm or two now and again. This will give you a pretty full list to ring the changes upon, and so afford that variety which will keep the bird in good health and condition. Always remember that Bullies are great fruit, bud and berry eaters by nature.

CLEAR BRED MULING CANARIES (W. A. Tomkins).—Clear-bred means birds bred from parents which were free from markings—it means more, in fact, as the ancestors ought to be clear-bred for some generations back. Cocks bred from a clear strain are what you want, and not birds which come from heavily marked ancestors—or near ancestors, rather. If these birds, mated to your clear pink-eyed hens throw young which prove good when tested, then you could mate the progeny from the couples together to the best advantage in the future, using the biggest, best-headed birds, as far as ever you can, and keeping the jonque blood well to the front, also taking care to mate up each season a good percentage of cock birds which have pink eyes. To get these latter you will have to utilise a pink-eyed cock bird. The best outcross, for size, should be a well-built, good headed, line feathered yellow Lancashire Plainhead hen, pairing her to your biggest buff pink-eyed cock—if you have a big buff the produce of double-yellows, that is the bird to choose. You ought to get the cock Yorkie fairly cheap, as type is not a particular object (don't sacrifice size, however), but a Lancashire hen, such as described, will cost you at least £2 to £3. Get her from a good, known strain, for birds from such have very little dark blood in their veins.

COCK AND HEN SISKIN (Troon).—In reality it is easier to sex Siskins at sight than it is to describe the sexual difference on paper. The absence or presence of the bib is no sign one way or the other; very many cocks, in fact, show no trace of bib. The hen looks "streakier" than the cock (more heavily pencilled) as a rule. The unfailing distinction, however, lies in the colour. The cock is a pronounced yellowish-green, while the hen is but a dingy, ash-green. Her markings, too, are not a nice, glossy black, as seen in the male (note the absence of cap, especially), but a greyish black. One might mistake a young cock for a hen, if inexperienced with the species, but adult birds are not at all difficult to sex. The cock is an indefatigable singer when in good health. It is not every cock Siskin that will fill eggs in captivity, though the majority are not backward at accepting a Canary hen for a wife. The hen Siskin, too, has frequently bred in captivity.

A PET JAY (W. T. W.).—A bird caged when adult will certainly learn in time to mimic sounds and words, but it is best to obtain a hand-reared bird if one desires a talker; or at least, one taken when very young. The simplest (yet good) method of feeding is to utilise table scraps largely. As a stock food, you could use broken-up dog biscuits or puppy cakes, or "Melox" (or game meal), with coarse cresse—say two parts of either of the former to one part of the latter (by measure). Moisten with hot water, giving it crumbly moist, and mixing with it table scraps, cooked meat, and potatoes, greens, gravy, etc. Give a few trapped mice, young Sparrows, and the like (even young frogs, if you can capture them), but not over much raw meat. You will find them very accommodating in the matter of food. Eggs (raw and cooked), acorns, beechmast, nuts (cracked) of various kinds, peas, berries, fruit, worms, beetles, grubs, and hutter are other things they will eat. It is an unnecessary, useless cruelty, to cut any bird's tongue. This is a point I have often dealt with. A good cage for a Jay would not be less than three feet long (four or five would be vastly better), three feet high, and two feet wide. Put in at least two good-sized perches, one a little larger than the other.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. Subjects for post mortem examination must be sent packed in a box direct to Mr. Yates, with the fee, this and any accompanying letter being kept from contact with the dead bird. Send by letter-post; it is cheaper and quicker than parcel post. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

"Perplexed."—Apoplexy of the Lungs.

K. Kelly.—Tiger Finch died as the result of a fit.

A. I. Pratt.—Broncho-pneumonia as a sequel to cold contracted at the show.

Orressa Probandi.—There was no evidence of infectious disease; death occurred from pneumonia.

J. Hierons.—Not infectious, but probably due to irritant material taken in with the food. Enteritis was the cause of death.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

R. Aitken.—You will find this type of cage, and the fittings, sold by the large dealers in cages, etc., advertising in our columns. Write them and ask for prices.

R. McDonald.—We believe the secretary is Mr. Tuckey, 21, Cook Street, Cork.

An Alien Partridge.

The Red-legged Partridge was introduced into this country by sportsmen more than a century ago. It is an inferior bird to the English Partridge, both for sport and for the table, but a cock in breeding plumage is as handsome as any bird we have.

Correspondence.

Wayside Seeds and Berries.

Sir,—Will you allow me, as a reader of your valuable paper, to thank Mr. Jas. Clarke (Rothsey) for the able manner in which he explains the various seeds for British Birds. The article is really interesting and educational, and both British bird fanciers and Canary breeders should take advantage of such an experienced authority.

Arthur Noble.

Proposed C.B.S. for Castleford.

Sir,—Will fanciers interested in cage-birds, both British and Canaries, please rally, and let us try and form a society of cage-bird fanciers? I have no doubt that there are plenty of fanciers in the district to get a good membership together. If fanciers will communicate with F. Stick, 37, Denton Terrace, to arrange time, place, and date for a meeting, I shall be very pleased to help, as an old fancier. Let us see what can be done to improve the Fancy in the district.

Fred S. Stick, Sec. (pro tem.).

The Popularity of the Scotch Fancy Canary.

Sir,—I should like to remind your correspondents that there is no need to send their birds as far as Newcastle or Glasgow. What about Cardiff show, that at one time was giving several classes for Scotch Fancies and could boast of 36 birds in one class, and is still kept up by one old fancier and giving two classes every year for Scotch. I am not a member, neither do I live at Cardiff, but I have shown my birds at Cardiff ever since I started in the Fancy. Now if your correspondents will show at Cardiff next year, I for one will help their shows, as I think this is the only way to assist the popularity of the Scotch Fancy Canary.

C. Farrow.

The Redpoll Class at Sale Show

Sir,—I do not desire to trespass at any length on your columns, but I would like a little explanation from the Sale Show Committee as to why there were two number ones in the Redpoll class. My bird was No. 1, and another belonging to a gentleman at Stockport also was No. 1 in the same class. When I received catalogue, however, I was down as No. 3 in that class. Then my bird was sent on to another address, through a fault on the stewards' part when sending them away. I know it is a trying time for the committee when a show is on, but I have sent privately for an answer through the post, and can get no reply. I had to pay the carriage for my bird, too, to return home, after me being at the show to receive my property. As I am only a novice, it is not much encouragement. I hope to get an answer now.

D. T. Monks.

A Vexed Point.

The Half Prize-money Rule.

Sir,—If space in your journal permits, I should like to reply to "Young Exhibitor," and also others who seem to harp on the vexed point of half prize-money. Although they may be members of societies, perhaps they never gave a thought to the trouble and expense that fall on the shoulders of the secretary and committee. The majority of them, I find, are working men. If you were running a show, "Young Exhibitor," you would have to depend on the entries to pay the greater part of your prize-money, or, if it should turn out stormy and wet, you would find you were minus something. Just for your enlightenment, I should like to show you where some of the expenses are. The first thing you have to secure is a committee room; that means pay. As soon as you have arranged for your show, you want the hall, and that means 30s. to £2. Then you advertise both afar and locally; that means another slice. Then you have to provide posters, stamps for schedules, labels, prize tickets, and judges' slips. The day before the show you have to prepare the hall; that means labour. Then there comes the hiring of staging, and if you have to cut it about to make it fit, that means waste. Suppose you get 500 entries, that means two judges, say, from £3 to £4 the two. Then there comes the biggest item of all, prize-money. Now, just imagine, "Young Exhibitor," you were running a show of 36 classes. Say they average 14 per class, that works out £37 16s., at 1s. 6d. per cage. If you pay full prize-money at 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d., that takes the great slice of £31 10s., and leaves you just six guineas for all expenses. You must remember that many cage bird shows are held in connection with poultry and pigeon shows, and with these it means hire and carriage of pens, and you would find that is a great expense. I would persuade "Young Exhibitor" to get elected on some committee. He would be no worse for the experience, for there is an old saying, that "bought wit is best wit." You say you cannot stand half prize-money. You would soon find out that being on some of the committees means not only half prize-money paid to other exhibitors, but your own time given for their benefit; no prize-money for you, and, to end all, and to clear your society from a scandal in some exhibitors' eyes, you will have to draw some of your hard earned-cash from your pocket. My appeal to you is to have a little pity on the poor old secretary and committee. They are the men that make the Fancy. Without these you will get no shows, and without the shows no fancy prices for your birds. Depend upon it that if secretaries could see their way clear to pay full prize-money, they would, as full prize-money means full classes. But to do as you suggest, and start with, say, 2s. deficit on classes of six, would need a "millionaire" secretary and committee.

A. E. Barham.

Sir,—Kindly grant me a small space in your most helpful journal, as I think the following prize-money scale one of the best (if not the best) offered this season:—Entrance fee 1s. 6d. For 8 entries and over 1st 10s., 2nd 5s., 3rd 3s.; 7, 1st 7s., 2nd 3s., 3rd 2s.; 6, 1st 6s., 2nd 2s. 6d., 3rd 1s. 6d.; 5, 1st 5s., 2nd 2s., 3rd 1s.; 4, 1st 4s., 2nd 2s., 3rd 1s.; 3, 1st 3s., 2nd 1s. 6d., 3rd a card; 2, 1st 2s., 2nd 1s.; 1, 1st 1s. 6d. However small the society may be, they can hope to see all classes more or less represented in adopting above rule; hence doing away with so much cancelling of classes, which is more beneficial to the societies in general, visitors having the pleasure of seeing a few rare and good specimens, if not a class of say 8, or 10. The schedule quoted was sent out by a South Devon Society, who no doubt will readily recognise it when reading the good old book, Cage Birds. I congratulate them on their live and let live spirit. I quite agree with "Young Exhibitor's" remarks, especially the latter portion of his letter. I would like to find the exhibitor who spends no end of time and patience in addition to entrance fees and railway carriage to send his birds out, and then when good luck favours him in winning 1st, he is "contented" with a card—or little better. I cannot take it in. Still, I believe many exhibitors derive a goodly portion of pleasure from this particular part of our Fancy. I hope to see others take up this point, as I really think there could be better prize-money offered in the interests of the societies and exhibitors.

Information Wanted.

Sir,—I should be obliged if some bird-catcher would give information how to catch Treecreepers in woods, not hedges; also Long-tailed Tits.

A. Noble.

Proposed New Society for Richmond, etc., Surrey.

Sir,—Will cage bird fanciers in Richmond, Twickenham, Isleworth, Hampton, Kingston, and district, who are desirous of forming a local cage bird society, with the object of encouraging the breeding and keeping of cage birds of all classes, kindly co-operate with me in establishing same? If those interested in the scheme will communicate with me. I will arrange a preliminary meeting to arrange details, etc.

W. Nichols.

A Compliment for Winsford Show.

Sir,—Kindly allow me, through the correspondence column of Cage Birds, to compliment the secretary and officials of the Winsford and Dist. C.B.S. on the way they conducted their first open show. My birds arrived here, properly packed, at 10 p.m. the day of show. Prize-money was promptly paid, and the award cards were worth winning, being very well designed.—A great improvement on the usual cheap cards, advertising somebody or other's dog biscuits. I hope fanciers will give this society's show the support it deserves next season. I thank you for the interesting articles and reports in Cage Birds (I have not missed a copy for seven years) and I wish you continued success.

F. Hayward.

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

The Black-cap Warbler in Ireland.

Sir,—Would any of your Irish readers that keep Blackcaps state the best way of managing them? Are they easily kept through the summer; what is the best food for them; and when should they be singing? I find it hard to keep them, although I buy all sorts of food.

A Subscriber.

The Ups and Downs of a Clear Linnet Mule.

Sir,—In your issue of December 21st, I find a paragraph relating to the judging of my clear Linnet Mule at Sheffield, and the Bradford National Show. I should like to state that Mr. Robson, when in Hull, was able to see, handle and thoroughly examine the bird, as it was on view at the Hull show. So far as the Border Canary theory is concerned, we have never had one on the place. For a complete history of the breeding of this Mule, I refer any of your readers who may be interested in the matter to a letter of mine in a previous issue of your paper.

Harold C. Fisher.

Date of Crystal Palace Show.

Sir,—I, too, think that if the Palace show was held from Wednesday to Saturday (inclusive), it would give many shop fanciers a chance to pay a visit which we do not get now. As regards myself, Friday, Saturday, and Monday are the three busiest days. Respecting provincial excursions on the South Coast, there are more mid-week cheap trips than week-end. I am glad some one has opened the ball, as I have been going to write about it for two or three years. I hope Mr. Ramsden will think it over next year.

F. Richer.

Sir,—I was pleased to read the letters from Messrs. Peerless and Dunham re days fixed for Palace show, and hope Mr. Ramsden will be able to give Mr. Peerless' suggestion a trial, so that the shopkeepers and their staff may have the opportunity to visit the show. I think the same suggestion also applies to the L.C.B.A.

W. Foxen.

The Capture of Birds Bearing Marking Rings.

Sir,—I am greatly obliged to you for kindly inserting the reports of birds recovered bearing my rings, which have appeared recently in Cage Birds. It may interest your readers to know that the Gulls reported by Messrs. A. Cattermole, H. Dyer and P. Pointon were all marked at Ravenglass, Cumberland, during June, 1912. The Blue Tit caught by Mr. R. M. Presland was one ringed at Hale End, Essex, during January, 1911. I should be very much obliged if you could obtain for me the following information: The date on which the Gull reported by Mr. Dyer was found, and the exact localities in which the Blue Tit reported by Mr. Presland, and the Black-headed Gull reported by Mr. Pointon, were found. The essential details required in all reports of the recovery of ringed birds are (1) number of ring; (2) place of recovery; (3) date of recovery; and (4) the kind of bird.

Short Entries at Scottish Shows.

Are "Clique Judges" the Cause?

Sir,—The cause of short entries at some of the Scottish shows is the "clique judges." Their motto is "Help me this week, and I will help you next." The honest exhibitor generally gets a vhc or a c, and yet, when he comes into the show, sees his bird is the best in the class. He then calls the attention of the judge—if the latter has not run away home, like some of them who cannot face the exhibitors—to his exhibits and asks, "What is wrong here?" The answer is (if any), "Oh, the bird was not showing himself like that when I judged him." Or the judge picks up the bird, in anger at being criticised, and gives it a fright, his answer being, "It has no type, or will not show himself"; and he walks quickly away. The truth is the bird with the red ticket belonged to a prominent judge, who put the other fellow's bird in the tickets the week before. There are only a few exhibitors of the clique winning. On the other hand, when they show their birds under an honest exhibitor and judge, say on his first attempt at judging, where are the prominent exhibitors? They are nowhere because the judge has given his honest opinion. He may make a mistake, but you may be sure you are getting justice. I trust that exhibitors will take a hint, and boycott all the leading Scotch judges that run as a clique, and get new blood into the Fancy, otherwise it will spell failure with all shows. If honest judging was given, it would help everybody; the shows would get plenty of entries, and there would be keener competition and less grumbling. I hope show secretaries and committees will consider who they are getting for judges next year, and that fanciers will boycott the leading clique judges before the show season is at a close, and so help one of the finest hobbies any man can have.

Lover of Justice.

New Society at Burnley.

Sir,—Will all cage bird fanciers please attend our first meeting, to be held at the Star Inn, January 9th, at 8 p.m. We have already got over 30 members, and intend to make it one of the strongest societies in Lancashire. Lectures and table shows are being arranged now, so a large attendance is required.

Perches that Keep Down Red Mite.

Sir,—Referring to "Derby's" letter, in your last issue, re red mite, I think it is likely to leave a wrong impression, as it looks as though we must have the mite, like the poor, always with us. What we must do is to keep clear of them, and not set traps to catch them by the score. Readers should wash cages with a strong solution of carbolic acid and water, and as a double precaution, dust them once a week with Keating's insect powder (this is best blown in with a small bellows after the birds are settled down at night. The bellows can be purchased from any chemist at 4½d. each. I have cages now washed last March, and when slides are drawn they still give off a strong smell of carbolic, and I don't find any red mite in them. The perch dodge is no use, as they come out of their hiding place at night, and irritate the birds. What every fancier must strive for is extermination.

The Shows in Ireland.

Do Week-end Dates Spell Short Entries?

Sir,—In your report of Larne show, I notice that the Society complain of not receiving support from exhibitors from a distance. Now if some of the Irish societies persist in holding their shows on Friday and Saturday, they must not expect support from exhibitors from a distance. We cannot send our best show birds and have them held over on the railway on Sunday. For instance, I sent up a team of six Yorkshires to Holywood show this season. The birds were dispatched to me from the show on Saturday morning, and I did not receive them until the following Monday evening, with the result that my six best show birds were thrown into a soft moult. As the "Sparrow" from Brixton remarked in your last issue: "How's that for trouble?" The South Co., Dublin C.B.S. are to be heartily congratulated on the splendid way in which their show, held in Kingstown, was carried out. Their initial attempt was indeed a great one, and I am confident of their success in the future. I wish all fanciers a Bright and Happy New Year.

J. F. Morgan.

Sir,—In reply to your correspondent in last week's Cage Birds. I wish to inform him that the Sligo Society do not intend holding a show this season. But all being well, we hope to come to the front next season, and hope to have the same good support as heretofore accorded us. We wish all a good and prosperous year.

C. J. Mulligan.

Scotland's Record Show: over 2,000 birds at Edinburgh.

Wonderful success of the New Year fixture of the Scottish National C.B.S. Many marvellous classes in all sections. A great attendance and model management.

THE Scottish National C.B.S. Show was, as usual, held on the last day of the Old and the first of the New Year The Corn Exchange, Grass Market, Edinburgh, was once again made use of. We hear this fine hall is to be demolished, therefore it is very doubtful if another exhibition will be held there. It is certainly a magnificent building for shows (not only for birds, but other livestock); it is very roomy with plenty of daylight from the roof, and the committee have gone to considerable expense this year to have three huge lights fitted for use after dusk. When we put in an appearance overnight, all the staging was erected, and the veteran Mr. Kinlayside (who has just recovered from a severe illness) was busy with the award board, which is quite a feature at this show. As the birds arrived they were quickly dealt with by Mr. Craig, the able show manager, and his helpers, including Messrs. Jack, Finney, Gourlay, Carson, Morris, Sykes, Hoyle, Rogers, Buglass, Stormont, G. Brown, Cooper, Holmes, Welsh, Easter, Nelson, Spence, Turnbull, and Charlton, while Messrs. Todd and Murray were at the Caledonian and Waverley Stations attending to the quick dispatch of the birds as the trains brought them in.

The end of the year is a favourite one for bird shows in the North, consequently there is a good deal of clashing, and every show suffers somewhat in consequence, but in spite of this the Scottish National proved to be a record, some two thousand and fifty birds facing the judges. The entries in the Norwich, British, and Borders were particularly heavy, the only real disappointment being in the Scotch Fancy and Yorkshire sections. The former had only a couple of classes allotted to them last year, and this time were well catered for, but the entry was poor, and it is just on the cards that the section will be entirely dropped. The quality all through was quite up to the high Scottish reputation, and we did not envy the judges their task in some of the classes.

Popular All Over the Kingdom.

The popularity of this show is pretty universal, birds being sent in from many southern cities, including London, Cardiff, and Swansea, and four Belgian Canaries came from the Continent. There was rather a heavy batch of birds delivered on the morning of the show, and although a strong staff soon dealt with them, it caused the judges to start work somewhat later than usual, but being a nice bright morning they managed to get through in capital time.

For the management we have nothing but praise. To run a big exhibition like this requires some good men at the head of affairs, which fortunately the society possesses. In Mr. J. R. Meikle, the secretary, they have the right man in the right place. He worked like a veritable Trojan. We found him at his post at all hours, and no man could possibly have done more than he to make the exhibition the success it was. We congratulate him on his great achievement the first year he has been at the helm. Mr. J. Winter, the genial president, was very much in evidence, his assistance and advice being constantly needed, and being freely given, in all parts of the show. Mr. S. Burglass, the vice-president, is also a very enthusiastic fancier and willing helper. Mr. R. Craig once more acted as show manager and did everything in his usual quiet, but wonderfully effective manner. He worked downright hard, needless to say, and much of the success attained is due to his untiring energy. Other very capable assistants were Mr. F. A. Watt, all the way from Banff, Mr. J. F. Dewar, Mr. John Brown, Mr. P. Green, Mr. L. J. Arrighi, and Mr. R. Bald (Bathgate), also the fine working committee, consisting of Messrs. A. Rodger, W. R. Finnie, C. Sykes, T. Todd, J. G. Easter, W. B. Smart, A. Hoyle, J. Gourlay, J. Nelson, S. May, R. S. Spence, W. Turnbull, W. Carson, jun., D. Morris, J. Welsh, J. B. Cooper, G. Brown, J. Hutchison, P. Murray, J. Stormont, J. Charlton, and Mr. J. Holmes, who managed the award board. Miss Peddie Waddell had the Foreign birds once more under her care. They were given the warmest position in the hall, and their grand condition testified to the excellence of her attentions.

The Highest Honour of All.

There was the usual flutter of excitement over the judging for the best bird in the show. Mr. Maddison nominated the 1st prize Bramblefinch; Mr. Duncan the winning Canary-Bullie; and Mr. Dewar his best Foreigner (Purple Sugar Bird), the other judges bringing out different varieties of Canaries. The winner proved to be Mr. Davies' buff Norwich, the well-known winner, the runner-up being Mr. Shellam's Canary-Bullie.

The Rollers were located in a room quite away from the rest of the birds and attracted a good deal of attention.

There was not a big crowd of Cinnamons, but the classes provided were fairly well filled, and the quality all that one could desire, as may be imagined when such exhibitors as Mrs. Deacon and Messrs. Dormer, Godley, Hartup, etc., were exhibiting. Mr. Dormer staged the winners in the two cock classes, his yellow being particularly admired. It is a bird of wonderful size and exceptionally sound in col. The Novice class contained ten entries, and some good birds were leading.

Considering the clashing with the Northern Crest Club fixture, the Crests and Crestbreds came up well. One missed the champions from Newcastle and Gateshead, but still some magnificent birds headed the classes. The special for best bird went to Mr. Brotherton's wonderful grey Crest hen, "Lucy Grey." Another good specimen was Mr. Howie's varieg. cock, a bird of rare substance with a well-formed crest. The special for best young bird (which is illustrated on our front page) was won by Mr. Adamson, of Kilmarnock, with a very promising hen, a beauty. The section was well patronised by interested fanciers, and many members' birds got into the cards.

The Yorkshire Greens made four good classes. If the numbers were hardly up to expectation, nothing adverse could be said on the score of quality—it was "all there," some gems of the variety being on view. Mr. T. Rowlands, of Liverpool, once more made no mistake, he staging the winners in three out of the four classes.

The Norwich Greens were also a most interesting lot, and size, type, and quality were to be found in most of the winners. The buff hen class was something exceptional; a wonderfully level lot; there was very little to choose between the first half-dozen birds. Mr. Ball, of Wigan, staged the winner. Mr. Harding, of Wellingboro' owned the winning yell cock, another exceptionally fine specimen.

The A.O.V. class was a wonderful collection, and contained as many good Lizards as were shown when this variety had classes to itself.

A Slump in "Grace and Beauty."

The Yorksbire section only filled moderately well, the average being about a dozen per class. It is difficult to find a satisfactory reason for this falling off in these popular favourites. The variety is making considerable headway in Scotland, and the order of the day should be better filled classes. We noticed that the majority of the birds came from the South and quite the larger share of the spoils went back with them. Mr. J. Bailey staged a charming yellow cock, and in the ticked class he had a beauty left out, the judge failing to find the necessary qualifying mark. Mr. Binns, of Blackpool, won in buff cocks with a beautifully moulded example. All through the quality was exceptional, Mr. Hirst going for typical, good positioned birds, and not taking too much notice of size.

The quality of the Norwich Plainheads was first-class, some very outstanding birds being staged. The classes, too, were very full, over 30 birds being in several of them. The most striking class was that for unflighted buff hens, which was headed by a beauty belonging to Mr. Grewar, of Lochgelly. Hyde's teapot was won by Mr. Nelson's fine unflighted yellow cock. The Dewar shield for best bird in show fell to Mr. J. Davies' grand buff cock, which also won three other specials. This noted English exhibitor did splendidly.

We regret to say that the Scotch Fancy section only totalled the meagre entry of 65 in the 14 classes provided. Many seemed to think that after having given so generous a classification for so poor a response the society should think seriously over the matter and dispense with this variety altogether. However, some capital birds were forward. A novice exhibitor, Mr. McDougal, of Edinburgh, secured the rose bowl for best novice with a grand yellow hen. The Belgian section contained some very good-class birds, of excellent size and substance.

The "Wee Gems" Muster in Force.

The Border Fancy section was one of the features of the show, and we venture the opinion that it was the finest collection seen at the S.N. show for a good number of years—quantity in abundance, and quality of the very best. The four clear classes were exceptionally strong, many good birds having to be left cardless. The B.F.C.C. open medal was won by Mr. John Smart (Tweedmouth) with a charming yellow even-mark. The novice medal was secured by Mr. Joseph Allan (Kelso) with a capital buff foul put down in faultless order. The Bennett cup was won by Mr. George Brown (Leith) with a fine buff cock, which stood only eighth in its class, which evidences the hot competition in this section. The green classes were also very strong in numbers, but we thought that a few of the birds showed a tendency to be on the strong side, although having plenty of colour and markings.

Mules, British, and Foreign were a grand and great collection. Never has such a crowd been drawn to a Scotch show, all the well-known English, Welsh, and Scotch exhibitors having teams forward, and competition throughout was of the keenest. The Hardbills comprised all the champions, and here that well-known Bramble, the property of Mr. Sykes, won the special for best Britisher in show. Softbills were a lovely collection, almost all the species being on view. We could scarcely pass these without drawing attention to the winning lovely Lesser Whitethroat, delightfully staged by Mr. Hattersley. The Foreigners were a gorgeous collection, some "stars" being out, the Rainbow Bunting and Yellow-winged Sugar Bird of Mr. Arnot being gems.

Mules on the whole were good, the outstanding specimen being Mr. Gilchrist's Dark Goldie, a gem, and no mistake. Hybrids contained such choice specimens as Messrs. Martin and Archer's Chaffie-Greenie. The clear class was headed by a gem of a clear Goldie, well shown by Mr. Jamieson.

The judges were: Messrs. H. W. Battye (Nor.), A. Chalmers (Crests), J. F. Dewar (Belg. and For.), W. C. Duncan and J. Watson (Borders), A. Hirst (Cinns. and Yorks), J. Maddison (British), W. C. Duncan (Hybrids), Bradfield (Rollers), J. D. Maxwell, D. Black, J. Carson, and J. A. Stewart (Scotch). We heard very little adverse criticism indeed, so conclude that their labours were a decided success.

THE NORWICH PLAINHEADS.
Judge, Mr. H. W. Battye.

ANFIELD, EVERTON AND DIST. C.B.S.

Most successful combined open and members' show held Dec. 26 in the large mission hall, Burleigh Road, S. The show was to have been opened by the Lord Mayor, but owing to unforeseen business he was unable to be present. The Lady Mayoress, in full state regalia, made a very charming and gracious substitute. The vicar of the parish (the Rev. Clark Hudson), in introducing her ladyship, said it was very appropriate that a bird show should be held in rooms attached to St. Cuthbert's, as St. Cuthbert in his day was known as a pattern of piety and lived on a lonely island, his only companions being the feathered tribe, who flocked around him in large numbers, not having the slightest fear of him. The Lady Mayoress, in declaring the show open, said it gave her very great pleasure to be there. She had no previous idea that birds could be bred in such beauty and perfection, and she was quite sure that the care and keeping of such beautiful and valuable birds tended towards humanity and morality amongst those who indulged in such a pleasing hobby. A hearty vote of thanks and a "Hip! hip! hip!" were accorded her ladyship, who was afterwards presented with a very handsome bird and cage. The show itself was a great success, over 800 birds being staged, and this by a society which has only been established ten months. The room was packed as soon as opened, and the general exclamation was: "How does he do it?" referring to that prince of secretaries, Mr. R. B. Wright, who on this occasion was ably helped by the genial chairman, Mr. M. Wilson, and a large body of capable stewards. This being the third show for the season's specials, the competition amongst the members was more than keen—it was simply war to the death, entries of twenty to forty in one lot being quite common, and quality was not by any means lacking. Amongst the Yorkshires was that "Wonder," the Gateshead and Bradford National specialist, on this occasion third in a class of three. The Welsh people also sent their best Britishers, and "Ma conscience!" didn't the blaze on the Goldies blaze and the sheen on the Brambles sheen! It is not often Liverpudlians have an object lesson like this. There are some good Britishers about Liverpool, but the fanciers don't take the trouble to get the polish on. Yorkshire and Wales sent a very heavy contingent of enthusiasts, and most of the local heads of the Fancy were present. No doubt the gate receipts will make a financial success of a socially successful show. Messrs. Wellings, Benson, and Mallinson judged, and their awards were well received. (This account and critique are sent by the official reporter to the society.—Ed.)

CAMBUSLANG.

Annual show in the Free Gardeners' Hall, Cambuslang. Entries were in excess of any previous show held by the association, and the gate money was the best for a number of years. When the reins are in the hands of a capable manager, things are bound to improve, and the society is to be congratulated on having such a worthy secretary as Mr. Sam Lindsay. Mr. G. Smart (Carmyle) placed the awards, and left little to be desired in the way of providing general satisfaction.

RUTHERGLEN O.A.

Sixth annual show and competition held in the Rechabites Hall, King Street, Rutherglen. A record was created both in quality and numbers. Much of the success of the venture was due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Lappin, the genial and much respected secretary, who, being a man of up-to-date business methods, had everything in its proper place. He was well supported by a willing committee, who got through the work in quite a satisfactory fashion. Mr. Cant (Hamilton) judged, and his awards were well received.

ASTWOOD BANK (Worc.)

Held in the Red Lion Assembly Room, Dec. 27th. The able secretaries, Messrs. Worwood and Shrimpton, had matters well in hand, and were helped by a good working committee. They are to be congratulated on the success of the fixture. Owing to illness, Mr. F. Matcham, who was down to judge the cage birds, could not attend, so Mr. J. C. Sharp took the classes. We heard a little grumbling as to the awards, especially in the open A.O.V. class, where a moderate Lancashire took the lead, and Mr. Herbert's well-known winning buff Norwich stood vhc, and the second prize Birmingham Scotch Fancy without a card.

OPEN ANY VARIETY (8), a nice class: 1, res, Parker, leader a fair good Lancashire; latter a very nice yellow Yorker; 2, Mills Bros., fine Goldfinch, nice large blaze, good buttons, tight in feather; 3, hc, Smith, two nice Goldfinch-Bullfinch hybrids, leader good size and markings; hc, small, but wonderful blaze; vhc, Herbert, real good typical buff Norwich, well known winner, could have led to-day. MEMBERS, YORKS. (13), strong class: 1, sp, and cup, Austin, yell., long, slim, beautifully drawn, smart, feather like wax; 3, hc, Austin, buff, equal shape, trifle shorter, nice qual.; 2, vhc, Parker, yell., nice wedge body, neat wings and tail, well up; res, Hunt, nice-shaped buff. A.O.V. (3): 1, 2, Parker, variegs. yellows, leader nice size and shape, stout build, nice feather; 2, little smaller, will improve; 3, Mill's Bros., nice cinnamon, large, bold, fine substance, well-known winner. GOLDFINCH, BRIT. (7): 1, medal, Mills Bros., very fine Goldfinch, rich brilliant blaze, beautiful tanned body, pink of condition. SMALL (3): 1, 2, Mills Bros., leader fine Bullie, good cap and breast, very steady, well put down; 2nd, lovely yellow Siskin, very neat, we liked; 3, A. Turner, Bullfinch, nice in colour and size. A.O.V. (6): 1, sp, vhc, Turner, pair nice yellow Budgerigars; 2, Mills, nice Jonque Goldfinch Mule, in the pink, very steady; 3, Warwood, very nice Tawny Owl; vhc, Parker, nicely pencilled, large upstanding Linnet, grand feather.

TRURO & COUNTY F.A.

24th annual show Dec. 26. This old-established society always has a good entry, and this year was well up to average both in numbers and quality. The show was confined to the county of Cornwall, and almost every exhibitor of note was represented. Norwich was the largest section, closely followed by Yorks., and Goldfinches made a creditable display. Entries totalled 240, and the staging and arrangements left nothing to be desired. Judging from the number of visitors surrounding the cages the cage bird section is a very popular one. Mr. Thos. Toy as usual ably carried out the duties of secretary, and was assisted by a committee of real fanciers, those responsible for the welfare of the cage birds being Messrs. Boggia, Coad, Hawken, Martin, F. Pascoe, Richards, and Wotton. Mr. Thos. Pope (Plymouth) judged.

SHOW THIS ISSUE TO YOUR FRIENDS AND INTEREST THEM IN YOUR HOBBY.

LONGTON (Lancs).

First open show of Nor. Canaries, held in the schoolroom under the auspices of the Longton P. and P.S. The venture was a success, and the arrangements were excellent, Mr. Robert Johnson deserving praise for the enthusiastic manner in which he has worked to make the show "go." We heard that next year will see an extended classification, and, judging from the numerous specials offered at this show, we look forward to Longton becoming a live fixture, as it is easily accessible by railway. Mr. Peter Wareing judged, and gave every satisfaction. Chief honours went to Messrs. H. F. Marsh and Mattinson. The former staged some fine specimens, and was successful in winning the silver medal presented by Mr. R. Anderton for best hen in show.

NOR., YELL. CK. WATFORD AND DIST. C.B.S.

Eighth annual show in the Conservative Hall, Dec. 8th and 9th. The hall is an ideal place for a show, being free from draught, and with plenty of light, and with the new staging the show was a grand success. The hon. sec., Mr. W. Rackley, the committee, and the show manager, Mr. T. Sears, all worked very hard in the good cause. Norwich came up well, and competition was very keen. Yorks were a grand lot. Mules and Hybrids were not large, but contained some first-class specimens, which have held their own in open competition. Foreign birds made the best show we have seen at Watford, and must have given the judge a trying time. Competition for the cups was very keen, the Gleeson Cup being won for the third time by Mr. W. Buckingham, and it now becomes his property. The Partridge Cup was won by Mr. Herridge, and the Sears Cup produced a tie between Mr. R. J. Watts and Mr. Fox. Mr. Sears won the Unlighted Points Cup. Mr. T. Heath judged, and his awards gave satisfaction.

FRASERBURGH.

First annual show, held in the Templar Hall, Dec. 25th. The hall is well lighted from the top, and is an admirable place for an exhibition. The birds were nicely staged, and well looked after; there being some really good specimens on show. Entries numbered 106. Norwich made a grand display. British also came up well. One thing that was very annoying to the exhibitors and visitors was the want of catalogues, there being some delay with them. Mr. Robert Bruce, the energetic secretary, had all arrangements well in hand, and must be complimented on the success of his labours. He was ably assisted by a band of willing workers, and everything passed off very smoothly. Silver Cup for best bird in show was won by Mr. Morrice, with a col.-fed yell. variegs. cock, also sp. for the best Norwich cock. Silver medal by Mr. J. Sandford, for the best fed bird was won by Mr. Yeats with a cl. yell. cock. Hyde's special was won by Mr. Ironside with a nat. col. yellow cock. Mr. A. Chalmers, Kirkintilloch, judged.

HIGH WYCOMBE.

Held Dec. 27 in the Memorial Hall, cosy and well lighted, while every attention was paid to the birds by such competent stewards as Messrs. H. Spring, and A. Rivett. The Hon. Secretary, Mr. S. C. Pearce, is getting "old at the game," as the customary saying goes, and is most proficient. He has the help of an efficient assistant secretary in Mr. A. Rivett, and the committee, one and all, work with a will. It is quite certain, judging from the display of birds that the fanciers of High Wycombe and district know how to breed and exhibit live stock, and to manage a show well. A very beautiful Black-throated Hangnest, the property of Mrs. Cox, won special for best bird; and specials were also won by Messrs. T. Bowler (3), and Spring. For a 20 mile radius show the competition was splendid. Mr. Geo. Gardner judged.

The Critique.

YORKS (7): 1, 2, Hawes Bros., yellow and buff in order named, at time of judging the buff was carrying a lot of loose "fluff," but later in the day the positions would have been reversed, two beautiful birds; 3, Bond, yell., neat and quick actioned, nice length; 4, Munday, lengthy Cinnie vgtd., grand stock bird; vhc, hc, Irving; c, Burnham, junr. MALTON, NORTON.

Seventeenth annual show held in the Corn Exchange, Dec., 26th. Mr. Wilson, the hon. sec., is the right man for the successful running of a show, he had his stewards well in hand, looking after the exhibits, and we cannot give too much praise to this hard working hon. sec. We were pleased to see the hall packed with visitors and fanciers from York, Sheffield, Whitby, and the district round Malton. We were sorry to see Dr. Wilson's Canary Bullie looking so soft when we left the show, but we hope it will have picked itself up with a bit's rest. The Bullfinch of Dr. Wilson's was closely pressed by W. Wood's bird, some thought they might have changed places. Linnets were a grand lot. Mules or Hybrids were the best ever seen at Malton, and were much admired. Mr. Parlett's Greenfinch Canary, is a champion, and won the special for best in show. The judge was Mr. W. Mundell, Bradford, and everyone seemed satisfied with his awards.

HULL C.B.S.

Very successful members' show held on Boxing Day in the Oddfellows' Hall, 193 exhibits being staged. The show decided the holders of the points cups for the current year. Mr. Geo. Harland won the Champion Cup with 222 points, this being the first time since this cup was put in competition that it has been won with one variety of bird, Mr. Harland having shown nothing but Norwich Canaries. The following is the position of members in this section: Harland, 222; Walker, 146; Stamford, 64; Store, 57; Frith, 40; Mason, 37; Pepper, 15; Douse, 11; Gilson, 9; Barwick, 8. The Novice Points Cup is awarded for most points in Norwich, Yorks., Mules, and British sections respectively. Mr. Riley won with 129½ points, obtained in the Mule and British sections. Scores for the Novice Cup were: Norwich, Ridley, 83½; Potter, 73½; Sutton, 72; Hope, 58; C. W. Ware, 47½; Clavard, 25; Thirsk, 24; McKay, 18; Clark, 17; Cross 14. Yorks.: W. E. Sowden, 90; Chas. ALNMOUTH.

The Alnmouth and Dis. P.P. and C.B.S. held its second annual show in the Town Hall on December 28th. The hall, although not very large, was ample for exhibits and visitors, the staging being in tiers. The light at night time might be improved. We regretted to hear that about 70 or 80 pens had not arrived for the poultry, which greatly hampered the Committee in their work. The entries almost doubled that of last year; a few extra classes had been added. Another year it would be to the advantage of the society (being an open show) to advertise in CAGE BIRDS, as many fanciers did not know there was such a show. The Committee should attend to this another year. The officers are earnest and courteous workers, ably led by Mr. Geggie, the Secretary, he having a very hard day's work. We were pleased to see th President, the Rev. F. W. Linton-Bogle, taking quite a lively interest in the show. There was a grand gate during the afternoon, and we fully expect the committee will have a nice balance on the right side. The quality was good, the Norwich and Borders being hard to separate, while an attraction to the visitors was the only foreign bird in the show, a lovely Black-headed Gouldian Finch. Mr. H. Seely (Choppington) judged, and no fault could well be found with his awards.

The Critique.

NOR. YELL. CK. (10): 1, Armstrong, variegs., hot col., nice chest, shapely and stylish; 2, Dixon, neck tkd., good one for type and col., grand head and wings; 3, Rowell, eye and wing mkd., rare chest and head, nicely filled in behind, not quite so sweet in feather; vhc, Morgan; hc, Smailes; c, Crackett. BUFF (12): 1, hc, Rowell, cl., well-known winner, best of head and chest, wings well balanced, easily the best Nor. in show; 2, Penrose, cl., hot col., very similar in type, fine feather; 3, Geggie, cl., real good one, grand head, wings well carried, neat short tail, fails a little in chest; vhc, Dixon; c, Armstrong. HEN (15) grand class: 1, Rowell, buff, eye and right wing tkd., hot col., neat head, nice Bullie chest, well balanced wings, wins well; 2, hc, Richardson, neck tkd yell., grand col., compact body, splendid head and chest, fails a little behind; 3, Hay, tkd., hot col., nice shape, Cockermouth and Berwick winner, presses hard to-day; vhc, Penrose; c, Dixon. BORD. CK. ROYALTY AT THE HAGUE BIRD SHOW

Special Report by C. A. House.

Last season it was my pleasure to write a description of the show of the Nederlandsche Vereeniging "Aviculture." Again the pleasure is mine. The show was again held in the Grand Saloon of the Zoological and Botanic Gardens at The Hague, Dec. 13 to 15. Dec. 12 was set apart for the judging, the show being open on the Friday, Saturday, and Sunday; the latter is the popular day, as may be gathered from the fact that over 2,200 visitors who paid for admission were present on that day in addition to the large number of ticket holders. The birds were staged in one of the side rooms branching off from the Central Hall, and the Rollers were in another. Each of the rooms was beautifully lighted, very warm, and free from draught, whilst the birds were all staged at a most convenient height. The show was visited early on the morning of the first day by Her Majesty Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort, attended by their equerries and ladies-in-waiting. They were received by the executive at the entrance to the Grand Saloon, and Her Majesty graciously received a bouquet of choice flowers presented to her by the wife of the President, Den. Heer J. M. Vas Visser, under whose escort Her Majesty and His Royal Highness made their tour of the show. They took the greatest interest in the different sections, and on their departure expressed their great pleasure at what they had seen, wished the society much success, and gave the president a sum of money to distribute amongst the paid attendants.

Where Things are Well Done.

The society responsible for the running of The Hague show is the Nederlandsche Vereeniging "Avicultura," and the Queen Mother is its chief patron. This was its twenty-eight show, and was described as the "28-ste Groote Internationale Tentoonstelling." Its international character is shown by the fact that "the jury"—that is, the judges—were drawn from Holland, France, Belgium, Germany, and England, the writer being the representative of the latter country for the second year in succession. In the evening of the judging day the committee, judges, stewards, and prominent citizens of The Hague dined at the Hotel des Indes, which is the principal hotel, and will be remembered as having been very closely connected with the great Peace and other conferences held at The Hague, it being the headquarters always of our British delegates and commissioners. At the banquet on the Thursday evening the President announced the fact that he had received information that the Queen would visit the show at eleven o'clock on the Friday morning. Space is too valuable to say much about the banquet, but its influence on the Fancy must be great, because of its appeal to the social instincts of all connected with the society.

Our Dutch Friends cannot be beaten.

When I entered the saloon of the Zoological Gardens at nine o'clock on the judging morning some of my colleagues were already at work, and all the officers were in their places ready to carry out their allotted task. The Executive Committee were: W. J. M. De Bas (Eere Voorzitter), J. M. Vas Visser (Voorzitter), S. Spanjaard Lzn (Onder-Voorzitter), R. Houwink Hzn, A. A. Polvliet, A. Hoogendijk, G. P. J. A. Verbeet, T. H. Van Hattum, C. J. Van Nievelt, B. Wilton, and G. Wilson, jun., The Stewards were: R. A. J. Van Delden, A. C. M. Dolk, J. L. Melchiers, C. J. J. Blusse, V. W. De Villeneuve, H. Rey, C. E. Hartink, W. Peek, G. M. Kok, J. Zaalberg, and A. Holland, whilst the sec. was Herr D. W. Molhuijsen. From the President, Den Heer J. M. Vas Visser, down to Herr Molhuijsen, one and all did their work in a manner which calls for the highest commendation, and I can honestly say that much as we pride ourselves on this side of the Channel with doing things well, we cannot beat our Dutch friends when it comes to enthusiasm, earnestness, and energy. In a word, they did all things well.

Upon my last visit to The Hague, I discovered several readers of CAGE BIRDS, and it gave me great pleasure to find on this ocasion that the number had sensibly increased. Not only so, but I found that our Dutch friends do a considerable amount of buying and selling through the columns of CAGE BIRDS. This latter fact is one I would especially commend to the notice of English fanciers.

Songsters Highly Valued.

The section for the German Singing Canaries, or Rollers, was divided into three classes. In one the competition was confined to single birds, and there were twenty-four competitors. The 1st prize was taken by M. H. J. Nijssen, the 2nd and 3rd by H. A. Maijen, the 4th by J. Wetz, and the 5th by J. A. G. Hilstein. Class 2 for pairs or rather, two cages—had forty entries, and the winners were: 1st, A. 't Hart; 2nd, J. A. Kok and A. Stooker; 3rd, J. B. L. van Geffen; 4th, Jud. Mombers. Class 3, quartets, had ninety-two entries, and here the winners were: 1st, W. Spelt; 2nd, J. B. van Geffen; 3rd, Jac. Podelier; 4th, W. van den Thillaers; and 5th, W. K. de Grooth. I was interested to notice that a considerable number of the competing birds changed hands, and found new owners in visitors to the show. More surprised still was I to find that these visitors knew how to buy. They did not purchase a bird by its performance in their presence, but were furnished with the bird's record as given by the judge, and the prices asked, so far as I could gather, were based upon the record of the judge. In England many of us think that from 10s. to 15s. is quite enough to give for a singing Canary, and if by chance we are tempted to give a sovereign we expect something extra special. Here, however, I found ordinary everyday folks considering twenty-four or thirty guelders none too much for a singer—that is, £2 or £2 10s. What is more, they knew its market value by the judge's record. Twenty-four special prizes were given in this section. Five of these were won by the exhibits of Den Heer W. Spelt, and included was the chief prize for the best collection of Singing Canaries, which was given by the President of the "Avicultura."

The exhibition section of the Cage Birds was opened by the Dutch Frills. In Holland, the home of the breed, one would expect to see the best. The birds shown here were wonderfully feathered both in front and on the back, but in length and size they were not the equals of what we are need to seeing at our English shows. This led to the conclusion that feather is considered far more important than size by the breeders in Holland. All the prizes were won by W. A. van Leeuwen. There were five classes for German Canaries, judged for beauty, and not for song. They were divided as follows: Gele (Dutch for yellow, but here it included Yellow and Buff; It may be our Dutch brethren are not so advanced in Canary colour as we are); Groene (Green), Fenillemorte (Cinnamon), Bonte (Variegated), and Gekuifde (Crested). I need hardly say that the crests looked very funny upon the little bodies. In Yellows P. J. Helder was the most successful exhibitor, followed by W. A van Leeuwen; in Greens J. van den Borden, J. W. de Villeneuve, and J. G Bloijs van Treslong; in Cinnamons J. van den Borden, J. W. de Villeneuve, and P. J. Helder; in Variegateds J. van den Borden; and in the Crests J. G. Bloijs van Treslong, J. W. de Villeneuve, J. van den Borden, and G. P. J. A. Virbeet. The Cinnamons and Greens were very beautiful in their colouring and feather, and were much the best classes in the section so far as quality was concerned. Specials for the best collection of English Canaries were won by Mr. R. A. Wilson, a young gentleman born of Coventry parents, but who has lived in Holland all his life. In Lancashires W. A. van Leeuwen was first with a stylish, nicely shaped Buff Plainhead, but it did not come up to the Rochdale standard in stoutness; R. A. Wilson came 2nd. In Crested Norwich the judge, strangely enough, withheld all the prizes, yet he gave every bird an honours card. This I could not follow, and most certainly thought a variegated bird shown by Mr. Wilson should have been placed at the head of the class (the judge gave it vhc, the highest honour). In Gladkop Norwich (Plainheads) Mr. Wilson had all the prizes with a capital team, but I liked his 2nd, a lovely quality yellow of grand type, colour, and feather, better than 1st. W. A. van Leeuwen had a couple of vhc's. In Cinnamon Norwich Mr. R. A. Wilson again had both prizes, the winner being a nice quality Buff. Yorkshires had classes for Yellows, Greens, Cinnamons, and Variegateds. In the Yellow class—that is, Gele—both the leaders were Buffs, 1st being Wilson and 2nd W. A. van Leeuwen; but I much admired a Yellow hen shown by W. J. M. de Bas, a very smart little Yorkshire lass was this. Wilson won in Greens with a very stylish typical Yellow of good colour, all the rest going to W. A. van Leeuwen. Van Leeuwen won in Variegateds with a very handsome four-pointed bird; he also won in Cinnamons. Borders had a similar classification, and Mr. Wilson swept the classes with a grand team, of which I much liked the winner in the Cinnamon class. In the "Niet Genoemde Kanariercassen"—or A.O.V.—Mr. Wilson won with a neat Buff Scots Fancy. Mules were described in the catalogue as "Bastaards van kanaries in wilde vogels," and the winner was a Canary-Bullie with a pied tail shown by W. J. M. de Bas. "Goudvinken" is Dutch for Bullfinches, and W. J. M. de Bas won with a bonnie shaped rich coloured bird, A. Sutherland being 2nd with a most handsome hen, and 3rd with a cock. The worthy sec., Den Heer D. W. Molhuijsen won in Putters (Goldfinches) with a well marked, rich coloured exhibit. "Inlandsche Zaadeters," or, as we should say, "A.O.V. Seed-eaters," were represented by Sijs (Siskins), Geelgors (Yellow Buntings), Vink (Chaffinch), Groninger (Greenfinch), Paap (Lesser Redpoll), and Sneeuwgors (Snow Bunting). All three prizes were taken by Molhuijsen, a lovely little Redpoll leading, followed by the Snow Bunting and Greenfinch. A most interesting class was that for "Lijster of spreeuwachtige vogels." I cannot translate this, but the birds in the class were the finest lot of Thrushes I have ever seen, and included, amongst others, White-throated, Missel, Pheasant, Golden-breasted, Red-legged, and Brown-breasted Thrushes, a Troupial, and a West Indian Starling. All the prizes were taken by W. J. M. de Bas. "Albinos, Pieds, and other rare feathered birds" had the following description: "Albinestisch gekleurde vogel en die waarvan kleur of teekening of beide van de gewone verschillen," W. J. M. de Bas had the class to himself with a wonderful collection—a collection such as I doubt any English fancier ever benched at a show. They were as follows:—1st, Witte Leeuwerik (White Meadow Lark); 2nd, Isabel Vink (Cinn. Chaffinch); 3rd, Wit Bonte Vink (Pied Chaffinch); vhc, Zwarte Vink (a Chaffinch of normal colouring, except that the white markings are black); hc, another Cinn. Chaffinch; whilst the unnoticed birds were Witte Merel (White Blackbird) and Witte Kauw (White Jackdaw). "Parkieten," or Parrakeets, were represented by a pair of Green Budgerigars shown by Mevr Boon, A. Sutherland coming 2nd with a good pair of Yellows. "Papagaaien" found Mr. Sutherland 1st and 2nd with good Blue-fronted Amazons, and he also won in the class "Ara's of Kakatoe's" with a very nice Rosy-breasted. "Uitlandsche Vogels" were represented by a Barbet, a Blue Magpie, a Blue-capped Magpie, and a Hooded Jay, all shown by W. J. M. de Bas. Collections of Foreign Finches, Parrakeets, and Canaries, in which A. Sutherland took all the first and H. Brand all the second prizes, concluded a show which, to an English visitor, contained much that was interesting. The judges were:—Canaries and Mules, L. W. Noorduijn: Inlandsche and Uitlandsche Vogels (home and foreign birds), F. E. Blaauw. The name of the judge of the Singing Canaries is not given in the catalogue, a fact I did not notice until after I had left Holland.

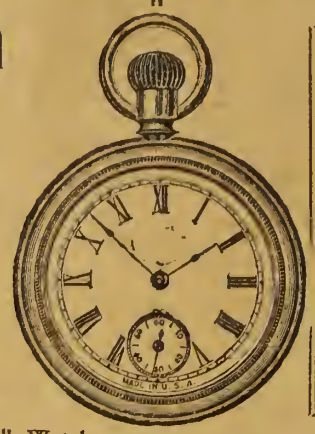
SHETTLESTON.

Annual show held in the Hill Street Hall, December 14. Entries came up fairly well, and were about on par with the previous show; on the whole, quality was better, especially in the Yorkshire section, Mr. S. F. Wood staging some toppers, quite able to hold their own in the best of company, his young yellow (a beauty) carrying off Hyde's special. Mr. Mackay did well in Borders, winning two cups, one for best young Border and one for best young bird bred by a member; this little gem did the double event in grand style, and Mr. Mackay may well feel pleased at his deserved success. Mr. Congans won the British cup with a grand Bullie hen, staged in perfect feather. Mr. G. Henderson secured cup for best old bird with his C.-B., a bird of real merit. Mr. A. Berry, the sec., had all in perfect order; he is a man of few words, but of much thought, and with his committee well posted up in their duties, everything passed off quietly and pleasantly. Messrs. R. H. Livingstone, Rutherglen, and M. Craig, Tollcross, made the awards, taking every alternate class, and their awards were well received.



The Critique.

YOUNG BIRDS.—CREST: 1, 2, Henderson, leader even wing mark dark, in fine order, nice size and good substance, should make up well, 2nd variegd., nice subs. and qual., not quite the spread of leader, but well up; 3, Curley, nice exhibit, staged in fine style. "CAGE BIRDS" WATCH COUPON Jan. 4th, 1913.

Manager, "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MANCHESTER (Amalgamated).

Second annual show held December 21, in the Onward Hall, Ardwick. In addition to prize money on the sliding scale of four prizes, there were forty special money prizes to compete for. The amalgamated societies were M. and N.C.O.S., Pendleton and Salford, North Manchester, Denton and Dis., Ardwick and Manchester and Dis., and Eccles and Dis. C.B.S. There was an increase in the entry over last year, which is going on in the right direction. At the same time, there is plenty of room for twice as many exhibits, particularly in the Yorkshires, where there was a very liberal classification. Yorkshires were few in each class, but very choice indeed, and some really fine birds were shown. Norwich were good indeed in both champion and amateur and novice sections, and some of the very best were there. The three Border classes were very nice, and quite held their own. A marked improvement is to be seen in the Hybrid and British sections amongst our Manchester friends. These sections made a very creditable display, and would do justice to any open show. All-round excellence was seen, and if these Manchester enthusiasts keep on as they are doing, they will make a name in the open ere long. The management was of the best, with Messrs. Spencer and Boothman acting as hon. secs. Plenty of old faces were seen at the show, and right pleased were they to see so good a show. Special for best birds were won by Messrs. W. Redgard, E. Durnford, E. Dunn, Ainsworth Bros., J. Critchley, A. E. Long, T. Blease, A. Darnley, R. J. Metcalfe, and L. H. Walker. Mr. A. G. Davies judged open and amateur Canary classes, and Mr. Moulton the remainder, and their awards were very well received.

"CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

BISHOP AUCKLAND.

Show held in the Mitre Hotel, Dec. 21, with a view to getting together the bird fanciers in Bishop Auckland, and from the way the show was patronised there would seem every possibility of having another show before long. Special prizes were given by Messrs. Elderton, Sant, Wood, A. Watson, and Miss Cunningham. The secretarial duties were ably carried out by Mr. Chambers, and the treasurer, Mr. Tees, Mitre Hotel. Mr. J. Atess judged, and his awards met with every approval.

NOR. CK.: 1, sp, 3, vhc, Parkin, leader cl. buff, A1 qual. cf feather, easy win; 3rd, self gr., rather long side to winner; 2, Button, cl. yell., good col., fails a bit in head and chest to winner. HEN: 1, sp, Chambers, grand yell., Shilton 2nd, 2, Crowther, cl. buff, not quite the qual. of leader; 3, W. Rutherford, variegated, buff, grand size, lacks tightness of feather. UNFLIG.: 1, sp, sp. for best in show, Rutherford, variegated, yell., shown in faultless condition, easy win; 2, Parkin, good colour and type, but fails in head to leader, 3, Chambers, saddle mkd., not nicely tcd; 4, Rutherford. YORKS: 1, 2, Crowther, cl. buff, A1 in qual., stand well on perch; 2nd, cl. yell., good bird, fails in neck to winner; 3, 1, Elliott, cl. buff, good bird, rather short in length to leaders. A.O.V.: 1, sp, 3, Hugill, grand Crest, well known; 3rd, green Plainhead, loses in head and body; 2, Rutherford, variegated, C.B., had to give way to leader, good head and body. BRIT. SMALL: 1, sp, 3, Parmaby, Goldfinch, very steady, good tan and blaze; 3rd, nice Chaffinch, very steady; 2, Rutherford, yell. Greenfinch, grand size, rather soft when judged; 4, vhc, Welch, Greenfinch and Linnet.

STOCKSBRIDGE.

Members' show, held Dec. 28th, at headquarters, the National Schoo.s, which are of good light, spacious, and cosy. Upwards of 90 birds were benched, amongst them some really choice specimens, birds that have done well at various shows this season. The society is not large, but is an enthusiastic one, a matter of 30 members all told being on the books. A very pleasing item to record is the very generous support tendered by the "natives" of the village. Many special prizes, besides capital donations in hard cash, poured in at very frequent intervals. The chairman, Mr. W. Moore, is the right man in the right place, and controls admirably, and at the same time is a true fancier. Hon. sec. and treas. is Mr. G. L. Sampson. One would find it most difficult to locate a more courteous and hard-working official. Committee, Messrs. W. Moore, R. Howe, S. R. Senior, T. Hoyle, A. Crapper, W. Hoyle, T. Birkhead, F. Hoyle, A. Oates, E. Oates, and F. Bainbridge. All are workers, and give of their best for the welfare of their society. One face we missed, that of Mr. H. E. Wilkinson (the pioneer of this society), now in far-away New Zealand, where he is doing capitally. The staging was very neatly carried out, and the management throughout excellent. In the open British Mr. R. D. Parlett won well with his noted Hawfinch. The special winners (members) are as follows: Best in show, best Unflig. Yorkie, best Yorkie, old bird, Mr. G. L. Sampson, with magnificent exhibits, staged in absolutely the highest possible trim, also 2nd best in show (same owner), all a credit. Best Unflig. Nor., best Nor., old bird, and hottest fed, Messrs. Howe and Senior, with splendid specimens, possessing true characteristics. Best Novice, Mr. Tattersall. Best Nat. Col. Nor., Mr. Watts. Yorkies, Messrs. A. and E. Oates. Judging was over in good time. Credit is due to the trio of able stewards, who practically and promptly officiated, these being Messrs. W. Hoyle, T. Hoyle, and W. Moore. Mr. J. C. Barnes (Sheffield) judged, and his pacings gave every satisfaction.

The Critique.

YELL. YORK. (3): 1, sp, 2, 3, Sampson, leader a very lengthy and upstanding cl., beautifully fed and clothed; 2, not the largest, full of character, very promising youngster; 3, well up, nice col. and feather. BUFF (4): 1, vhc, Sampson, cl., stands nicely, good back and wing carr., clever legs; 2, 3, Elliott, lovely salmon-tinged col., straight up, lengthy, stronger; 3, capital qual., good length, bit down in condition. YELL. HEN (3): 1, 2, Elliott, brace of charmers, 1st, mkd. wing, straight as a pencil, tight as a Java, clever legs, gem; 2, cl., full of col. and qual., A1 pos., close up; 3, Sampson, thigh tick, all there, but rather on the small side. BUFF (3): 1, 2, Elliott, couple of smart damsels, cl. and tkd. neck, both lovely feather, A1 position and length, winner best filled in neck; 3, Sampson, cl., rich col. and qual., neat expression of head, loses in style, age telling a bit. YELL. UNFLIG. (6): 1, sp, Sampson, mkd. head, stands like a Guardsman, feathered to perfection, lengthy, and on clever legs; 2, 3, Elliott, cl., fine long upstanding bird, good col., hardly so smooth in feather, yet a grand baby; 3, cl., red hot, lengthy, stands well, not tight; vhc, Watts. BUFF (7): 1, 2, vhc, Sampson, nice team, cl., good feather, fine outline, lengthy, and well on leg; 2, mkd. wings, smooth as wax, A1 position, capital back and wings, close up; 3, hc, Elliott, mkd. wing, good position, nice length, superb feather, not so close in texture; Nos. 1, 2, Elliott, abs. NAT. COL. (2): 1, 2, A. and E. Oates, cl. and var. respectively, nice feather, fair length and position. YELL. NOR. (9): 1, sp, 3, vhc, hc, Howe and Senior, a quartette of good ones, cl., fine subs. and shape, rare feather and col., grand carr.; 3, var., silky feather, good col., rattling body and wing carr., clean cut; 2, Bainbridge, cl., nice qual. and col., good shaped body, a little wanting in head and neck; c, Moore. BUFF (6): 1, sp, c, Howe and Senior, cl., shapely, A1 feather, ablaze, nice size, jaunty carr.; 2, 3, vhc, Bainbridge, var., well up in size, good col. and feather, nice head and neck, close up; 3, shapely, A1 quality, but not the col. or subs.; hc, Moore. YELL. HEN (5): 1, Bainbridge, var., smooth as glass, cobby, not of the biggest, but of the smartest; 2, Hoyle, var., again rather small, not quite so good in col. as 1st; 3, Tattersall, cl., rather too small for present-day requirements; No. 2, W.C. cock; No. 3, abs. BUFF (6): 1, Hoyle, cobby, cl., tight as a Java, good col. and meal, clean all through, bonny; 2, Tattersall, mkd. shoulder, very close up indeed, near on equal merit; 3, hc, c, Bainbridge, larger, not bad shape, but too free in feather; vhc, Moore. YELL. UNFLIG. (2): 1, Moore, mkd. head, red hot, good head and neck, nice chest, neat wing carr.; 2, Hoyle, shapely cl., nice size and qual., moves well, beaten little in col. BUFF (10): 1, Howe and Senior, bouncing cl., silky texture of feather, shapely, rattling stock bird; 2, c, Tattersall, cobby cl., clothed nicely, good carr., not subs. or col.; 3, vhc, hc, Bainbridge, mkd. head, ablaze in col., A1 feather, longer in barrel, flights, and tail. NAT. COL. (9): 1, Watts, var. yell., nice shape and qual.; 2, 3, vhc, Hoyle, cl. buff and var. yell. in the order, former shapely and of good feather, rather small; latter capital qual., nice head and neck, too lengthy in body, wings, and tail; hc, Moore. In this class four birds were passed as having been "too near the pepper-box." BRIT. (7): 1, 3, hc, Howe and Senior, good Goldie, with a lovely blaze leading, neat buttons and bars; 3, smart Linnet, well mkd.; 2, vhc, c, Watts, Chaff, in fair condition, good colour. OPEN: BRIT. HARD. (7): 1, 2, hc, Parlett, Hawfinch, magnificent shape and size, exquisite col. and qual., grand bib; 2, slashing Bramble, rattling ground co.., fine size and shape, distinctly and most prettily ticked, gem; 3, vhc, c, Falding, Corn Bunting, well up in size, possessing capital col. and moonings, staged delightfully.

CLITHEROE C.B.S.

Annual members' show, held in the National School, Dec. 14. Entries numbered 122, about the same as last year. The benching arrangements were admirable, and the judging was satisfactorily carried out by Mr. A. Hirst, Accrington. A silver cup, given by Dr. Barker, for the best unflighted bird, was won outright by Mr. L. Grainger. The cup carries with it a gold medal, given by the society. Mr. J. Barnes won the gold medal for the best old bird, and Mr. W. A. Demain medal for the best B.it. or For.; Mr. L. Grainger the special for the best 4th prize; and Mr. G. Bell for best vhc.; Speak Bros. for best bird shown by a member who has joined the society this year. CL. YELL.: 1, Barnes; 2, 4, Grainger; 3, Bell. DALTON AND DISTRICT C.B.A.

Second annual show, held Dec. 14, in Market Street Hall, Dalton-in-Furness. There was a distinct improvement in the number of entries from last year, 113 birds being staged. The judging was efficiently performed by Mr. P. J. Davies, of Millom, whose awards were satisfactory to all concerned. The attendance was not worthy of the show, but the members are hopeful that their efforts will be more appreciated on the next occasion, as the improvement made in the various members' classes was commented upon by many of the friends of the Fancy who visited the show.

HYDE AND DISTRICT C.B.S.

Twentieth annual members' show, held Dec. 14 at St. George's School, Church Street, Hyde, which is a very good room for the purpose, being quite free from draught. The exhibits (135) were rather less than last year, but the quality was considerably improved. Bird and cage for winning admission ticket number was won by 395, the six free memberships being Nos. 302, 5, 120, 265, 131, and 331. Mr. J. Raynes, Chorlton-cum-Hardy, judged, and gave general satisfaction.

LEEDS.

Members' show held December 26th, in the St. George's School, which is of good light, spacious, nicely heated, and absolutely void of draughts. The entry was capital, upwards of 200 birds. Novice Yorks contained some well known winners, Messrs. Marshall Bros. claiming two nests with birds that captured the Ramsden's rose bowl and award merit at the recent L.C.B.A. show; both are "clinkers." Mr. E. Hattersley's white Canary, 3rd Bradford Nat., was scrutinised very fully by all present. Many valuable trophies were being competed for. Winners of these for most points throughout the year at the various shows, are as follow: Leeds cup, Messrs. W. A. Wilson (secretary) and L. Norton (treasurer) tied, 33 points each, and arranged, we believe, each to hold cup six months; Norwich gold medal, W. A. Wilson; Brit. ditto, J. Owen; Yorks. medal, E. C. Hall; Malcolm Kitchen Cup, best 1912 bred by member, H. J. Mennard, with a most promising cl. yell. Nor. Mr. E. Norton (treasurer) is a true fancier, and a proved asset. Mr. W. A. Wilson, the worthy sec., is the "right stuff," a capital controller, most courteous and obliging, full of experience, and master of his job. All the club shows have been under his guidance, and each has been a success financially. Mr. H. J. Mennard, chairman, is "one of the old school," known to a nicety how to manipulate matters, is a worker, and the "right metal" for this very important office. Staging was of a neat order, every bird could be seen at a glance. The Stewards, who are worthy of all praise, were Messrs. J. Chambers, E. Hattersley, and W. Marshall. Unfortunately, the weather no doubt kept many visitors away. Judging was over in good time, and the awards were well received. Mr. J. C. Barnes, Sheffield, adjudicated.

The Critique.

YORKS. YELL. (7): 1, Chew, mkd. neck, lovely outline, lengthy, full of qual., clever legs; 2, 3, hc, Hall, nice team, leader four-pointed, warm col., stands well, shade shorter; 3rd, mkd. wing, ablaze, lengthy, good position, hardly style; 4, Sykes; vhc, Norton; c, Baldwinson. BUFF (7): 1, 3, Hall, neat brace, 1st mkd. head and wing, smooth as a Java, straight as a pencil, very lengthy; 3rd, cl., very lengthy, well clothed, stands upright, stouter; 2, Farrar, cl., capital qual., nice position, good back, close up; vhc, c, Rhodes; hc, Sykes; 4, McDade. YELL. HEN (11): 1, 4, Norton, wonderfully lengthy cl., delightful position and feather, well on leg; 4th, slim and upstanding, silky feather, draws a little in neck; 2, Farrar, cl., neatly drawn, nice length, very promising, unflig.; 3, Sykes, cl., tight as a Java, good position, not the length; vhc, Hall; hc, Baldwinson; c, Chew. BUFF (11): 1, 2, Norton, bonny cl. leading, closely followed by a head mkd., both of A1 qual., type and character; 3, 4, Chew, cl., lovely col., well up, shade short; 4th, cinn. mkd. wings and eye, superb feather, nice position, not far away; vhc, Rhodes; hc, Hall; c, Farrar. YELL., 1912 BRED (9): 1, Chew, with a very smart and stylish cl., lengthy and leggy, should come out well; 2, Farrar, cl., shade more length, stands finely, hardly so good in neck, yet one we liked; 3, 4, Norton, both cl., former rare length, fine position, has a habit of crossing wings; 4th, full of col., superior feather, well up, worth its place; vhc, Rhodes; hc, Hall; c, McDade. BUFF (13): 1, Sykes, mkd. wings and eyes, smooth as a bottle, rare lengthy specimen, stands like a guardsman; 2, 4, c, Hall, mkd. wing, not a feather misplaced, grand type, just beaten in length; 4th, cl., rich col., stands grandly, washed out in neck or would have been higher up; 3, Norton, cl., nice position and length, well gowned, clever legs, not far behind; vhc, Farrar; hc, Baldwinson. YELL. NOR. (8): 1, Livingstone, mkd. head, short and thick, capital col., feather and subs.; 2, vhc, Moir, mkd. wing, hot as a stove, true type, good carr., not the size; 3, 4, Johnson, cl., nice qual. and col., well up in size, not quite so shapely; 4th, massive var., fair type, A1 qual., pale in colour; hc, Mennard; c, Wilson. BUFF (11): 1, 2, Wilson, both cl., former the Rotherham winner, looking well, rare size, shape, col., and feather; 2nd, beaten a little in subs. only; 3, hc, c, Mennard, well fed and well clothed cl., very shapely, not the size, yet good one; 4, vhc, Johnson, var., fine subs., nice feather, grand one for stock. YELL. HEN (7): 1, hc, Wilson, delightfully moulded cl., rich col. and qual., neat carr., charmer; 2, 3, Mennard, grandly clothed clears, former not quite so deep fronted as winner, latter shade longer in barrel, flights and tail; 4, Livingstone, mkd. tail, cobby, good col. and feather, promising; vhc, Moir; c, Hattersley. BUFF (12): 1, W. A. Wilson, cl., short and thick-set, smooth as a Java, moves gracefully; 2, 4, W. Wilson, mkd. wings and head, A1 feather, nice col., plenty of size, not so cobby; 4th, cl., good in qual. and col., rare size and shape, soft or would have been higher up; 3, Moir, cl., silky feather, rich col., capital body, wanting in head and neck; vhc, Mennard; hc, Johnson; c, Hattersley. UNFLIG. YELL. (6): 1, 4, Mennard, leading with a grand cl. of good subs., shape and col., A1 carr.; 4th, cl., nice col. and feather, neat head and neck, longer in barrel; 2, Moir, mkd. neck, ablaze, well clothed, shapely, not size; 3, vhc, Livingstone, var., good head and neck, bold fronted, crosses wings, tells against it; hc, Johnson. BUFF (10): 1, vhc, W. A. Wilson, cl., smooth as a bottle, delightful shape and col., very promising; 2, 3, Johnson, mkd. wing, better, good size and shape, not so good in texture quite; 3rd, var., shapely, A1 col. and feather, not so large; 4, hc, Mennard, mkd. wing and head, A1 qual., nice col.; c, Hall. A.O.V. (1): 1, Hattersley, white Canary, in lovely trim. LINNET (8): 1, 2, 4, Owen, fine trio, well up in size, rattling shape, qual., and col., profusely and distinctly penciled, 2nd, not quite so large, yet a gem, 4th, shapely, nice qual., not the markings or col.; 3, hc, Hattersley, nice shape and size, steady as a top, neat markings, not far away; c, Kay. GOLDIE, ETC. (12): 1, Hattersley, Bullie, fine shape and size, large and well cut cap, dense and bright, rich breast col.; 2, vhc, Owen, Goldie, capital shape and size, large and lovely blaze, pressed hard; 3, Waind, Bullie, not a feather wrong, not quite so bright in breast, yet bonny; 4, Gath, Goldie, shapely and of good col. and qual., not so large; hc, Middleton, c, Kay. REDPOLL, ETC. (9): 1, Hattersley, Mealy Redpoll, rare size and shape, A1 col., delightfully mkd.; 2, 3, vhc, hc, Owen, Twite and Lesser Redpoll, both full of merit and well staged, treat to observe; 4, c, Middleton, Mealy Redpoll, not quite the size or markings as 1st, still one we liked. A.O.V. (11): 1, 3, c, Hattersley, Whitethroat, magnificent form, grandly shown; 3rd, Bearded Tit, in the pink of condition and put down in style; 2, 4, Kay, Snow Bunting and Starling, both in wonderful form, credit to owner; vhc, hc, Owen. MULE (6): 1, Owen, very smartly shaped and good coloured Lin.-Can., A1 qual., wins; 2, Smithson, dark Gold.-Can., rich in col. and qual., nice face and good size; 3, Kay, Goldie-Greenie, in rare order, shapely, nice col. and feather; 4, vhc, Middleton, buff, dark Gold.-Can., nice shape and size, good col. and character; hc, Hattersley. NOV. YELL. YORKS. (13): 1, hc, Marshall Bros., cl., straight as a rush, capital feather, well on leg, wins; 2, Graham, cl., feathered to perfection, nice position and length, too proud to show correctly; 3, Ellis, cl., stands well, good col. and feather, beaten in expression of head; 4, Storey, cinn. var., nice feather and col., good length, hardly position; vhc, Reed and Longley; c, Chew. BUFF (7): 1, 2, Marshall Bros., cl. and mkd. eye respectively, leader a gem all over, and could win on many occasions in open competition; 2nd, good in feather, nice length and position, hardly the style; 3, Chew, mkd. wing and head, lengthy and well on leg, stands all right, bit free in feather around thighs to-day; 4, Reed, mkd. eye, straight up, well clothed, strong enough; vhc, Storey; hc, Oates; c, Storey. HEN (16): Grand class; 1, Storey, smart and full of nerve, cl. yell., lengthy, grand back and wing carr.; 2, vhc, Reed, cl. buff, smooth as wax, nice length and stand, clever legs, close up; 3, 4, Chew, yell. mkd. wings and eyes, and buff mkd. wing, full of character, and not far behind, in the pink; hc, Marshall Bros.; c, Oates. UNFLIG. (18): Rare lot; 1, Dennison, gem of a cl. buff, tight as a Java, should make a gem; 2, Beckwith, smart and stylish cl. yell., lengthy, well on leg, very promising; 3, c, Chew, cl. buff, true type, feathered grandly, not of the longest; 4, Gath, cl. yell., stands nicely, lengthy, not so tight in feather; vhc, Marshall Bros.; c, Chew.

BUSH HILL PARK.

Annual show, held Dec. 28th, in the Avenue Hall, a place none too well lighted. The few classes provided were well filled. Norwich led the way with the best class seen here. The challenge cup for best in show was deservedly won outright by Mr. Salter, and the cup for second best went to Mr. Jauncey. The committee consists of many well-known fanciers, who one and all rendered capital assistance. Mr. Page was a very capable secretary, and had in Mr. Briars an able assistant. Mr. A. E. Enfield judged.

YORKS: 1, 2, 3, Jauncey, nice trio, winner, cl. yell., good length, narrow shoulders, nice wing carr. NOR. (12): Cup, 1, 2, 3, vhc, Salter, 1st, cl. yell., very level in col., good shape, neat head and tail; 2nd, yell. mkd. neck, nice qual. of feather, good head, trifle long in tail; 3rd, a rare shaped variegated yell.; res, Jauncey; vhc, Greenland, Jauncey. NON-FED: 1, 2, 3, res, Jauncey, nice team, well staged. PAIRS: sp, 1, 2, 3, Salter, all Crests and Crest-bred; leader, well dropped crest, matched to a good skulled hen, well browed, and plenty of feather; 2nd, crest trifle open in centre, but good size; res, Sexby, very good pair of Yorkies. GOLDIE, ETC.: 1, 2, 3, res, Briars, winner fine bold Greenie, fine level feather; sound col.; the remainder Bullies, 2nd best in size and cap. OTHER BRIT.: 1, 2, 3, Briars, really good Redpoll, nice bib, clinker for markings and col.; 2nd, dense col., good markings; 3rd, Siskin, small bib, nice flank markings; res, Jauncey, capital Bramble.

PERCY MAIN AND DIST. C.B.S.

Fourth annual show, held in the Social Club, Dec. 21st. Entries were up to the usual standard, 174 in 22 classes, and some very good birds were on view. The show arrangements were ably carried out by Mr. Couchman, president, and a hard-working committee, composed of Messrs. Armstrong, Beckwith, Errington, and others. Mr. G. W. Keedy, the secretary, had everything well in hand, and is the right man for the position. Mr. Patterson won sp. for best bird in open members; Mr. Johnson sp. for most points in open classes. We are assured that the show will be a success. Mr. H. Seely, Choppington, was the judge, and his awards seemed to please all.

PREPAID ADVERTISEMENTS

UNDISPLAYED.—6d. for the first eighteen words. One Halfpenny per Word for each word over eighteen. Name and address to be reckoned. MINIMUM, 18 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and, after the first Eighteen words, are charged at two words a penny, but no single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 6d., 9d., 1/-, 1/6, according to size.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Small prepaid advertisements of a general nature and not connected in any way with the Cage Bird Trade are inserted at the rate of ½d. per word throughout. Minimum 12 words 6d.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

REPEATING OF ADVERTISEMENTS

Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous Issue, Page, and Column are stated by the advertiser.

Advt. Manager. "Cage Birds."

ALWAYS USE OUR DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers in all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient, plus the extra postage incurred, has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller, stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting question of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

LIKE THE FLOWERS THAT BLOOM

in the spring, so do these amateur cage-makers and cheap jacks crop up (and wither away), and owing to the miserable rubbish that is being put on the market, we should like to mention that our pierced bars do not consist of common sheet tin cut into strips, and holes bodged through with a nail, neither do we make misleading statements. Our bars are as follow: Best mild steel tinned, size 18 gauge thick, by 6½ gauge wide, and pierced anything from 1-16 up to 1½ inch, and as the holes expose the raw material, they will rust inside if not wrapped up, and statements to the contrary should be taken with a pinch of salt, and any reader of CAGE BIRDS who may have any bars on hand, if he will send a stamped envelope, I will give him a method to solder them as easy rusty as they would bright. Wishing all readers a Prosperous New Year, and shall be pleased to see them either at my residence, 220, or at our works: William Pimm, 262, Icknield Port Road Birmingham to a bird dealer's establishment is often a matter of impossibility, but this need not make the slightest difference to you if you place your order with me, as I send everything I sell on approval at my own risk, either on receipt of cash or "Cage Birds" deposit system, and unless fullest satisfaction is received, birds only have to be returned, and back comes the whole of your money. I now have a splendid stock of genuine Worcestershire cock Goldfinches in perfect health and condition, and thoroughly on hard seed, at 2/- each, three 5/-, six 9/-. Few specially selected cocks, well caged, steady and in free song, 3/- and 4/- each, three 7/6; few genuine exhibition specimens, with full complement of show points, 5/- and 7/6 each. (Please note: Real cocks cannot be sold at less than above prices.) Hen Goldfinches, 1/- each, three 2/6; splendid lot netted cock Bullfinches, in faultless plumage, 2/- and 3/- each; hen Bullfinches, 1/- and 1/6 each; grand lot of genuine cock Linnets, every bird warranted rose red-breasted, 9d. each, three 2/-, six 3/6, twelve 5/-; specially selected larger cocks, for muling or contest singing, 1/- and 1/6 each, three 2/6, six 4/-; exhibition specimens, 2/6 each; magnificent lot of netted cock Siskins, in pink of health and feather, 2/- each, three 5/-, six 9/-; specially picked steady cocks, in song, 2/6 each; few exhibition specimens, yellows, with large bibs, 5/- and 7/6 each; Hen Siskins, 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/-, twelve 7/-; cock or hen Redpolls, 8d. each, three 1/6. Few very large red-breasted cock Redpolls, 1/- each; handsome lot cock Skylarks, all big, bold Worcestershire birds, not French flight birds, 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; specially selected steady cocks, in song, 1/-, 1/6, and 2/- each; cock Greenfinches, 6d. each, three 1/-, six 1/6; special travelling cages, 3d. per three birds extra. Linnet, Goldfinch, Bullfinch, and Lark cages, 6d. each, 5/- dozen. For full list of trap-cages and catching appliances, send stamp. Please note, all birds are guaranteed to have been properly netted in County of Worcestershire, by catchers employed solely by myself, and none are sent out until feeding freely and well on the usual seed mixtures, no soaked or crushed seeds being necessary for birds purchased from me. I guarantee sex in every instance, and if you do not happen to be an expert in sexing birds yourself, nothing would please me better than for you to have my birds judged by a competent man. See Roller Canary column for testimonials, etc.

SOFTBILL keepers, take expert advice before proceeding to buy and keep the larger species of Insectivorous birds. You will then have no trouble in keeping your pets in the best of health. This advice is offered in "Nutshell No. 26," by H. J. Fulljames. It is a wonderful little work, dealing with most varieties in a highly interesting and instructive manner. Foods and their preparation, and the various styles of cages also receive full attention. Can you breed Mealworms? This booklet tells you how. Post free, 2½d., from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Look at our list of agents; call on the nearest and get it for 2d.

CAN I OFFER YOU

anything fairer than a most cordial invitation to come and inspect my stock? You need not announce your visit. Come on any day but Sunday, my rooms will be open, and you can rest assured of a very hearty Yorkshire welcome. I have 12 large rooms stocked from ceiling to floor, and you will be speedily convinced of the truth of my claim to have

The Largest and Finest Stock of High-Class Birds in the United Kingdom.

As regards the quality of my stock, see reports of Scottish National, Shipley, Loughborough, and other Champion Shows in this and last issue.

I am now in a position to offer really marvellous value in Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Border Fancies, Mules, Lancashires, and other varieties as follows:—

CHAMPION YORKSHIRES.

15/-, 20/-, 25/-, 30/- per pair.

Yorkshire Cocks, grand lengthy birds, with good position, feathered to perfection, and in full song, 5/6, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6 each upwards.

Grand racy hens, splendid type and feathered like wax, 3/-, 4/-, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 8/6, 10/- each upwards. Matched Pairs, correctly mated for breeding winners and sex guaranteed, 8/6, 10/-, 12/6, 15/-, 17/6, 20/-, 25/-, 30/- per pair. I can supply these in Clears, Ticks, Green Marked, Cinnamon Marked, or Self Greens.

WINNING YORKSHIRES.—I have a few real gems ready for immediate benching, sure winners at small Shows, at 15/-, 17/6, 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 35/-, 40/-, 45/-, or 50/- each, Cocks or Hens. These can win their cost in prize money, and will make reliable breeding birds at the end of the show season.

I have also a few real toppers, able to hold their own in hottest open competition. Kindly state wants. The following are taken from scores of Testimonials recently received, and which considerations of space alone prevent me from publishing:—

4 FIRSTS, 4 SECONDS, 5 THIRDS, and DIPLOMA.

Adelaide Road, Dublin, Dec. 25, 1912.—I am writing to thank you for the birds you sold me last January. They have bred me some capital youngsters. This is my first year as a breeder and exhibitor, and I consider the following results extra good: 4 Firsts, 4 Seconds, 5 Thirds, 9 Fourths, and Diploma for best bird shown by a novice at the Y.C.C. of Ireland's Show. All the birds I have exhibited have been bred from birds I purchased from you.—Robert McKeon to Joe Thomas.

2 FIRSTS.

Baigonie Terrace, Fife, Dec. 23, 1912.—I write to congratulate you for the birds you sent me. Our show was held on the 14th, and I got two Firsts with the two birds, beating all my local friends. Your birds deserve more than you claim for them. They are real gems, and I shall always recommend you to my friends.—Alex. Wishart to Joe Thomas.

To every customer I guarantee complete satisfaction or cash returned in full.

CHAMPION NORWICH PLAINHEADS. THE BULL-DOG STRAIN.

This strain needs no bounce. It has made a name for itself and is still going strong. (See reports of Scottish National, Loughborough, and other Champion shows in this and last issue.) My customers also are winning every week with birds supplied by me. Testimonials in proof of this are filed here for the inspection of all my visitors. I am now offering a few grand birds bred from my strain. Yellow or Buffs, Cocks or Hens, ready for benching and able to win their cost in prize-money; also real good Stock birds, for breeding own winners, at 10/-, 15/-, 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/-, 50/- each. I am also offering a few grand pairs, personally matched by me, at 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/-, 50/- per pair upwards. Strain guaranteed. I have a few grand birds from other strains, good thick-set birds, Cocks on full free song, at 6/-, 7/6, 8/6, 10/- each; Hens, grand smart-feathered birds, 3/6, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6, 10/- each. Fed good Sib. Hens for Light Muling, 4/-, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 10/- each.

HIGHLY-TRAINED ROLLERS.

Pure-bred Seifert or St. Andreasburg Roller cocks, direct from Germany, with good length of song and many changes, in fact, trained to perfection and in full rolling song by day and gaslight, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/- each; specially selected schoolmasters, at 20/-, 25/-, 30/- each; hens, guaranteed same strain, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each; Cages, 3d. extra.

Siberian Cock Goldfinches, splendid birds for muling, 5/-, 5/6, 6/-, 7/6 each. Large Sib.-bred hens, 4/-, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 10/- each.

For full particulars of all other varieties, send a postcard for my Free Illustrated Catalogue.

Remember this, please; I send every bird on seven days' approval at my sole risk. I guarantee absolute satisfaction to every customer, or cash returned in full. Easy payments can be arranged to suit the convenience of Genuine Fanciers.

Important Purchase

who, like most others who do breed their own winners, are not the boasters, but the most modest people about their doings. I have had the young stock now for several years, and offer these as a reliable strain that anyone would do well to use. I will give name privately, and as a matter of good faith am enclosing it to Editor, as every all-England judge knows the name well. I will sell such, and only such, to those requiring them. But I have a wonderful collection outside this lot altogether that I should like purchasers to have on approval at following prices. Anyone may rely on me matching any with the same care as I would for myself. Purchase direct, and save intermediate profits and palpable falsehoods about strains. See what you pay for. Grand Norwich, colour-fed, specials, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- up, for show. You cannot procure anything like them at the price elsewhere. Other prices: Cocks, 5/6, 6/-, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 15/-, 20/- upwards. Hens, 2/6, 3/6, 5/- upwards. Pairs, for breeding, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 15/-, 20/-, 30/- upwards. Cages, 3d.

State what you require, show or stock bird, and a faithful description will be given. Detailed price list free.

W. RUDD, The Bird Specialist, NORWICH.

WILLIAM HINDMAN, 25, Sarah Ellen-st., Blackburn, breeder and exhibitor of Norwich has few good birds either single or pairs from 20/- to £3 10s.; approval. (358)

NORWICH Canaries, 1912, by C. A. House. Tells the fancier all that he needs to know to enable him to become successful as a breeder, and exhibitor of the Norwich Plainhead. The chapters on "Forming a Stud," and "How to Produce the Ideal" are worth the cost of the whole book many times over: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London.

FIFTY prizes at five shows (only times out) is not an easily accomplished performance, but my birds have achieved it this season. Winners bred from my famous strain are to be found all over the United Kingdom. A few grand pairs and odd cocks of superb type and quality to spare: J. Eckersley, 51, Francis-rd., Edgbaston, Birmingham. (353)

UNDOUBTEDLY, one of the best books available for Canary-lovers, is "Canary Breeding for Beginners," by Claude St. John. The title explains itself, and anyone who proposes to breed Canaries will find all the innumerable "kinks" in the business fully explained. Information worth pounds, and the cost is only 7d. post free; cloth bound 1/2, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST

strain, most amazing results last breeding season by purchasers of my champion Norwich, in almost every case a winner was bred; everywhere fanciers are talking about the almost marvellous results, such as no other strain ever will or can achieve. Scores of well known winners sold direct from my rooms, which contain the finest stud of Norwich only ever got together; champion stock pairs from 20/- to 60/-; single cocks and hens, yellow and buff, from 5/6 to 40/-; all small surplus stock sold to a well known dealer. The cream only in Norwich, with blood which tells; the proof you can test at a moderate figure, for the very highest class. Don't waste another season by picking up a bird here and there, a great mistake, but send direct to me and have a pair or single bird, which you can rely on breeding something out of the ordinary; send at once; see show reports. Kindly note: That grand buff, 1st Frome, pronounced by all who saw it a living wonder, and afterwards sold for £10, was purchased direct from Judge Silk, Whitstable. (351)

LOUGHRIDGE, 234, YORK-ST., BELFAST

Notice! 90 High-class Norwich Canaries, yellows and buffs, for sale; cocks from 6/- to 30/- each; hens from 5/- to 25/- each. (270)

DON'T WASTE MONEY

buying unreliable birds, when I offer splendid collection of noted strains at few shillings each; large cobby Norwich cocks, for breeding or song, 5/6, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, upwards; lovely hens, 3/6, 4/6, 5/6, 7/6; pairs, correctly matched for breeding, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/-. My birds are sold entirely upon their merits, and on approval willingly, or call any time; send for complete price list and approval terms; cold-room bred: R. Hanford, Osmaston-rd., Derby. (Same address 27 years.)

W. N. TURNER

WINNING NORWICH

CHILLCOTT'S ROLLERS

Owing to ill-health, Mr. A. G. Pattison, late of Gravesend, has disposed of all his Rollers to Mr. A. Chillcott, of 151, Southavenue, Southend. Most of the 1912 birds are bred from two £5 cocks, bought direct from Mr. Randall; these are bred from the champion cock claimed at club show by Dr. Read at £10. A few of these grand birds for disposal at reasonable prices; enquiries solicited. Some good stock cocks for sale from 12/6. (204) ever since I first introduced the Leipzig Roller to the English market, the demand for them has steadily increased, and now they have a far larger sale than all other strains combined. I have repeatedly said that they are absolutely the finest songsters in the Roller world, and I want you to test the truth of my statement by having one on a week's trial—an ordinary Roller at a higher price from elsewhere, test them side by side, and if in your opinion the Leipzig Roller is not far and away the better bird, return it to me and I will instantly refund the whole of your out-of-pocket expenses. I have nothing whatever to gain by making an offer like this unless I knew my birds were everything I say they are. At present I have an exceptionally large stock of genuine Leipzig Roller cocks, all in full song day and gaslight, with long, hollow and double rolls, sweet silvery trills, water-bubble runs, soft roulades, piccolo trills, jug-jug of Nightingale, bell, harp, flute and gong notes, etc., etc., and guaranteed entirely free from any harsh or discordant notes whatever, price 7/6 and 8/6 each. Special Bandmasters, which excel in the deep bass and hollow bell rolls, 10/6 and 12/6 each. Few genuine Glucke-bred contest Rollers, fit for immediate contesting, 15/- each. For those who like a loud noisy songster I have some splendid loud, vigorous singing Hartz cocks, in full song, price 5/6 each, three 15/-, seven 31/6. These are real ceiling-lifters, and just the thing for public bar or coffee tavern, where plenty of loud, noisy song is required. Roller cabinet cages, with loose fronts and folding doors, made specially for my Rollers, 2/6 and 3/6 each. Please note all are sent on full week's trial, either on receipt of cash, or if same is deposited with Editor of CAGE BIRDS, and unless bird gives every satisfaction, and realises your every expectation, back comes the whole of your money without question or comment. Please notice what my customers say about the Leipzig Rollers they have had:—"4, Brynmor, Lower Ince, Wigan, Jan. 2nd.—Sir,—Received Roller safely, and am well satisfied. He was not put into fresh cage 10 minutes when he started to sing grand.—Yours, E. Foreham." "Elderado-rd., Cheltenham, Jan. 2.—Sir,—I have now had the Bandmaster Roller a week, and must tell you I am very pleased with him. He has great power in sustaining the high full notes, and also has many beautiful changes, and as far as my knowledge goes, I believe he is very good on the Glucke.—Yours, M. Manley." "17, Henley-st., Lincoln, Jan. 4th.—Sir,—It gives me very great pleasure in acknowledging safe receipt of Roller this morning, and I admire you, especially in your promptness. The bird is a lovely songster, and commenced to sing almost as soon as I got it home, and continues to do so in quite a sweet and melodious tone. Its song and change of notes quite eclipses the ordinary Canary, and I am well satisfied. Again thanking you.—Yours, G. Moore." "104, Cherrytree-rd., Eccar, nr. Barnsley, Jan. 6th.—Sir,—Received Roller safely, and it started singing 15 minutes after arrival. I am well pleased with it.—Yours, W. Oakly." "Selby, Yorks, Jan. 3rd.—Sir,—Roller arrived quite safe, and I am delighted with him. Thanks so much for sending such a good one. Your advertisement is quite true to the letter.—Yours, A. Nettleton." "62, City-rd., Kilt Green, Pemberton, Wigan.—Sir,—The Bandmaster you sent me fortnight ago has turned out a marvel; he has got some grand notes with him, and I am very pleased with it, and thank you for the way you treated me.—Yours, R. Mather." Hundreds more letters similar to above filed for inspection any time. All genuine Leipzig Rollers are stamped on wing, "Hans Weber, Leipzig," and I am the only importer of them, so send orders direct to ensure getting the real thing. See British Bird column. (362)

Do you Want THE VERY BEST?

Then place your orders with the old reliable breeder, who breeds his own winners year after year, and can therefore give you the best value for your money.

It is not the price you pay, but the value you get, that makes it a bargain.

I only ask for a trial order, and if you will allow me to send any on approval, and compare with any other I shall esteem it a favour.

See show reports all through season and judge for yourself the quality of my strain of Yorkshires. A few of the honours I have secured this season: Diploma for best Yorkshire at Newcastle; diploma best green mark at Bradford National; diploma best Canary over all other varieties Gateshead; special best Canary and best bird in show Launceston; special best Yorks Loughboro'; challenge cup Bolton Woods, winning same outright; and other honours too numerous to mention; and remember, I have won more first prizes this last few years than any other exhibitor at all the leading shows in the country; finishing up with more firsts than any other exhibitor at last Palace show.

Champion Yorkshire Cocks, fine length and splendid quality, yellows or buffs, at 6/-, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each. Hens, feathered like wax, any colour, at 4/-, 5/-, 6/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each. Properly matched unrelated Pairs, to breed own winners, at 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/-, 50/-, 60/- per pair. All guaranteed cold-room bred and kept, and possessing that bit of breed so much admired in a true Yorkshire. Colour-fed to perfection, and a few natural colour.

Price list and specimen testimonials from all quarters, post free. Inspection invited at any time. State wants; satisfaction guaranteed. All on seven days' approval, at my risk. Cash or deposit with paper. Travelling cages, 3d. extra. Exhibition cocks or hens. Now that the show season is drawing to a close, I have several recent winners in keenest competition for sale cheap, and others for members' and local shows from 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each. Easy payments to suit genuine fanciers.

Bennett, 14, Cumberland rd., Lidget-green, Bradford. (351)

WE STILL HAVE THEM

At Bradford National show we won silver cup for best Yorkshire, silver cup for most points, championship diploma for best Yorkshire, champion diploma for best in classes 1 to 10 (these are all the clears and ticks); half-guinea for best buffs lighted; half-guinea for best in all champion classes. We have a few pairs, same strain exactly, 10/6 per pair upwards. There is a good chance of these breeding a knock-out, as blood will tell. For proof of our strain, read the following (this is one of hundreds):—Dec. 3, 1912, 3, Grove Road, Redland, Bristol.—Dear Sirs,—I thought I should like to write and let you know I was 1st and 3rd in the bowl class at Bristol with your strain, 32 birds competing, winning the Bristol 10-guinea silver bowl with a young bird I bred 1912 from a pair supplied by you. The same bird also won the cup at another show in Bristol. Thanking you for all past favours. Very pleased to have found such honest fanciers.—Believe me, yours very sincerely, E. H. Stonehouse. Special invitation to any fancier, or birds sent on approval; stamp reply: Ogden Bros., Dudley-hill, Bradford.

AMBLERS' NOTED YORKSHIRES

Require no misleading bounce; there are none better in the Fancy; for over 30 years we have bred and sold some of the biggest champions shown, winning thousands of prizes and championships at leading shows, winning four 1sts, three 2nds, 3rd, 4th, and championship for best in show Crystal Palace, 1910-11; owing to spinal illness, have not shown this last season, but have sold some of the biggest champions out, which are proving unbeatable. We are only keeping a few for stock, so have a wonderful good lot of Yorkshires for sale, the best of type, full of style, and swagger, and feathered like wax, winners for keenest competition; pairs from 15/-, 20/-, 30/- upwards; hens, a few real gems, full of style and feathered to perfection, from 7/6, 10/6, 15/-, 20/-; few special stock pairs, the best living, which are seldom for sale; we guarantee satisfaction; approval; cash or deposit: Messrs. Amblers (late of Bradford and Morecambe), Langton Lodge, Scotton, Knaresboro', Yorkshire. (359)

INTER-CLUB SHOW.

The first of a series of inter-shows arranged by the Sowerby Bridge, Hebden Bridge, Heptonstall, Todmorden, and Calder Valley Ornithological and Cage Bird Societies was held Dec. 28 at the White Horse Hotel. There was a gratifying entry (112), and the show was well patronised by fanciers of the district. Much of the success attending the exhibition was due to Mr. J. H. Harrison, the inter-club secretary, of Regent-street, Hebden Bridge. There were some really meritorious specimens, and Mr. H. J. Chittenden, of Bradford, who adjudicated, found his duties arduous, but he gave every satisfaction with his awards.

Club Reports.

BLAYDON-ON-TYNE C.B.S.

At the annual meeting of the above there was a large turn out of members. The Secretary submitted balance-sheet, which showed a slight loss on last year's workings; however, the members decided to have another annual show on November 14th and 15th. Officers and strong Committee was appointed. —G. Harver, Secretary.

SUNDERLAND C.B.A.

Fortnightly meeting held January 4, Mr. J. Farrer presiding over a large attendance. The following were appointed stewards: Messrs. J. M. Walker, Proctor, Peacock, Gray, G. Davidson, C. Waters, Copeland, and Machin. A special meeting will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m., to draw for members' specials, and transact other open show business. All members are requested to attend.—J. Jeffrey, Sec.

BATHGATE C.B.S.

Meeting held in the Co-operative Hall, Dec. 28, Mr. R. Bald presiding. Agreed to hold an open show for British birds, Mules and Hybrids, and Foreign on Feb. 22, when it is hoped that fanciers will rally round and give us a bumper entry. Mr. J. Brown, Edinburgh, and Mr. Leigh, Warrington, were appointed judges. The classification was then gone over. This being all the business, the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman. —Alex. Nicol.

EAST BOWLING B.F.A.

Annual meeting held Jan. 3, in St. John's School. There was a good turn-up of members. Officers for 1913 were elected as follows:—Pres., Mr. B. Cowell; vice-pres., Dr. A. J. Wheatley, Messrs. A. Wilkinson, L. C. Casey, H. Shaw, W. Bleazard; chairman and treas., H. Calloway; auditors, Messrs. Hall and Shaw; sec., L. Booth. The rules as revised by the sub-committee were adopted. Members please note that competition for 1913 commences at the January show, Jan. 25. All fanciers in the district are invited to join early. Several specials are promised, besides the usual society's prizes.—L. Booth, Sec.

LONDON AND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION OF C.B.

Meeting held Janary 4, at headquarters, "Earl Cathcart," Osnaburgh Street, N.W., Mr. Cullers in the chair. The books were audited by Messrs. Pretty and Harrison, and found to be showing a good balance for the year. A table show of Yorks. was held, judge, Mr. W. Cullers. E. Pretty, 1, 2,; F. Harrison, 3. Mr. R. J. Pretty gave towards the new cup 2s. 6d. Decided to hold pair show on either 1st or 15th of February, if suitable to all members who were not present. Five new members were elected, in consequence of the report in CAGE BIRDS last week. We have still enough room for five more to come along next meeting. A hearty vote of thanks accorded to Mr. Cullers for presiding, closed a pleasant evening.—G. G. Stubbs, Hon. Sec.

LEEDS ROLLER C.C.

Annual general meeting, held Jan. 4, at headquarters. Mr. Best occupied the chair. Balance sheet for 1912 was presented, and showed a cash balance in hand of £11 7s. 5d., an increase of £8 6s. over the previous year. The election of officers was proceeded with next, the results being: Pres., Mr. H. Best; vice-presidents, Messrs. E. Peel, and J. W. Wild; hon. sec. and treas., Mr. H. L. Davis; auditors, Messrs. F. Barnett and A. C. Montague. After some discussion, it was decided to change the meeting night from Saturday to the first Monday in the month. The annual subscription next engaged our attention, and to bring same on a level with most other clubs, it was reduced to 3s. 6d. per annum. Decided to have an excursion during the coming year to some Roller Show, and if successful, to make it an annual affair. We shall hold one members' contest, Jan. 25, at 55, Briggate. There will be three classes, young birds rung and bred by exhibitor, any age, and £2 limit; entry fee, 6d.; exhibits staged 3 p.m. Mr. Walton judge.—H. L. Davis.

HAMILTON (Cadzow Oak) O.S.

Annual general meeting, held in the Town Hall, Dec. 14. There was a very good attendance. In the absence of the president, Mr. Jno. Braidwood, vice-pres. occupied the chair. The financial statement of the open show was read, and showed a balance of £13 14s. 0d. on the correct side, and this was considered very satisfactory. Next came the election of office bearers, Mr. Wm. Shearer being re-elected as president; vice-pres., Mr. J. Braidwood; Mr. Geo. Marlin, sec. and treas.; auditors, Messrs. W. S. Wilson and T. Morrison; committee, Messrs. T. Allan, S. Williams, J. Clark, P. Thomson, D. Johnstone, W. Hamilton, C. Pollock, R. Davidson, A. Watson, and W. Shearer, junr. The date of our next open show was fixed for November 8, and it was agreed to advertise in CAGE BIRDS, and also put in "Show Dates Fixed," to avoid clashing. Next meeting will be held on the first Saturday of Feb., for the nomination of judges and other important business. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Braidwood for occupying the chair, and this brought a very good meeting to a close.—Geo. Marlin, Sec.

SHEFFIELD C.B.S.

Monthly meeting held Jan. 2nd, in the Wentworth Cafe. Mr. F. Jones (pres.), in the chair. Our pres. wished every member a happy New Year. A hearty welcome was accorded our old friend Mr. T. Bishop, who had come to judge the Yorkshire classes at our matched pair show. Secretary was instructed to send a note of sympathy to our old member, Mr. J. Jennett, who is afflicted by a very serious illness, also to our treasurer, Mr. W. Oxley (who has held that office for something like 26 years) in the continued illness of his wife. We wish them both a speedy recovery. Messrs. Jones, Bingham, and Woolhouse kindly gave their prize-money won at the open show, to the open show fund. Decided that we have a draw on the same lines as the last, to augment the funds for our next open show, which will be in October instead of December as previously. Draw books ready at August meeting. The following kindly promised birds: Messrs. Tomlinson, Drabble, Champion, Thorpe, A. Hobson, Butler, Woolhouse, Torsby and Billard, White, Marcroft, and Jones. Decided to hold Nest Feather show June 28, and annual members' show Dec. 6. Judges will be announced later. The Montgomery Hall has been engaged. Decided to have three table shows for young birds on July, October, and November meeting nights; fixed prize money, 3s., 2s., 1s.; also a social on the March meeting night. A committee was appointed to deal with refreshments and programme (price of refreshments not to exceed 1s.). We hope to see all members and their wives. The show of matched pairs proved very interesting. Mr. T. Bishop judged Yorks., and Mr. T. Tow Nor. CHAMP. YORKS.: 1, hc, c, Butler; 2, Furness; 3, vhc, Thorpe; 4, Tomlinson. NOR.: 1, 2, hc, Cowley; 3, 4, vhc, Woolhouse; c, Fading. NOV. YORKS.: 1, 3, Carr; 2, Shumonitc. NOR.: 1, 4, vhc, Bailey; 2, White; 3, Sissons; hc, c, Marcroft. Next meeting Feb. 6, show for mating pairs, Hybrid pairs, and any variety British. Also information for novices and questions by ballot, with further information re the social. Messrs. A. W. Howarth and C. Tow were elected new members. Anyone joining next meeting is eligible to show. All are welcome. A hearty vote of thanks to the judges, Messrs. Bishop and Tom, brought the meeting to a close.—J. Woolhouse, Sec.

SUTTON-IN-ASHFIELD, EASTFIELD SIDE, C.B.S.

General meeting held at headquarters (Masons' Arms), 40 members attending. The balance-sheet was passed as satisfactory, a very good balance being left in hand. President and Vice-President re-elected, with Mr. A. Wright, Chairman, and C. Counah, Vice-Chair, J. J. Bradbury, Treasurer, W. H. Nuttall, Assistant Secretary, and 10 Committee men. Decided to hold Stock Pair Show in February and Odd Hens in March—R. Nuttall, Sec.

BRECHIN C.B.S.

Annual social, held in the Brown Horse Hotel, on December 21, Mr. Geo. Davidson, president, in the chair. After supper the usual loyal toasts were duly honoured. A lengthy programme was sustained by the various members of the society. A special feature of the evening was the competition for the president's prize for best suggestion with regard to how best to celebrate the Jubilee Show, to be held on November 1. Mr. Jas. Sangster's suggestion was adjudicated best, and awarded the prize. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought a very successful evening to a close. Geo. Mitchell, Sec.

CITY OF BELFAST NORWICH, CREST AND Y.C.C.

Annual general meeting, held in Clarence Place Hall, January 4, with a good attendance of members. The President, Mr. J. E. Adams, occupied the chair. Decided to make our young bird show a two day show. Several amendments were made to the rules, and two new members nominated. The following officers were appointed for the incoming year: President, Mr. Jas. E. Adams (re-elected); vice-president, Mr. Jas. Stewart (re-elected); secretary, Mr. John Barclay; treas. and Assist. Secretary, Mr. Walter Connell (re-elected); committee, Messrs. Carson, Teasy, Boyd, Bowman, Hunter, McPeake, and McBride.—John Barclay, Secretary.

CHESTER C.B.S.

General meeting held Nag's Head Cocoa Rooms, Dec. 30. Mr. F. C. Parker in the chair. Secretary submitted the balance-sheet for the year, which was accepted by the members present, who commented on the satisfactory position of the society, which was only started in January, 1912. Income for the year was £26 16s. 2d., and expenditure £21 9s. 6½d., balance in hand £5 6s. 7½d. Officers for 1913 were elected as follows:—Pres., Mrs. C. E. Way; vice-pres., Mr. S. Whitlow; chairman, Mr. F. C. Parker; vice-chair, Mr. J. Crane; treas., Mr. T. Jones; sec., Mr. R. S. G. Simpson; auditors, Messrs. F. C. Parker, and E. Richards; committee, Messrs. J. Dutton, R. N. Williams, W. Woodfine, T. Gardner, G. Wright. Messrs. G. Molyneux and W. Lavender were elected new members. A long discussion took place with reference to changing of clubroom, and it was eventually decided to call a special meeting in order to give every member a chance to express his opinion. Members will be advised when this meeting takes place, and it is desired that each member will endeavour to attend. —R. L. G. Simpson, Hon. Sec.

MATLOCK F.S.

Annual social and prize distribution, held Dec. 18, at Moore's Cafe. The attendance was very good considering it was just before Christmas, upwards of 50 showing their appreciation of the good things in store, and the presence of the fair sex adding a new charm to the evening. Mr. Boden, the ever obliging chairman, officiated, and presented the specials and prizes in his usual kindly manner. The Secs., Messrs. Poyser, and Dean, had provided an excellent musical programme, rendered most efficiently by Messrs. Wildgoose, Wright, Anderson, Fowkes, Bromley, and Dean, to whom a hearty vote of thanks was accorded, Mr. Wildgoose responding. Special prize winners were: Cup and medal, best bird in members, sp. best Hyb., C. Geale; res., for cup, 2nd best Nor. cock (old bird), best Nor., old hen, best unflighted buff Nor., best unflighted yellow Nor., and sp. most entries, W. J. Dean. Best member's in open, C. W. Lill; best Nor. ck., old bird, J. Else; best Yorks. ck., best Yorks. hen, T. Shaw; best Softbill, Brit., J. Ashton; best Hardbill Brit., J. S. Cooper. The bound volume of CAGE BIRDS, kindly presented by the Editor, was won by W. J. Dean, for best unflighted ycll. Nor.—W. J. Dean, Sec. (The above account reached us only this week.—Ed.)

WIMBLEDON C.B.S.

Meeting, held Jan. 6, at 6, The Broadway, Mr. W. H. Stoakley presiding, and the attendance was remarkably good, especially of the lady members, who numbered quite one-half of the total present. The most interesting business was the report presented by the secretary, Mr. H. Smith, of the eighth annual show held in November, which was better than ever before as regards entries and quality, as were also the arrangements for receiving and returning the birds, but the financial side was not quite so satisfactory, the first estimate showing a deficit of somewhere about £10. The attendance was not so good as in some previous years. The total estimated receipts amounted to £95 0s. 3d., and the expenses to £105 6s. 6d. The Chairman, briefly reviewing the situation, said, but for the fact that the general body of members had been somewhat apathetic with regard to the sale of tickets, and in giving assistance with the show work, it might have been as successful financially as all previous shows. But there was no reason to be discouraged, since happily they had plenty of funds in hand to meet the deficit; the only thing was for them to rouse up and show a more enthusiastic interest in the affairs of the society in future. Then they had reduced the entry fees for the open classes from 2s. to 1s. 6d., and there were circumstances which they could not control which had affected the show in various ways. Four new members were elected, and six ladies and gentlemen were nominated. Decided to hold pair show on February 4th, Mr. J. Robson judge, and schedule was arranged. Mr. S. Wright and Mr. F. J. Randall were elected auditors for the ensuing year. The very handsome challenge cup given by the Misses Liversage and Bodfish, for most points gained by a member in open Yorks. classes, and won by Mr. R. L. Crisp, was on show and greatly admired. A judging competition with Border Canaries was held, Mr. W. McGregor acting as final judge. The results were as follows:—Mr. Rorke, 8; Mr. Dyke, Mrs. Wilkes, Mrs. Mullis, Mrs. Owen, and Mr. Harris, 6 each.—H. Smith, Sec.

CITY OF BIRMINGHAM C.B.S.

Monthly meeting held at the "Crown Hotel," Hill Street, Dec. 11, Mr. J. A. Eckersley presiding. Secretary reported that he had paid prize monies won at our open show to non-members, and that he was prepared to pay out to members that evening, but regretted so few were present to receive same. Mr. Ryett was elected a member. Decided to again appoint Mr. Robson as one of the judges for Dec. 3rd and 4th next. Secretary reported that he had received three letters of resignation, and Mr. de Maillet promised to see Mr. Moles and get him to withdraw his resignation, as he said the present Secretary had written under a misapprehension. Four nominations were received for membership. The nominations for officers for 1913 were:—Pres., J. A. Eckersley, Esq.; Vice, Messrs. W. W. Butler, J. Webb, H. C. Wilkins, A. Broadhurst, J. H. de Maillet, W. C. Wells, and F. Peace; Chairman, Messrs. Broadhurst and De Maillet; Vice, Messrs. Broadhurst, De Maillet, Dipple and Peace; Treasurers, Messrs. Harvey, Allen, Collier and Day; Sec., Mr. J. H. Jones; Assist. Sec., Mr. Tipper; auditors, Messrs. Collier, Tipper, Childs and Clay; Committee Messrs. Allen, Baker, Bloomfield, Crowther, Derry, Dipple, H. Peace, Stevenson, Burke, Day, Collier, Raby, Clay, Hughes and Jeffrey; Hon. Auctioneer, Mr. R. C. Micklin; Hon. Vet. Surg.: Mr. L. S. Sedgwick, M.R.C.V.S. The annual meeting falling due on Jan. 1st, it was decided to postpone same to Monday, Jan. 13, when we hope a full muster will be present, as we wish to see a good strong board of officers elected.—J. H. Jones, Hon. Sec. (per J. H. de Maillet). This report only reached us this week.—Editor.

CLAPHAM AND DISTRICT C.B.A.

Annual general meeting, held January 6, at the Landor Hotel, Clapham. Decided to secure the services of the following gentlemen to judge at the 6th annual show, October 8th and 9th: Mr. J. Robson, Mr. H. Norman, Mr. J. Frostick, and Mr. A. E. Pattrick. The date of the Pair and Finch Show was fixed for February 22nd. The Secretary produced the balance sheet for the past year, which showed a cash balance in hand of £14 1s. 1½d., and the same was received and adopted. Messrs. W. H. Vale and Hy. Yeoman were again elected as chairman and vice-chairman respectively, and both expressed their thanks to the meeting in graceful well phrased speeches. Messrs. S. A. Sandy and C. Cooper were re-elected as honorary auditors, and the following members were made committeemen: Messrs. Askew, Warley, Whittome, Sexton, Emms, Yeoman, Clark, Silverthorn, Maxwell, Snook, Vale, Phillips, Campbell, Hose, Cooper, Healey, Barker, Wildbore, Osborne, Brighty, Priest and Masters. Mr. C. T. Maxwell was re-elected treasurer. Personally, however, I did not seek re-election as hon. secretary, and unfortunately up to the present the committee have not been successful in finding my successor. I earnestly hope, however, that some member will volunteer to help the committee out of their difficulty, and I would say—not with an idea of giving a false impression, but with the deepest sincerity, and the fullest conviction—that the position of secretary of this association is one to be regarded in no other light than in the fullest appreciation of the high honour which it gives to its holder.—A. R. Coe, Hon. Sec.

REVIEW OF SCHEDULES.

Many thanks for the beautiful drawing of my buff green Scotch Fancy in Cage Birds, last week, writes Mr. C. Farrow (Merthyr Tydfil). It has only been out twice this season, and was 1st at Merthyr and 1st and special at Pontrobach. I wish Cage Birds every success in the New Year.

I am only putting a small advt. in this time, as I have only a few birds for sale, but hope to make more use of your valuable paper another season, writes Mr. G. H. Pratt (Exmouth). Cage Birds has been a very great help to me, and no doubt accounts for some of my success on the show bench this season.

Mr. W. Nichols, 34, Beaconsfield Rd., St. Margarets, Twickenham, writes that in consequence of the announcement in our correspondence columns of last week "Members for the new society for Richmond and Dist. are sending in their names by every post. It is like advertising a Crystal Palace winner on approval at five shillings."

Your Calendar, writes Mr. J. P. Knight, scoutmaster, of Dalmellington Boy Scouts, is the neatest I have seen this year, and is admired by all who have seen it. I shall be very pleased to distribute copies if you will kindly forward same. Many of our boys are bird-lovers, and I try to make them take a keen interest, and so grow into fanciers of the future. I wish Cage Birds every success, and your staff a bright and prosperous New Year.

OBITUARY.

The hand of death has taken away from our midst the dearly beloved wife of Mr. J. Jeffries (Swansea) the esteemed British bird exhibitor and member of the Swansea C.B.S. The sad event took place on Jan. 6, after a very brief illness, lasting only five days. On behalf of the Swansea C.B. Society (writes Mr. S. H. George) we extend to Mr. Jeffries our deepest sympathy in the great bereavement he has suffered by the loss of one who was beloved by all who knew her.

Mr. H. Hughes, Birkenhead.

It is with much regret, writes Mr. G. Morton, the sec. Birkenhead C.F.A., that I announce the death of Mr. H. Hughes, one of our members, who died on Dec. 29, after only two days' illness. His death came as a great surprise to the fanciers in this district, as he was well and smiling at the Liverpool Amalgamated show only a week before, at which he was an exhibitor. He was a good example of the true British sportsman: win or lose, his manner never changed. His particular variety was Yorkshire Greens, and he always did his best to bring these birds forward. He was a successful exhibitor at every leading show in England and Scotland. I would like to convey to his sons and daughters the sincere sympathy of the members of the Birkenhead C.F.A., in their sad bereavement.

Last Saturday proved a very successful day for our show, writes Mr. J. W. Christon, sec. Annfield Plain and Dis. F. and F., C.B.S. We had all birds packed and sent off by 5 and 6 o'clock trains, and trust exhibitors received them safely. I beg to heartily thank them on behalf of committee, for grand support extended, and hope to retain same next year. At the same time, I thank you sincerely for the grand advt. inserted in your valuable paper. It did us a world of good.

Many thanks, writes Mr. W. Jeffries, for excellent sketch of my winning Goldfinch, "Leigh Gem," published in your issue of 21st ult. He has only been shown three times; wins as follows—1st Southend, 1st Tonbridge, 4th Luton, and with luck I hope to turn him out next season a top notcher. He was caught with several others by the water side here at Leigh. I have also a very good Linnet caught here same place. He was at Gravesend, 3rd Tonbridge, and, naturally, as these birds are local product, I am very proud of them. I wish you and all readers of Cage Birds a happy and prosperous New Year.

Yorkshire Union of C.B.S.

Meeting of the Council at the "Flying Dutchman," Leeds Road, City show, Bradford, on Jan. 11, at 5.15 o'clock prompt. Business: Important, writes Mr. H. Hill, the hon. secretary.

The Scots Fancies at Paisley.

Mr. W. Lambie writes that the awards in the yellow cock class, as given in the catalogue, were incorrect. They should read as in our report published in our show columns this week.

National British Bird & Mule Club.

Mr. J. P. Carr, the hon. sec., will be pleased to hear as soon as possible from members who have any propositions to make for the agenda of the annual general meeting to be held at the Palace on Saturday, Feb. 8.

Next Week. The Issue of the Season.

Eleventh Birthday Number

The Most Notable ever put before Bird Lovers.

Three Coloured Plates. Lovely Art Supplement.
A Galaxy of Pictures by the Best Artists.
A Budget of Interesting Contributions by Leading Aviculturists.

The manifold attractions of this magnificent issue can be but briefly outlined here. The mere mention of the names of a few of the distinguished bird-keepers who have contributed will, however, serve to convey at once some notion of the rich treat in store:—The Rev. C. D. Farrar, Messrs. H. D. Astley, M.A., F.Z.S., M.B.O.U., J. Frostick, J. Hodder, Claude St. John, H. Norman, W. T. Page, F.Z.S., C. T. Maxwell, W. E. Teichemaker, B.A., and G. E. Weston. In the art supplement will be found a choice collection of photographs of great interest. In addition, those favourite artists Messrs. H. Goodchild and H. Norman have specially executed some of the most delightful examples of their art it has ever been our pleasure to see.

A Sensation will be Created

BY ONE OF OUR COLOURED PLATES.

Nothing like it has ever been seen in the Cage Bird Fancy. We anticipate that its unique design and great permanent value will secure for it a storm of approval. This wonderful plate has been produced at great expense, and will alone be worth the cost of the whole issue. One final word: Don't Miss It!

There is certain to be a great demand for this, our eleventh, Birthday Number, and we ask all our readers to avoid risk of disappointment by ordering their copies AT ONCE from their newsagent.

ADVERTISEMENTS WILL CLOSE FINALLY ON TUESDAY, JANUARY 14TH, AND AS A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY FOR APPEALING TO THE LARGEST POSSIBLE NUMBER OF PURCHASERS OUR BIRTHDAY NUMBER HOLDS THE FIELD.

May we earnestly beg our friends not only to make certain of securing this number for themselves, but to tell all their bird-loving friends about it and advise them to secure a copy also.

Finally, remember all communications must reach us, at the very latest, first post Tuesday morning next, January 14th, and as the great amount of "copy" to be got through will entail a very heavy strain upon all departments, including our printers, we shall appreciate the early receipt of advertisements and all other communications intended for this great Birthday Issue.

Corrections in Show Reports.

In the class for var. buff hens at the Scottish Nat., 1st should read Sandison, not Grewar. At Newtownards Mr. P. Mulcahy took 1st in Linnet class, not c, as reported.

Well-Known Bird Dealer Suffers Through Alarming Fire.

We are sure that all bird-keepers will sympathise with Mr. Jeffrey Walsh, the well-known bird-dealer and judge, of Blackburn, who has suffered a severe loss by reason of a fire, which broke out upon adjoining premises on Jan. 5. The following account of the disaster has reached us:—

"An alarming fire broke out in the early hours of Sunday morning, Jan. 5, at the shop, 59, Penny St., Blackburn, occupied by Messrs. Gregson and Co., gunsmiths. The shop and contents were badly damaged. Mr. J. Walsh, bird specialist, who has his retail shop next door, has good cause to remember this fire. In the top room of his premises were 250 birds, all of which perished, being suffocated by the smoke. Amongst the birds were Yorkshires, Norwich, Crests, Crestbreds, Borders, Roller Canaries, Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins, Nightingales, Wrens, Blackcaps, Woodlarks, Skylarks and several varieties of Buntings, Whydahs, Waxbills, Shamas, Sugar Birds, Tanagers, Bulbuls, etc.; also a very valuable collection of Mules and Hybrids, including many winners. The total value of the dead birds is £250 and none of this loss is covered by insurance. The large stock of seeds, cages and appliances on the premises was badly damaged by smoke and water, but all this is fully insured. Mr. Walsh estimates his loss at £500 in all. Mr. Walsh's works and postal department in Cable St. and Brown St. were not in any way damaged, and this side of the business is going on in the usual way. All damaged stock will be sold as salvage, so that it can be quickly cleared away. Customers can still rely on receiving first-class and up-to-date stock, which Mr. Walsh is noted for supplying.

The Norwich Plainhead Club.

The second annual dinner and smoking concert of this club is to be held on Saturday, January 18th, at the Douglas Hotel, Corporation Street, Manchester, and the members would be pleased to welcome any fancier friends and their wives, writes Mr. G. W. F. Lythgoe (173, Clifton St., Old Trafford, Manchester). Tickets, which are 1s. 9d. each, may be had from any of the committee—Messrs. J. E. Davies, Sam Cook, and J. Raynes, or myself. Dinner will be served at 5.30 p.m. During the concert following, it is intended to present the cups and other trophies won during the season.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

To Secretaries, Judges, and All Fanciers.

We have sent out a printed form to the secretaries of all societies appearing in the "Directory to Cage Bird Clubs" in Cage Birds Annual. We shall be glad to have them returned, duly filled up, at the earliest possible moment (not later than Jan. 14, at the outside). Further, will all secretaries who have not received such a form kindly notify us (a postcard will do) so that we may send one along. Remember that our "Directory" is the only one of its kind in existence, and to be represented therein is a sure way to obtain applications for membership from fanciers living in your neighbourhood. This applies to specialist societies, ordinary societies, Roller Canary clubs, and singing clubs—in fact cage-bird clubs of all kinds.

We shall be glad to receive the address of Mr. Pearce, sec., Bugle and Dist. F.A.; Mr. J. Campbell, sec. Annandale C.B.F.A., Mr. H. W. Briggs, sec. Cannock and Dist. F. and F.S.; Mr. T. Purdie, sec. Edinburgh Northern O.S.; Mr. D. Owen Jones, sec. Llandilo C.B.S.; Mr. J. Sinclair, sec. Leith Jubilee O.S.; Mr. H. Knight, sec. Manchester South C.B.S.; Mr. G. E. Gastall, sec. Barton-on-Humber and Dist. C.B.S.; Mr. J. Kirkwood, sec. Clydebank O.S.; Mr. C. Parmiter, sec. Southampton O.S.; and Mr. C. C. Watson, sec. Govanhill and Dis. (Glasgow) O.A.; also the secretary's name and address of the Fort William C.B.S.

If any society mentioned above has been disbanded, we shall thank any reader who will be good enough to notify us of the fact; or, in case of a change of secretary, who will send us the new official's name and address.

Our list of judges (giving names, addresses, and the varieties they specialise in) is another unique and valuable feature, one universally consulted by show officials. All fanciers who have officiated at one or other of the recognised cage-bird shows should send the above particulars for inclusion in this list (no charge is made). Judges who have moved should send in their new address. Do it at once; next week will be too late.

We shall be glad to hear the new addresses of Messrs. A. Malcolmson (Glasgow), D. Browning (Exeter), and W. Lorimer (Edinburgh), as post-cards sent them to the address given in the 1912 Annual have been returned marked "gone away."

To our trading friends we will insert free: Names, addresses, and specialities in the Bird Trade Directory. No matter what you sell, so long as it has to do with the Fancy, particulars are inserted free. This directory is of exceptional value, and fanciers the world over find it indispensable. For one shilling, names can be thrown up in heavy black type.

Breeders, Exhibitors, Judges, and Advertisers generally, who want something that will bring orders throughout next year for a "mere song" should

ADVERTISE IN THE "ANNUAL."

See particulars elsewhere in this issue.

CAN ALL SHOWS BE MADE TO PAY?

Would a change in the Method of Judging bring this about?

By R. BLINCOE (Rochdale).

Our contributor advances some rather novel views, which, of course, we do not necessarily endorse, but print for what they may be worth.

SEVERAL letters have appeared in CAGE BIRDS bearing on the subject of "Why don't our shows pay?" I was expecting there would have been some discussion on the subject, but was at first unable to take part in the same. Possibly the fact that the topic was brought up right in the middle of the show season prevented those most directly interested, viz., the officials in charge of such affairs, from replying and giving their views.

This is a very serious subject for the Fancy, there being no doubt whatever that (with the exception of societies who are liberally supported by patrons and one or two big, centrally situated clubs who can rely on a good gate) the annual open show constitutes a drain on the resources of societies, and is slowly but surely decaying. I can point in this district alone to six or seven societies who used to hold good open shows, many of them capital shows from the exhibitors' and the public point of view, who have now dropped out, unable to stand the continual drain on their funds.

Hitting the Nail on the Head.

In the few letters that have appeared in your columns so far, no one seems up to now to have hit on the true weak spot. The outside exhibitor blames the societies, and seems to think they ought to cheerfully spend their money in giving him a chance of winning prizes; and the club officials, on the other hand, think that exhibitors ought to be willing to give better support, even at a loss to themselves, so as to enable them to carry on at something like a reasonable loss. But the root of the whole matter is that under present conditions showing in itself is an expensive game if you lose and very little profit when you win, a condition of things only likely to attract wild enthusiasts. It may pay some few individuals who can put down large teams of "deck sweepers," and it may pay the big breeder to keep up his reputation as an expert, but the pure amateur, who goes into it for amusement is likely to drop money even if he has a fair measure of success in winning, etc. No man can do anything but lose money who knocks up against big odds if the sum of his winnings do not approximate somewhat to the chances taken. The whole truth of the matter is that the prizes are inadequate, and the frequency of half prize-money classes makes the matter even worse; but if societies cannot afford the present scale, what are we to do? Just let us look into the matter and see what causes this state of affairs.

The primary cause of small prizes is, in my opinion, over classification. If a large classification has to be given to get together a few hundred birds, prizes must run small. And what causes over classification? I believe that if fanciers will think the matter out carefully, they will see that there is need for radical reform in the manner of judging. Please understand that I am not finding fault with the judges themselves; they have to go according to the generally accepted custom; and a system has gradually grown up that necessitates a very extended classification to give every bird an even chance.

I refer to the fixed custom of giving certain varieties, colours, or species an undue preference. This has been the cause of the demand for more classes. Buffs cannot compete on level terms with yellows, nor marked birds with clears, while in British and Foreign classes certain species have to be very bad indeed if any of the commoner species are to stand a chance with them in a mixed class—under some judges it scarcely matters how bad they are. It consequently follows that the vast majority of keepers of the commoner birds do not think it worth while to show, while a few dealers and traders send out half-a-dozen rarities to do the round of the shows. It should be quite obvious to anyone that this system drives out everyone but the keepers of rarities, who form, naturally, the minority of the bird keepers. Of course, the exhibition of such interesting species should be encouraged by every possible means in the way of specials, etc., but they should not be allowed to clear out all others from the field.

The first essential in all forms of competition, if they are to draw a fair number of competitors, is a fair even chance for everyone taking part. The remedy, in my opinion, lies in a rigid adherence to judging by points only. I would have every judge supplied with seven cards for each class, and after he had weeded out the sheep from the goats, it should be his duty to fill up in the ready-ruled columns the points allotted by him for each quality, according to the scale laid down by the specialist society representing the breed, together with the class number of the bird. These points could then be reckoned up by a committee appointed for the purpose. It would be impossible for any one judge to give undue value to any particular quality, for he could not go further than the scale allowed him to. Of course, some of the present scales of points would require modification, but that would soon come about.

What the Point System Would Do.

I would like to point out the following advantages that would accrue under this system: (1) We might halve the classification and double the prizes; (2) with more birds and fewer classes, half prize-money would be the exception and not the rule; (3) the despised "codding cards" would become real certificates of merit, for a bird who scored a high average under good judges, would have proved his quality better than by snatching an easy victory in poor competition; (4) with the improvement of shows would come a larger body of fanciers into the field, providing a better sale for stock; (5) that a body of amateurs would be attracted who would be satisfied with a very moderate amount of success, providing they were able to get definite opinions from competent judges on their birds; 6, the old time expressions, such as "winner only time shown," "first prize winner under So-and-so," would have to give place to "number of points scored under So-and-so," which would enable anyone to accurately guage value, etc.

There are, of course, a great many matters of detail connected with showing that could be improved on and which would go to still further build up prize money, but I think they require a central body to discuss and arrange. It is outrageous to post 1,000 or 1,200 schedules to get a hundred-and-fifty exhibitors, for instance; something might be done by a central authority in the way of issuing a general schedule at the beginning of the season, and then each society could advertise what classes they were giving and prize-money for the same. This, if generally adopted, would save hundreds of pounds.

It is a great pity the late lamented Cage Bird Union did not make some attempt to deal with matters of this kind; all the same I hold it a great pity that this central authority was allowed to drop.

In conclusion, I would like to say that in a contribution like this, only a rough general idea can be given. But it seems to me we are on the wrong line when we make so many classes that there are not enough birds to fill them. Imagine the Setter Club, for instance, demanding classes for Black and Tan marked, Blue ticked, Brown and White, Black and White, All White, All Black, Liver and White, and every other possible variation, including the whole thing over again in first year dogs! I hope my views may call forth some discussion on this vital subject.

BY THE SAD SEA WAVES.

"Sad" indeed for that well-known Norwich Plainhead fancier, Mr. E. Baker, of Cowes, who writes, apropos of the recent floods due to the abnormal weather and tides: "We were almost drowned on Boxing Day. Had to take over 300 pails of water out of our sitting-room. I am enclosing photo of High-st. during the flood. My shop lies to the left, between the boat and the dray. I am just 'in the thick' of it. Result, confined to my room all the week with very heavy cold; hence done out of going to the Scottish National Show. Had to lay in bed and think about my Edinburgh friends.

Breeding the Exhibition Yorkshire.

By W. C. DREW.

A Manchester fancier gives his views and experiences.

I should think every reader is acquainted with the Yorkshire Canary, and knows what it is; but I have often wondered how many of them really know after all what are the component parts, as it were, of the "Gentlemen of the Fancy." And rightly are they so named, without a doubt, for to my mind I do not think you could find a more stately bird than a really high-class specimen of the Yorkshire, as it is at the present day. Nor do I think it possible to name another breed of Canary which has so many perfect specimens gracing the show benches at the present moment. The Yorkshire Canary was originally bred in the county of broad acres, from which it derives its name; it is now bred in all parts of the country. It was, in the first instance, purely and simply a cross between the Belgian and the Norwich, and it was brought to some sort of perfection by judicious selection. After a few years it seems to have been thought that the bird which was bred in Yorkshire would look the better for a wee bit of Lancashire "stuck" on him, and the selection processes must have involved a great deal of time and thought, especially to have brought the bird to the standard of perfection it has reached to-day.

The Kind of Cages and Birds to Use.

When breeding the Yorkshire you must first of all have suitable cages. Those which I use for breeding, are 20 inches long, by 18 inches high, by 11 deep, with a 2½in. rail across the front, loose punch bar fronts, one perch lengthwise, and two from back to front, six inches from either end. A hook in the back carries the nest pan. I use the earthenware variety of nest pan as I find this the most suitable; also it helps to keep down the red mite in warm weather. The cages for stock are 16 inches long by 18 inches high by 11 inches, so as to leave plenty of head room which is necessary for all "birds of position."

We next require the birds to place in these cages. I would suggest that a beginner gets a cock bird and two hens. Procure a good long buff cock, a clear or ticked, whichever you fancy. See that he has a good round head, well-filled neck, and well-carried wings, as these are the points most likely to be reproduced from him in the young stock. Get two yellow hens, of medium size, good in position and shape; also see that the feather is short and of the close, boxey kind. I always prefer medium-sized hens, as I find that large hens have such coarse feather, which is very hard to breed out. Of course, it is natural you should pay a fair price for them; you cannot expect to get good birds for next to nothing, as so many people in the course of my experience have seemed to expect. Remember, good birds cost no more to keep than the poorer specimens; it is only the initial outlay that is heavier. I should advise you to get your birds all at the same place; you have then some solid ground to work on to build up your strain, as you can add what you require after the first season.

Preparing for the Breeding Season.

We have now both birds and cages, so we commence to prepare for the breeding season. I begin by giving the cocks (at the beginning of February) a little egg food twice a week, also a tea-spoonful of rape and hemp once a week, and keep to this for the next six weeks. To the hens, over the same period, I give a little egg food once a week, also a little inga, hemp, and linseed, once a week. Then I increase the quantities, and give them every other day, with a little mixed seed twice a week as well, up to the beginning of April, which is quite early enough to pair up your stock, and by which time I find the cocks in full song, and the hens bouncing from perch to perch.

I hang the cock birds in show cages on to the breeding cage for a couple of days, when I soon see the cock birds feeding the hens through the cage wires. I place a nest pot in the breeder and also some cow-hair, and when I see the hen carrying the latter about then, and then only, do I let the cock bird in, as he does not then exhaust himself by so much fighting. This also ensures a full clutch of eggs, which cannot be always possible when the cock birds fight (as some do for days) before commencing operations.

Rearing the Youngsters.

On the evening before the day the youngsters are due to hatch I place in the egg drawer a small quantity of pure yolk of egg, so that the hen can feed early in the morning. I give pure yolk of egg only for the first three days, then I give equal parts eggs and cod liver oil food, until the young are about ten days old; I then gradually reduce the egg until by the time the youngsters leave the nest I am only giving the cod liver oil food. I advise feeding three times a day, a small quantity to be given each time; if large quantities are given the hen gets too fat and lazy, and neglects her offspring, just at the time when they need care most, generally at the age of between five and ten days. If I manage to keep them over that period, I always reckon they are mine for good.

In the Nursery, and Out.

When the youngsters are about twenty-three days' old I separate them. I put them in a nursery cage, and hang them on the front of the breeder for a couple of days, placing inside their cage a dish of soft food, slightly moistened, and a little soaked rape seed and crushed hemp. When the birds are a month old I crush canary seed and hemp, and place it in the cage; and I gradually wean the youngsters off the soft food. From that day I also hang on a water-pot in which I have placed twenty drops of Parrish's chemical food, which stops them from drinking too much—a habit which young birds are prone to, and which only sets up inflammation of the bowels and diarrhoea, from which I am afraid but few recover.

When the birds have reached the age of eight weeks, if they show promise, you will have to colour feed them. The feed I use is made as follows:—Take four lbs. of cold pepper, and ¼lb. of best hot natal, ¼lb. of soft brown sugar (commonly called pieces), and ¼lb. of linseed meal; mix these all together. I give at full strength one table-spoonful of colour to four of soft food, and I gradually work it up to this amount from a small quantity; and when the bird is moulting about his head I begin to reduce the quantities again until I am giving hardly any at the close of the moult. When they have finished the moult, I give a little scraped raw carrot (mixed with soft food) twice a week through the show season, I find that this keeps them tight in feather, and also puts a gloss on the plumage.

At the end of the birds' moult I select all the likeliest youngsters, and place them in a cage by themselves. I hang a show-cage on the front for them to run in and out of as they please; this gets them used to what is to be practically their home for the future; it also steadies them greatly. In their stock-cage I place a piece of mirror level with the tops of their beaks on either side; this stretches them out, and helps to make them stand erect. I often shut them in the show-cage for a few hours at a time, and give them plenty of handling, because unless a bird is steady a judge will not give it a second look, therefore, it is relegated to the rear, whereas sometimes if it had been steadier it might have won.

Helping the Show Bird.

When preparing to send birds to a show, give your cages a good overhauling; see that they are thoroughly clean. Also see that the perches are clean and uniform in shape; don't get them too smooth, or the bird will not be able to get into position, but will slip about. Always remember when sending to a show, to see that everything is spotlessly clean, and have clean seed only on the cage bottom. Attention to these details may tend to bring you the reward you seek; if it does not, you will have the pleasure of knowing that it was not your fault, but that the bird was beaten on its merits.

In conclusion, I would say, get good birds in the first instance, keep them and the cages as clean as possible, and give good plain food. Keep the birds in a well lighted room free from draughts, and they will take no harm; they do not really need any artificial heat. In my opinion the cold is really good for them, as it hardens them, making them more robust and vigorous.

Questions and Answers.

Queries will be answered under the following conditions:—

NOTE.—If an answer is required concerning the proper mating, etc., of Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Cinnamons, Greens, Borders, Lizards, Scotch or any other variety of the Canary family, we shall, should the querist desire us to do so, be pleased to submit his questions for answer to some leading specialist of the day on the variety concerned.

CANARY QUERIES.

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

BARE AND SCURFY (E. W. I.).—Treat the bird the same as advised to "Rigg, Cambridge," and in addition anoint the bare place sparingly twice a week with Lanocylin, moistening the skin fairly, but not applying sufficient to run about and daub the surrounding plumage. Keep cage and perches as clean as possible, and the floor strewn with clean, gritty sand. Keep the bird caged alone until quite well.

EFFECT OF FALL (D. Bootle).—It is impossible to tell what the after-effects of such a shock as falling with the cage to the floor are likely to be. I have known good singers live for years afterwards in the best of health, and nothing could induce them to sing again. On the other hand, I have known them sing lustily within a few minutes after such an accident. Others will resume singing after weeks or months of silence. Your best plan is certainly to place the bird back in the bird-room, where it will be in fresh surroundings and hear the other cocks singing lustily.

YORKSHIRES DROOPING WINGS (W.).—See reply to "Ignoramus, Essex," in last issue for causes and treatment of this peculiarity. Your cold room may possibly be the clue to the cause in your case, the birds perhaps having come from a warm one. Give a morsel of bread and milk sprinkled with soft sugar every second day for a week, and on the alternate days a pinch of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, millet and teazle. If this does not have desired effect, try treatment in reply referred to above. You should not yet have the birds caged together.

STOPPED MOULTING (H. A. J.).—Glad to hear the bird has improved, and has completely stopped moulting now. The treatment advised was intended to stop the moulting, so you need not worry about that point. The probability is that it will throw off the few remaining old feathers very quickly as soon as the mild spring weather arrives, or, perhaps, make a complete change in early summer. Unless the kitchen is quite large, so that the bird is not subject to the full extent of the fluctuations of temperature, it would certainly do better in the adjoining room with no fire at all. If you remove it to that room now, however, it will be practically certain to throw the bird into moult again, so you had better wait a few weeks before making such a change. You may discontinue all medical treatment now.

WHENCE AND WHAT BREED? (J. E. P.).—Sorry, but I really cannot recommend particular breeders or dealers here, for reasons which must be obvious. Study our advert. columns for a week or two, and select a known breeder or dealer with a reputation to uphold, and have birds on approval, depositing cash with our Editor meanwhile. Then you should get complete satisfaction. Rollers, Border Fancy, Norwich, or Yorkshires are all very suitable breeds for beginners. The first-named are unapproachable as songsters, but of little account for fancy points. As a beginner, you should get "Canary Breeding for Beginners." It will prevent you making many errors.

MATE FOR CREST, AND MATING (Crest).—Undoubtedly the book says double-cresting may be done for one season, but you will doubtless find certain qualifications and restrictions laid down with it. You do not say which book you refer to, but for the fullest information on all the ins and outs of the matter get Parts XII. and XIII. of "Our Canaries." For instance, in mating two Crested birds you must not imagine that faulty or mediocre Crests are more admissible than when mating in the usual way. You want Crests as nearly as possible of perfect shape and droop and radiation. Splits and large naked centres must be quite avoided. It does not matter so much about size of Crests. If of good shape, etc., quite moderate size will pass muster. With such a pair, although you may get nothing very remarkable, you will produce some excellent material for future matings. See "Our Canaries" for future procedure. If the birds' crests answer above description, by all means mate the two Crests you name in preference to a Crest and a Roller or Norwich. (2) You ought not to have the sexes caged together yet. Cut off all mixed seed and egg food for a month, and see if that will keep them a little more backward. If it does not, then, as the room is a warm one, you may safely take the risks and let them go on in about a month hence. But do not stimulate them in any way.

GAPING AND WHEEZING (T. H. P.).—If the birds caught cold on the journey you should have kept them in a moderately warm place for a day or two to allow it pass off before placing them in the cold attic. Give, now, a staple diet of plain canary only. Every second day give a half teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, inga, rape and teazle, with a slight sprinkling of mustard seed, and a morsel of banana, and on the alternating days a piece of bread and milk the size of a hazelnut sprinkled with soft sugar. Limit the diet solely to this for two or three weeks. Get a chemist to mix the following mixture for you, and give twenty drops in the drinking water every second day until the symptoms are removed. Mixture: Two drachms each of oxymel of squills and glycerine, one drachm each of ipecacuanha wine and chlorodyne, and eight grains of iodide of potassium.

MATE FOR NORWICH (A. S. C., Oswestry).—The cock you describe is not at all a satisfactory stock bird, and unless you are very short of stock, I would advise you to discard him. If, however, you must use him, try to get a clear buff hen bred from two buffs, of an even-marked strain, if possible. If you cannot get a clear, one with very light eye-marks would be a good substitute, but do not have any other markings. For shape select a moderately stout, chubby, short hen, rather short on leg, and short in tail and flights. See that the tail is close and compact, and carried well out, and that the wings are well braced, and carried neatly, with the tips of the flights just reaching the base of the tail, but showing no tendency to cross. If the wings do not quite meet each other, so much the better. If this bird is not obtainable, you might try to get a clear buff, bred from a green and a clear, the green being bred from an even-marked strain. In this case have no marks at all, and, of course, choose a bird of the type mentioned above. In either case you would stand a chance of breeding some even-marked youngsters, as well as eliminating as far as possible the faults of the cock.

A NAKED ROLLER (Rigg, Cambridge).—Hope the poor thing is not quite so stark as you hint. Keep it in a fairly comfortable temperature, but there is no necessity to overheat it, and see that the place is equable and free from chilly draughts. It will be a good plan to throw a light cover over its cage at night until it is more decently attired. In addition to its usual seed diet give half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake slightly dusted with flowers of sulphur and sprinkled with a mixture of equal parts maw and gold of pleasure seed every third day for a month. On the intervening days give alternately a pinch of a mixture of equal parts niger, millet, teazle, black rape, and linseed, and a morsel of banana. The latter may be varied now and again with a spray of water-cress. In the drinking water add twenty drops of whisky and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a threepenny-piece three times a week for a month. If the bird is in robust health and active, allow it to bathe on mild days about three times a week.

OUT OF CONDITION (F. T. C.).—Keep the bird under healthy and hygienic conditions, and feed as follows for a month or so. Give a staple diet of two parts canary to one part summer rape. Every second day for a fortnight give a half-teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with four drops of sherry and two of cod liver oil emulsion well mixed in it, and sprinkled with a mixture of equal parts maw and gold of pleasure seed. Twice a week on the alternating days give a similar quantity of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, teazle, and black rape, with just a slight sprinkling of mustard seed in the bulk. Three times a week give a morsel of banana. At the end of the fortnight substitute a morsel of bread and milk sprinkled with soft sugar for the sponge cake, and a spray of watercress for the banana for the remainder of the month. Add ten drops of syrup of buckthorn to the drinking water for two days, and afterwards four drops each of tincture of gentian, tincture of calumba, and aromatic sulphuric acid for three or four days. Keep cage strewn with clean, gritty sand, and when bird becomes quite active, not before, offer a bath three times a week on mild days.

A QUINTETTE (Stuart Lane).—(1) The elongated hind claw is probably the real cause of the trouble. If you trim this back to a normal length the toe will probably soon resume its normal functions. Bathe the foot for a few minutes in a warm solution of extract of wych hazel. Then dry it, and hold up the hind claw in front of strong light, and you will see a thin pink streak running some little distance beyond the end of the toe. This is the vein in the claw. Nip off the claw with a sharp pair of nail scissors, just missing the end of this vein. (2) The appearance around the nostrils seems to be rather abnormal. There is probably a slight growth of warty excrescence. Moisten them twice a week with sulphur ointment for a month or so. (3) If you put the two cocks in the centre compartment of aviary now, there will doubtless soon be a lot of quarrelling, though they would sing all right. The presence of the hens would incite rather than discourage displays of both song and temper. A much better plan would be to place a cock in each end compartment, and the three hens altogether in the centre one. Then you would get the song, without the quarrels. (4) Yes, you could, with every chance of success, utilise one compartment for the Yorkshires to breed in, as the other compartment will be empty. With some birds it would make little if any difference, even if the other compartment were occupied, but with others the distraction militates against successful breeding. (5) Properly enamelled metal drinkers or feeding vessels, such as the enamelled ware on the market for household use, would be quite safe to use, so long as the enamel remained perfect. If it gets chipped and the metal exposed, then it would be no safer than metal vessels. Vessels done at home with enamel paints, if this is what you mean, would be barely tolerable, and not worth the trouble of doing them.

INBREEDING AND FEEDING (Expectant).—Do I understand correctly that the buff cock and yellow hen you wish to mate are bred from the same cock, but from two different hens? If this is so then, of course, the birds are half brother and sister, which is very close in-breeding, and should only be done when there is some definite object in view. Still, if the birds are quite strong and healthy, and the stock has not previously been in-bred to any extent, you might, if the birds match each other in typical points, mate them this year. But do not do any in-breeding with their progeny next year. Indeed, if you find the young from this mating deficient in size, you will need to introduce fresh blood—not necessarily very far removed—to improve this failing. Your method of feeding will answer very well, but at the end of this month you should begin to give a little bread and milk or egg food twice a week, which should gradually bring the birds into breeding condition naturally. Begin with about half a teaspoonful per bird, and increase it to a teaspoonful. Glad to know advice given you last season was so successful.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

ROSEY COCKATOO (Whitnall).—Sunflower seed and tit-bits from table is altogether wrong. Supply the following seed mixture: Oats, hemp, paddy rice, sunflower seed, maize, dari and canary seed, about equal parts. Also supply pieces of dry biscuits, or crusts of household bread, ripe fruit, nuts in variety, and do not omit grit, cuttlebone and water for drinking or bathing. It will take some time to get rid of this trouble; keep a good stout piece of a branch of some fruit tree in the cage, and twice a week put one teaspoonful of Diamaford's Magnesia in the drinking-water, and on other days a teaspoonful of Byno-phosphates, also in the water. Spray the bird weekly with quassia solution—persevere with the above treatment for a few weeks, and then report progress.

WHAT BIRD? (Miss M. L. Bidwell).—I will keep your query by me and try and give you a definite reply in our next issue; but will you kindly send me some idea of the bird's size as soon as you see this reply—comparing it with some common, well-known species is usually the best way of doing this. Also, did you buy it in this country? I must say that your description, except for the colour of the beak, fits the Grenadier Weaver. I should add canary and white millet seed to its dietary, and give it a couple of mealworms daily if it cares for them; push a slice of sweet apple between the bars of its cage, and, if it will take it give a little fresh lettuce as greenfood. I should separate it from the Bunting, as the baldness may arise from some contagious skin trouble. Examine for parasites (mites), and if there are any treat either with insect powder or wash. Put a few grains of Epsom salts into the drinking water to make the bowels move freely, and follow this by a course of Byno-phosphates.

AN OUTSIDE AVIARY (F.S.).—My previous reply and sketch will meet your requirements re the aviary itself. It is always a risky experiment putting any of the Finch tribe in with any kind of Parrakeets, sooner or later maimed bodies or broken limbs are the result. However, Java Sparrows, Saffron Finches and Cardinals are usually able to look after themselves in any company, but if you introduce Waxbills and the small ornamental Finches, sooner or later you will suffer for the experiment; you may escape trouble for a couple of years, or it may begin almost at once. One or two of the Weaver tribe, Napoleon, Madagascar, Grenadier and Masked Weavers, would supply colour and be able, I think, to look after themselves; at any rate, the risk would be very small, but I do not think these would breed in such an aviary, but they are worth a place for their lovely colour while in breeding plumage, and they are not costly.

BUDGERIGARS (Bird Lover).—Our Nutshell, "Budgerigars," will give you all details as to food and treatment, also as to what nesting receptacles, etc., to supply. If you are procuring several pairs I should get each pair from a different source, say, one pair of imported birds and one pair of aviary bred greens, and two pairs of yellows, buying each pair of the latter from a different source; these could be turned into your room and left to breed together for several years without the introduction of fresh blood. Your empty window would answer well for them, but the floor should be covered either with lino or sheet zinc, to prevent sand and other rubbish passing between the joints of the flooring. The best way to furnish it is to secure several dead trees (firs are as good as any) and fix these in a small barrel, and kept in position by earth with sand on top. The barrels must be large enough, when filled with soil, to balance the trees steadily. Hang from the ceiling a good dozen of husks or small barrels, with their openings towards the light, but hung up as far apart as possible. The window must be covered over with wire netting on the inside, but provision must be left so that the window can be opened and shut at will for ventilating. Wire netting must also be fitted over the fire-place, if any; and it is best to have a wire lobby just inside the door, to prevent the escape of birds when entering.

AVIARY QUERIES (A New Beginner).—I should certainly advise adding the extra yard of flight, with a wire netting roof, and sow the ground under this part with grass, and various cereals. Budgerigars seldom bathe in the ordinary way, but roll themselves about amid wet grass and other herbage, and the extension will prove of great benefit to them. Moreover, all the birds will benefit by being able to take a rain bath when inclined. Your aviary will accommodate the birds you name: you could also put in pairs of Madagascar and Blue-winged Lovebirds. Put up your nesting receptacles both in outer and inner flights—all nest receptacles (husks or barrels are best) for Parrakeets must have concave bottoms, and there should be at least double the number of nests that you have pairs of birds. Lovebirds line their nest box with leaves, hents, strips of bark, exhausted millet sprays, etc., and the Java Sparrows will require some hay. Budgerigars and Cockatiels do not use any nesting material, but deposit their eggs on the bare base of husk or barrel. I fear the songsters, unless of the Thrush tribe, or Cardinals, would fare badly in the long run, from the mischievous beaks of the Parrakeets.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS.

Answered by G. E. WESTON.

NAME OF BERRIES (Long Tom).—I cannot identify the berries unless you send some of the leaves of the plant, a small branch for choice.

SEED SAMPLE (A. Dow).—Seems to be in the main plantain seed, with the addition of various grass seeds, and I also notice a little persicaria, and "bacon weed." Safe as an occasional "tit-bit." Glad you liked our calendar. The same to you, and many of 'em.

COCK AND HEN ROBIN (R.H.L.).—The difference between cock and hen Robin is very slight. The red colouring of the hen does not extend quite so far back on cheeks and head, neither is it so vivid in tone, though the latter is noticeable only during spring and summer, when the breast of the cock acquires a decidedly brighter (richer) hue. Both cock and hen sing—the latter really well, as I have proved, in the case of captive specimens. There is, however, a similar difference from the point of view of "character" as obtains in the case of the Nightingale—i.e., the cock is more cheeky and aggressive in his behaviour, and has a bolder look about the head and eyes.

IN AN AVIARY (H. Price).—I don't advise you to mix softbills and hardbills in the place you describe, especially if you seriously desire breeding results. The surest plan would be to turn in six to eight hen Canaries and a similar number of cock Finches. You could choose from Goldfinch (Siberian and British), Linnet, Redpoll (Mealy and Lesser), Siskin and Greenfinch, and also add Chaffinch, Yellowhammer, and Bramblefinch, if you feel experimentally inclined. Or you could add a hen Bullfinch; likewise, you could leave out the Greenfinch cock and substitute a hen. Both of the latter hens would be likely to breed. It is not absolutely necessary to cover in the wire top to the outer flight, though unless you can provide ample thick shelter for nest building, or sheltered nests (or nesting boxes), my experience teaches me that a covered-in flight is by far the best.

BELIEVED TO BE BLUE TITS (A.W.C.).—The birds you describe are, without doubt, Blue Tits. They are insectivorous birds, and need a high-class insectile mixture (such as is given to Nightingales and Warblers), as their staple food, with live-food according to season (mealworms, gentles, wasp-grub, flies, etc.). A little small seed, such as hemp, canary, and cracked sunflower, is appreciated, and I have found rolled oats relished, and small cracked nuts. A piece of suet is also esteemed a delicacy, and is especially suitable during cold weather. Unless you provide a generous and varied diet, these birds will survive but a short time in captivity. You should read "Nutshell Booklet," No. 25.

A NEWLY-CAUGHT ROBIN (Josh Smith).—You say that you have a newly-caught Robin, and wish to know how to "bring it on to hard seed." My reply is that if you are thinking of providing only seed as its food, it is a shame to attempt to keep the bird in a cage. A Robin is not a seed-eating bird, but an insectivorous species, and needs feeding accordingly (note reply given "A.W.C." this week, which indicates the proper diet, except that the nuts and sunflower seed should be omitted). Did you not read the article by Mr. Fulljames which accompanied the calendar (on which was a coloured picture of a Robin), given with our recent 'Xmas Number? The correct treatment of the bird was detailed therein.

A GOLDIE FOR MULING (H. Barnett).—Unmistakable signs of a Goldfinch being in breeding condition are: (1) full, hearty song, swaying from side to side, with tail spread (almost fan-wise) while "calling" and singing, (2) a clear beak—i.e., free from the dark streak found at the tip of the upper mandible during the winter months. The best "conditioners" are dandelion leaves (young and tender), the seeding heads and the ripe seed. Look out for some at the earliest possible moment, or grow it in your garden. Don't mix up your questions, please (note rules). The other is one for our Canary specialist; look in his column next week.

A TRIO (W.W.F.).—You are another sinner in respect to ignoring the rules under which these questions are answered; you lump British, Foreign, and Canary queries all together. Note reply given "Old Reader" this week. Look in Mr. Page's columns next week for answer re Budgerigars. It is (pardon my saying so) amazing that you should ask whether a cock Goldfinch will breed with a hen Canary. I should have though it impossible to pick up any issue of "Cage Birds" without finding the answer staring one in the face. Goldfinch-Canary Mules are advertised for sale every week, are mentioned in every show report, and written about continually. And you ask whether they can be bred! With regard to the Canaries, undoubtedly the best plan for the beginner to follow is to keep the couple in a divided cage (wire slide down the centre) until the hen gives clear evidence of wanting to go to nest; consult "Canary Breeding for Beginners," a very valuable little work.

ANOTHER MIXTURE (Old Reader).—If you will kindly note the rules you will see that queries for different specialists should be written on separate sheets of paper. It is no use framing rules and then not adhering to them. Your question respecting the Roller is one for our Canary specialist, Mr. St. John (see his column next week); don't overlook the rules in future, and so avoid delay. It is exceedingly doubtful whether the hen Mule would breed you any young; cases of Mules producing young are very rare indeed. The Goldie may breed all right if in good form later on (i.e., about May); read the reply given H. Barnett this week.

A TRIO (Young Amateur).—What a week! A young sinner this time. Have you never noticed rule 3? Your query re greenfood for Canaries ought clearly to be written on a separate sheet of paper for our Canary specialist. Look in his column next week for a reply to it. If you want to avoid delay please conform to our rules. A young cock Thrush sings (or "records" more or less loudly) before it moults, and commences to tune up in earnest as soon as the process of getting a new coat is completed. Your bird, if a cock and in good health, ought certainly to be singing ere this. Grated raw carrot, cold boiled mashed potato, and minced up lettuce are all good to mix amongst the soft-food. Thrushes like snails, mealworms, gentles, ripe berries (elder, privet, etc.), and all kinds of ripe fruit.

DEATH OF BIRDS (First Year).—It seems odd that you should have lost all the birds. Of course, there is the possibility that some infectious disease is at work, and from what you say I am sure you would be well advised to send a body to Mr. Yates (our veteriuary expert) for examination. If such a disease is present, then it will be useless for me to advise medicine. Your method of feeding cannot be at fault (that is if, as you say, the seed is good), for I feed my own Linnets in the same way, and experience no trouble. Were all the birds which have died kept in the same room as the Canaries? You say nothing on this point. I may say that my experience teaches me that Britishers are the better for a regular mild aperient (say once a week), for quite a considerable period after they are first caged. Either sulphate of soda (very good and very cheap) or syrup of buckthorn (readily taken by any bird) are first favourites with me. Their regular use largely removes risk of stomach (or liver) upsets. Your Greenfinches ought to prove mulers; I have frequently known Greenies in field plumage breed Mules.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS should consult Boulton's great work, "Cage-Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manual" (2/8); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Dr. Creswell's "Hygiene of Bird keeping" (1/1); Dr Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each): No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2 "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4 "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. Subjects for post mortem examination must be sent packed in a box direct to Mr. Yates, with the fee, this and any accompanying letter being kept from contact with the dead bird. Send by letter-post; it is cheaper and quicker than parcel post. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

F. C. Sims; J. H. Jones.—We will await the new list of officials.

J. Bostock, G. Pim, J. T. G., and others.—Thanks for the press cuttings, which we will certainly utilise if space permits.

Disgusted One, Exmouth.—We could not possibly publish such a letter as yours, which makes a direct imputation upon the integrity of a judge—an imputation based upon nothing more substantial than something somebody told you, and of which you yourself write, "if it be a fact." Have you never heard of the law of libel? Why not advise your informant to communicate with the committee of the show; that is the proper body to investigate a matter such as this. If you wish to discuss the length of exhibition Yorkshires, our columns are open to you providing you do it in an impersonal way; remember that everyone (even a judge) is entatled to his own opinion. Your intentions are no douht good, but we are afraid that your heart runs away with your head.

Singing Contests.

KIPPAX.

NORTHERN CREST CLUB.

A bold experiment was tried on New Year's Day, when an open show was run by the members in the Bird Market, Newcastle-on-Tyne. That it deserved to meet with success was the opinion of all who visited the show, and a good number of enthusiasts put in an appearance. The entry was a good one, taking everything into consideration, and the fanciers who sent in birds from a long distance are to be congratulated on their sportsmanship. Mr. J. G. Hutchinson, a rare good enthusiast, managed the venture in capital style. The judges were Mr. J. T. Clark (Sunderland), open and novice classes; and Mr. T. C. Crawhall (Newcastle).

The Critique.

DK. BUFF CK. (12): 1, Hagill, bonny big bird, grand large crest, well shaped, nice and neat at centre, thickly built, of leafy feather, wins; 2, 4, Smith, two beauties, leader loses a bit in size of crest, but put down in A1 form, not a feather a tray, lovely qual, round as a rim, but weak one side, 4th not far away in merit; 3, Dobson and Son, we liked well, and thought very close up, grand, thick, leafy feather, neat, well drooped crest, set on a massive body. HEN (13): 1, Greenwood and Burson, the well-known champion, truly a gem, marvellously big crest, true in shape, best of droop and finish, very thickly built, admired by all; 2, Smith, also has a wonderful head, very expansive and shapely, best of feather, good, thick-set frame, another gem; 3, Dobson and Sons, hardly the qual. of feather, but little behind in size and shape of crest, grand body, a beauty; 4, Richardson, extra good at front, nice and neat, plenty of size, but beaten in this company. LIGHT, ETC. (7): 1, Greenwood and Burson, grey, one of the best, great sweep of crest, on a good body, rare qual. feather, very well finished; 2, Dickinson Bros., rattling good exhibit, right qual. feather, fine frame, big, well-shaped, neat headpiece; 3, Hutchinson, fails a bit at centre, but fine big crest, good texture, rare big body; 4, Mrs. Taylor, another taking grey, neat, well drooped, good feather, loses size. YELL. CK. (8): 1, Mrs. Taylor, the well-known grey, wonderful qual., feather like silk, and plenty of it, really grand crest, thick and shapely; 2, J. Taylor, nice bird of its kind, but loses in crest, good qual., well shaped; 3, White, equal in size of crest, loses in shape, A1 qual., nice body; 4, Dobson and Son, close up, crest exceptionally well finished. C.B. YELL. (7): 1, White, grand bodied bird, rare good head, plenty of feather of excellent qual., A1 entrance and brow, very taking bird, clear; 2, Brotherton, his noted bird, big winner, lovely dome skull, wonderful entrance and texture of feather, splendid turnback, big body, grand Nor. type, must have pressed; 3, Mole, good variegated, grand frame, topping head at all points, well browed; 4, Swan, variegated, another thick-set customer, rare wide skull, nice size and feather. BUFF CK. (15): 1, Dobson and Son, wonderful variegated, great width of skull, lovely entrance and nice, heaps of feather, very veiny, good brows, huge body; 2, Hugill, also a topper, grand head for width and feather properties, lashed to perfection, very big frame; 3, McColl, fine body, plenty of feather of nice texture, beautiful head, fine dome and lash; 4, Bewick, close up, practically equal at all points, splendid entrance and wide skull. HEN (8): 1, Bewick, R.S., that wonder the "Duchess," often described in "C.B.," gem of gems, approaches perfection at every point; 2, Armstrong, another marvellous bird, feather properties something out of the ordinary, great size, almost ideal head; 3, Dobson and Son, licked in head points, but all there for quantity and length of feather, good size and shape; 4, White, another nice hen, very nicely shaped head, well clothed. CREST (1912 BRED), BUFF (18): 1, Broad, the noted Southern winner, a real topper, should trouble the best of them next year, extra large, shapely crest, beautiful droop and texture; 2, 3, Bewick, R.S., leader has large, heavy crest, neat, well shaped, 3rd bit behind in size, yet grand neat crest, two good ones; 4, Greenwood and Burson, well up to 3rd, very neat and well drooped crest, good body. YELL. (4): 1, Taylor, fair good bird, excels in quality, pretty crest, even and neat; 2, Armstrong, very close up in all points; 3, 4, Hutchinson, two more decent specimens, well shaped, fair-sized crests —toppers in yellows are not plentiful. C.B. BUFF (18): 1, Greenwood and Burson, any amount of feather, very bold, wide head, rare entrance and lash, good body, grand one; 2, T. Bewick, equal in texture, carries heap of feather, head wide, good rise and lashing, nice thick-set body; 3, 4, R. S. Bewick, 3rd grand one for qual., fine head, well clothed; 4th we thought well beaten. YELL. (7): 1, Mole, very good green, sweet skull and feather, real nice size; 2, Smith, well up, heavily built, good bold head, plenty of feather; 3, 4, Hutchinson, two nice ones, all there for qual. NOR. CREST (14): 1, 2, Richardson, the 4th in open, wins well here; 2nd, good one for texture, very leafy, well spread and drooped, nice body; 3, Morrison, grizzle, well put down, neat, good shape and droop; 4, Tate, nice sweep of crest, neat, nice front. C.B. (12): 1, Richardson, bonny bird, excellent head, good rise and entrance, plenty of feather, fine body; 2, Lawson, close up, equal in head, loses trifle in width, grand qual. feather, plenty of it; 3, Simpson, also has a nice broad head, good amount of feather, nice big body; 4, Gillespie, not quite the size, very nice head and rare good feather. NOTES BY THE SECRETARY.

I have in these notes frequently pointed out that much of the exaggerated opposition of the well disposed but misguided humanitarians to our hobby would vanish if they knew something of the subject against which their abuse is directed. Confirmation of this view comes this week in a letter from Mr. J. F. Shiers, a League member, and hon. sec. of Swanley C.B.S., which society has just held a successful show, as reported in Cage Birds last week. Mr. Shiers' letter runs as follows:—

"The lady belonging to the R.S.P.C.A. whom I mentioned in my last letter to you was quite delighted to see all our birds so comfortable. She was under the impression that every caged British bird was unhappy, but when the Goldies and Linnets started singing she altered her opinion. I think we shall have her on the list of members of Cage Birds League, together with some of the bird-keepers about here, who took away with them leaflets explaining the Aims and Objects of the League. I wish the League and Cage Birds every success."

An Open Invitation.

I have many times invited the officials of the humanitarian societies to visit some of our bird shows, and see for themselves if caged birds really "beat out their hearts against the bars of their prisons until death releases them from their sufferings." The last opportunity of the current show season offers itself at the Crystal Palace Show, Feb. 7th to 11th, and I shall be delighted to meet at Cage Birds stall at any time during the show officials of, or subscribers to, either of the humanitarian societies. I venture to think that they will go away with quite a different opinion of the hobby of bird-keeping to that possessed by them at present.

I shall be at the Palace every day during the show, and the attendants at Cage Birds stall will be able to find me at any time while I am there, or I shall be pleased to keep any appointment that may be made by anyone who really wishes to know the truth about bird-keeping.

I have received a long and very interesting letter from Mr. G. Gardner, the well-known judge, and I am sorry that exigencies of space preclude my dealing with this in this week's notes. I hope to be able to go fully into the matter next week.

Our Associate Members.

The number of these has exceeded all expectations, and applications keep coming in by post after post. The success of this scheme is very gratifying, but it entails a great deal of work, and applications are dealt with in the order of receipt. Those who do not receive an immediate reply may rely that their registration will be made and the badges sent without more delay than is absolutely unavoidable.

Overdue Subscriptions.

There remains a considerable number of members of Cage Birds League who are leaving unpaid the renewal of their annual subscription. I hope every member who has not renewed his subscription will be kind enough to send it along in order to save the trouble and expense of making separate applications.

TERMS OF MEMBERSHIP.

PATRONS.—A donation of not less than Ten Guineas in one amount, or an annual subscription of not less than Two Guineas, shall constitute the donor or subscriber a Patron.

LIFE MEMBERS.—A donation of not less than Five Guineas in one amount shall constitute the donor a Life Member.

VICE PRESIDENTS.—An annual subscription of not less than Half-a-Guinea shall constitute the subscriber a Vice President.

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS.—The payment to CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE of a legacy of £20 and upwards shall constitute the administrator or executor making the payment an Honorary Life Member. A form of bequest will be sent, post free, on application.

ORDINARY MEMBERS shall pay an annual subscription of Two Shillings and Sixpence.

JUNIOR MEMBERS.—Members under the age of fourteen years at the date of joining shall pay an annual subscription of One Shilling.

Leaflets setting forth the aims and objects of the League will be forwarded, post free, to any reader upon application.

BADGES.

Neat and unobtrusive badges are supplied to members without any charge beyond their subscriptions as above The badges may be had either in button form, or mounted in rolled gold in two forms, one as a brooch for ladies or for cycling caps or coat lapel, and the other as a pendant for bracelet or watch-chain. The kind required should be pecified clearly.

MEDALS.

Gold Silver, and Bronze Medals are offered for competition among Cage Birds League members at Open Shows. The terms under which these will be given may be had upon application.

CAGE BIRDS FREE TO PATRONS.

A copy of Cage Birds, the official organ of the League, is forwarded to patrons weekly, post free.

SEALS AND HEADED NOTEPAPER.

GUMMED SEALS printed in gold and colours in facsimile of the LEAGUE BADGE are supplied for affixing to note paper, postcards, or envelopes. Price eightpence per hundred, fivepence for fifty, post free.

Notepaper with the badge and motto of the League in the top left-hand corner and the address of any member at the top right-hand, may be had at the following prices:—

100 Sheets, Two Shillings and sixpence.
250 Sheets, Four Shillings.
500 Sheets, Five Shillings and sixpence.
1,000 Sheets, Eight Shillings and sixpence.

All post free.

Members are entitled, if application is made at the time of joining, to a free copy of a sixpenny pamphlet on British Bird Culture, or a similar treatise on Canary and Hybrid Culture.

How to become an Associate.

Many readers of Cage Birds have written to say that they would like to join Cage Birds' League, but cannot afford the subscription. To meet their wishes we have decided to form, in connection with the League, a body of Associates. All we ask of these Associates is that they will promise to give every possible attention to the wants of their birds. And they must induce others to see that their birds are kept happy and contented.

All that the intending Associate has to do is to sign the coupon herewith, get five of his or her friends to sign each a similar coupon, and send the six, together with a penny stamp, to the Secretary of Cage Birds League, who will forward by return an enamelled Button Badge of the League. There will be no other charge. NOW, THEN, BIRD LOVERS!—USE YOUR BEST EFFORTS IN THIS SPLENDID CAUSE.

THE BIRD LOVER'S PLEDGE.

I hereby promise to take every care of my feathered pets and to induce others to do the same

The Fate of Rare Visitors.

One of the best known of our summer migrants is the Wheatear which is with us in great numbers every year from March to October. Quite the opposite may be said of its near relative, the Isabelline Wheatear, a bird which resembles very closely the female of the common species. In fact, it gets its appellation "Isabelline" from its dirty brown colour (Isabella was the daughter of Philip II., who did not change her linen during the three years it took to capture Ostend). The first recorded appearance in England of the Isabelline Wheatear is in 1887, and the specimen is now to be seen in the Natural History Museum. Not more than two others have been seen in our country until the appearance of another in Sussex recently. This last visitor from the far East has met with the fate of those which came before, and now adorns the shelves of a museum.

Proposed New Society for Tiverton.

Sir,—I shall be very pleased if you will kindly make it known through your valuable paper that a society is shortly to be formed here. The membership will be open to the county of Devon, and I shall be pleased to hear from any fancier who would care to join. A meeting will be held at Mr. Harris's Refreshment Rooms, Jan. 26, at 8; all fanciers are invited to attend.

Special Combined Charity Show at Leicester.

Sir,—The Leicester C.B.S. and the Leicester Hand-in-Hand C.B.S. contemplate holding a combined show in the large hall of the Working Men's College at Leicester, Feb. 1st. We shall be glad if fanciers in the County of Leicester will give us their help to make the show a success. We shall be pleased to accept entries from them and will post a schedule to any address in the county on receipt of a post-card. The prizes will be awarded from the entry fees on a sliding scale, and all gate money will be handed to the funds of the Leicester Children's Hospital. It is with confidence we make this appeal to Leicestershire fanciers to show their appreciation of the noble institution which does so much for the suffering little ones.

The Recent Stocksbridge Show.

Sir,—On behalf of my committee I wish to thank you and your reporter for the very excellent report of our show in your valuable paper. We were obliged to cancel the two open Foreign classes, and also the British Softbill class, owing to lack of entries. This was a surprise to us, as several well-known exhibitors in Sheffield, for whose benefit these classes were added, had promised their support. Yet not one of those who promised entered a single bird. Needless to say, the Stocksbridge fanciers are not likely to forget this when the next Sheffield open show comes round, and I rather fancy that if they will look up the Stocksbridge entries for the last two shows they will find that it will make no slight difference. We have not yet decided on our programme for 1913, but you may be sure that if we have any open classes, we shall not put our trust in promises, but advertise in your paper

Perches that Keep Down Red Mite.

Sir,—I was surprised at the view taken by Mr. Knapps re "Derby's" method of dealing with red mite. No doubt there is nothing like taking precautions for cleanliness, such as washing and disinfecting cages occasionally, as Mr. Knapp recommends. But Keating's powder I find best in its own place (as far as a bird fancier is concerned), when plentifully used in the nest during the breeding season. What could be more gratifying to a lover of birds than to be able to detect and effectively deal with the first appearance of red mite amongst his birds (which will come, sooner or later)? I have not had them myself for years, but I recollect having had quite enough of them on one occasion after a purchase of fresh stock. I use nothing but trap perches in my cages, but I do not prepare them as "Derby" recommends. I gather in winter the new growth of the elderberry tree, and cut them in lengths at the joints, which I find long enough for general use. Tie them in bundles and leave them to season. When required, get a piece of stout cage wire, bent slightly at one end—or, better still, bicycle spoke. Push the straight end down through the core and pull it right through. In this way the inside can be cleared completely. Then with a fine bradawl bore several clean holes in a row (to be looked on as the bottom of perch). Cut to exact length required and cork each end. By removing one cork and giving the end of perch a smart tap against a table, previously covered with a sheet of white paper, one can tell immediately if he is troubled with red mite or not. If they do appear, pop your perch into boiling water, which is easier than dipping the whole cage. Given a home like this red mite will never trouble any other portion of a cage (unless it is allowed to get overcrowded). I do not want your readers to think that I disapprove of or neglect the annual cleansing of cages, but I find that the trap perch will keep one in full command of red mite.

Wrong Classed at the Scottish National Show.

Sir,—Would Mr. J. Watson, who was one of the judges of the Border Fancy section at the recent Scottish National Show, kindly enlighten me re the "wrong classing" of my Uneven Cinnamon-marked Yellow Cock? He is marked each eye (the left eye mark being distinctly broken), each wing, and has a tick on back. Previous to the National I have shown him in five unevenly marked classes, viz., Newcastle, Border City (Carlisle), Whitehaven, Haltwhistle, and Gateshead, and he has been placed first each time, being passed as uneven by the following specialist judges: Messrs. W. C. Duncan, J. C. Barnes, John Robson, H. Davidson, and John Dixon. Surely this fact alone is definite proof that the bird was shown in his right class?

John Nicholson.

The Popularity of the Scotch Fancy Canary.

Sir,—I uphold Mr. C. Farrow's remarks in Cage Birds about the Cardiff Show, a show which I have never missed for a great number of years, having at one time between 20 and 30 birds in one class. At that time the outside exhibitors had a chance of winning a few specials; but of late we get only prize money, and I say a special, no matter how small it may be, is always appreciated by an outside exhibitor, and secretaries will find more entries at the shows if a few specials were offered, as the bird o'circle is a delicate plant to send all over without some recompense. A great risk is the railway. Label your case all over, but they seem to take no notice. I sent two to Edinburgh last week, and I got word this morning from the sec., Mr. Lile, that my birds did not arrive until 12.30, after the judging was all over, so I was too late. Fancy, from Barrow, all the way to Edinburgh, and only carelessness on the railway's part, as they left here soon enough, but better luck next year. Trusting the bird o'circle will be better patronised all over.

Rbt. Willison.

The Shows in Ireland.

Are Week-end Dates Detrimental?

Sir,—I think Mr. J. F. Morgan has touched the point in your last issue as to the cause of the shortage of entries at shows held in Ireland on a Saturday. I sent a team of birds to Newtownards with instructions to have them sent out first train Saturday morning or retain them till Monday. I have found out from the railway company they were not sent out till 3 p.m. Saturday, so the birds remained at Enniskillen Station from Saturday till Monday, and except for the kindness of the railway company's servants, who took them out and watered them, I would have received them back dead. They have been delayed the same way on another occasion coming from Larne. Some of these very societies who hold their shows at the week end will not trouble themselves to approach the railway companies to get facilities for birds to be carried back free. The only means fanciers at a distance have is keeping their birds at home—better than getting them back dead. I think also that specialist clubs should see, before granting their patronage to any society, that proper arrangements are made for the care and return of exhibits. I may say that the Belfast and Lurgan Societies, although they held their shows on a Saturday, always returned birds in good form, carriage free; but I think they would be wise in considering the idea of holding their shows in the middle of the week.

Are Charlock and Wild Mustard Different Plants?

Sir,—Re the article on "Wayside seeds, etc., for British Birds," by Mr. J. B. Clarke. In CAGE BIRDS of December 28th, 1912, he states that charlock, or wild mustard, are one and the same thing. This I may say is incorrect, as charlock (Sinapis arvensis) is a different species to wild mustard (Sinapis officinale). The former seldom grows to a height of eighteen inches, whereas the latter grows to a height of even seven feet. I saw to-day, Jan. 5th here in Cardigan a quantity of wild mustard from five to seven feet high. Both are very similar in pods; still, they are two different species of plants.

D. J. THOMAS.

The Standard Show Cage for Green Yorkshires.

Sir,—Allow me to ask readers of your valuable paper, CAGE BIRDS, which is the proper standard show cage for the Yorkshire Canary? Some of the Liverpool exhibitors (G.C.A. members) are showing in the punch bar show cages, and these show cages are not as long as the lapped wire cages. The Green Canary Association syllabus states that all members must use standard show cages, or points will not count for season's specials. The birds that are shown in the lapped wire cages don't look quite as large as those shown in the others, and therefore must stand down a little. I have always used the lapped wire cage, thinking that was the standard cage. I hope some fancier will enlighten me as to what is the real show cage. I wish CAGE BIRDS continued success.

Short Entries at Scottish Shows.

Are Clique Judges the Cause?

Sir,—I may say that I have exhibited four times at the Scottish National. The first year I made nine entries in British and Mules, the highest award being fifth prize. Since then I have exhibited Borders (last year and this year) but have only succeeded in winning an eighth prize out of eight entries, in the two shows. I examined the catalogue this year, the biggest bulk of the prizes awarded in the Border section going to the fanciers in the Scotch districts. It states in the Border Club rules that we must have the standard show cage, black, and only plain canary seed at the bottom. I should like to ask what about the twisted perches which are in all the Scotch exhibitor's cage? I ordered my show cages from one of the best Scotch makers, but when they came to me they had not the twisted perches in them, just the ordinary perch. I may say that this year there were eleven entries in Borders from within ten miles where I reside, and they were birds which had held their own in our English shows. Now, at the Scotch show the awards were 2-fifths, 1-seventh, and 1-eighth out of eleven entries. CONSTANT READER.

Sir,—I would like to give other reasons for short entries at our Scottish shows, as I differ from your correspondent, "Lover of Justice," who makes an unpleasant inference on our present judges, and very hurtful to the Fancy, too. Now, I think last year about this time, or thereby, "Lover" joined hands with many more "Lovers" in Fife, and contended earnestly for "Fife judges for Fife shows," with what result? Many of them were chosen. The true-spirited fanciers elsewhere responded to their wishes, and gave them good entries at their early shows. At Lochgelly, which was a splendid show, there was a record entry. But what happened to the others? The "Lovers of Justice" got an early glance at the quality of the birds they had to face for the year, and so the other Fife shows suffered, as many of the so-called "Lovers" kept their birds at home. I have seen "Lover of Justice" well pleased with a 1st, two 2nds, a 3rd, a he, this year for five entries at one show, while there were only 53 birds in 12 classes. His outlay for his birds alone was 10s. 6d, while he had 8s. as a total prize money, with a deduction of 4s. for prize cards, thus leaving him 4s. The show referred to gave many specials for this section, and yet for 12 classes there was an entry of 53 birds. At this same show an exhibitor well known to "Lover of Justice" had £1 19s. total cash in prizes and cash specials, with a deduction of 17s. for prize cards. Another exhibitor, at another show, had 10 entries, and entry fees, membership fee, and rail fare for his birds, cost him £1 0s. 10d. He was in the "models" with 9 birds; the other 4th. He had 15s. in full as prize money and 9s. deducted for cards. So as a winner he had 6s. returned to him! Now I could fill your columns with similar cases. But the above is sufficient to show that the price charged for prize cards has something to do with short entries at our shows.

When writing on this vexed subject my memory goes back and brings up before me the many "Lovers of Justice" I have met at shows, and the harm they have done the Fancy. All that is required to start this kind of "Lover of Justice" is to ask why he was not showing at such and such a show. Then he, regardless of how many young fanciers are present, makes wild assertions as to the rotten judgment given by the judge, and tells the old story (about 30 years old, to my knowledge, but handed down from one "Lover" to another) that it's "put me in this week, and I'll put you in next." Another favourite story of the "Lover" is, you can buy birds from all the judges, but you cannot win more than a V.H.C. or a C. with them. Another is that the judges can pick up from "Lovers" and other aspiring judges wasters and win with them. Most judges have well paid for their experience, and are not in the first instance going to give away birds to beat themselves for the trifling sums that these "Lovers" are prepared to pay; secondly, they would not be worthy of the name of judge if they saw a good bird being sold as a songster, or a feeder, or sent to a dealer by "Lovers of Justice," who did not know it was a good one, if they did not try and obtain and go on and win with the bird, and thus show he was really a judge. Now, I hold that these so-called "Lovers of Justice," who have never seen an honest man but themselves, have done more harm to the Fancy than all the other causes put together for they have stopped many from going further into this pleasant hobby other than by keeping a songster. The young fancier who has taken his birds for the first time to the show, listens to "Lover of Justice," takes his wild assertions as facts, and if he gets nothing, why his stock is for sale. Can we wonder at it? Another reason for short entries is that at many shows fanciers have a long distance to go to the station. As night approaches, they try to get their birds. The officials know that with smart walking, if you know your way about, you can reach the station in 20 minutes or fifteen minutes, and very often they say come back at such and such a time. Sometimes when you go back they are engaged, for they have told so many the same tale. So when you get your birds and run for the station you are too late for the train. A fancier that has won may enter again, but the losers do not. Then, again, we have too many shows on the same dates. But "Lover of Justice," in his mind of perfection, fails to see any other reasons for short entries than his imaginary "clique judges." I now hear it mooted that he is not for local judges next time; his chorus is "over the Border for a judge." He has, however, very seldom sent any birds out of Fife. I have been watching many "Lovers of Justice" for a considerable time. Their study has not been centred on improving their birds, but to imitate the staging of the winners, and through weak competition, and their lack of ability to discriminate, they often have made themselves believe they tricked the judges. Now I could say much more through my long experience on this matter, but hope I have said sufficient to give your correspondent justice.

THE Advertising Medium of 1913.

CONVINCING PROOF OF ITS POWER.

In last week's issue we pointed out how essential is the publicity afforded by "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913 to all who cater for the needs of fanciers.

If further proof is necessary we have it in a testimonial, which, quite unsolicited, reached us on January 1st. It reads:

Kindly put my advertisement in the—"Annual" for 1913; the same one will do that was in the 1912 "Annual," as I've done well with it.

I must tell you that I had an order for cages the last day of the year.

(Signed) H. HICKS.

5, Rosedale Villas,
Priory Road, Hampton.

The advertisement referred to is an eighth-page, costing only 2s. 6d. Note well its drawing power, from beginning to end of the year.

For the Occasional Advertiser.

For every regular advertiser there are a dozen occasional advertisers, and for these "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913 is the medium par excellence. Just think of it, a single small outlay and a little time spent on drawing up copy—we shall be delighted to do this for you if you will let us—and business will result throughout the year.

For Cage and Appliance Makers.

This year fanciers the world over will be setting their houses in order, and the demand for good cages and appliances will be great. If you can supply these, let it be known through "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913.

For Food, Seed, and Medicine Retailers.

Who knows better than the earnest fancier how necessary are good seeds and foods, and how important it is to have medicine for emergencies in his bird-room. All fanciers will be continually referring to the pages of "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913. You can advertise in it with great effect.

For All Bird Breeders.

"The best blood": There will be an enormous demand for this by aspirants to show honours during 1913-1914. You will find a "Breeders' Card" in the "Annual" for 1913 a source of many enquiries for your stock.

For All Dealers.

During show season 1912-1913 the British and Foreign bird classes have been remarkably well patronised, and the demand for winners is sure to increase. Catchers and dealers who can secure good British, or who are able to supply tip-top Foreign birds, will find many buyers through an advertisement in "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913.

The birdrooms of some of the largest Canary breeders and dealers contain stock that aspiring exhibitors would be glad to secure, and for which good prices are obtainable. Those Canary dealers who wish to make 1913 a year of big sales and high prices should not miss the opportunity of being represented in "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913.

For Judges of Cage Birds.

Club and Society Secretaries will find "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913 indispensable. The benefit of an announcement setting forth your record cannot be over-estimated. Try the value of a "Judge's Card."

For Specialist Clubs.

Secretaries! Do you want to increase the scope of your club; to secure new members or applications for your patronage? A certain way to bring this about is an announcement in "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913.

For Cage Bird Societies.

Secretaries! Does your membership satisfy you? There may be in your district hundreds of fanciers whose membership would be highly beneficial to your society. And they will all have "Cage Birds Annual" for 1913 as their guide. Do you see the point?

FOR ONE AND ALL!

Our service in drawing up "copy" will be gladly given free of charge to any who wish it. Let us hear from you not later than January 18th. Rates and other particulars will be found elsewhere in this issue. It should be noted that advertising breeders will have their names and addresses printed free in the directory of prominent breeders, and that other advertisers will be mentioned, also free, in the invaluable Trade Directory and Buyers' Guide.

If you desire further or fuller information, we shall welcome your enquiry. Write at once: The Manager, "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Proposed Roller Singing Club for Walkden and District.

Sir,—I have been asked by several Roller fanciers in Walkden and the surrounding districts to form a Roller Club. I know there are many who are interested in this variety, and with those who have promised to join no doubt we can get a very good club together, so rally round, fanciers, and let us see what we can do. All anxious to join should please communicate with me at 50, Newearch Rd., Walkden, to arrange a meeting—place, time and, date. I shall be very pleased to do my best to help.

H. HOWARD.

Sympathy with a Well-known Secretary.

Sir,—All your readers to whom Mr. R. B. Wright, hon. sec. of Anfield, Everton and Dist. Cage Bird Society, is known, will be prepared to offer to him their deepest sympathy and condolence in his most recent bereavement. He has had a continuance of family troubles of late, first his father's death was a great blow, then his mother's serious illness, so quickly followed by the death last week of his favourite daughter. I am sure all the members of the Liverpool and District Societies will join in the wish here expressed, that as the New Year ripens his prospects may become brighter.

A SYMPATHISER.

Date of Crystal Palace Show.

Sir,—For as many years as I can remember, the Palace Show has been held from the Friday to Tuesday. If the days were changed to from Wednesday to Saturday, the show would have to remain open on the last day till 9.30 p.m., partly to secure the Saturday gate money, but mainly to give an opportunity of seeing the show to the thousands who, being engaged in offices and warehouses are unable to visit the show on any other day. Callers would be able to take their birds away between 10 and 11.45 on the Saturday night, but rail birds would have to remain in the show, and be packed on Sunday afternoon for despatch by Sunday night trains. I do not care for Sunday labour when it can be avoided, but if there is really a widespread demand for the alteration, I will submit the matter to my committee and the Crystal Palace Company, provided that those who wish for the alteration send me a post-card to that effect before the end of the month. In any case, no alteration can be made in the time stated above for closing on the Saturday. Saturday is the popular day, as proved by the fact that I have sold as many as a thousand catalogues on the Saturday afternoon and evening.

J. W. RAMSDEN,
Show Manager.

New Society for Wanstead.

Sir,—A new society has been formed by a number of fanciers to be known as the Wanstead F. and F.S. We have started with a membership of 45, and this number bids fair to double itself by our next meeting. We held a members' show on Dec. 9, at which there were about 60 exhibits, which we think was a very fair start. The exhibits were of a very fair quality, and we hope in the near future to be able to greatly improve on them. We shall esteem it a favour if you will kindly make these facts known in CAGE BIRDS. At our annual general meeting, Jan. 13, we expect to have a large muster of members and intended members.

Can Bronchial Affections in Birds Be Cured?

Sir,—Permit me to ask brother (or sister) fanciers a question. I have a valuable Canary suffering from a bronchial affection. I have had others, and have tried all manner of remedies, demulcents, expectorants, astringents, narcotics, and their combinations, from formamint downwards. I have followed closely the remedial courses advised from time to time in our paper—without avail, however. I have certainly relieved, but never cured. Must it be accepted as a fact that a bird which has contracted some form or other of bronchial affection, or asthma, has, so to speak, "handed in his checks"? And does it immediately resolve itself into a longer or shorter period of suffering, with death as its ending? Will some kind fancier who has more experience than I have, give us their views on the matter. Mercy prompts the question. I wish CAGE BIRDS continuance and increase of prosperity, which it so richly merits, in the New Year.

DESPAIR.

WARRINGTON C.B.S.

Annual members' show held New Year's Day, in the new concert room of the Blue Bell Hotel. This being the final show for cups and shield, the competition was very keen. Some extra good quality birds were on view, and gave the judge a stiff job. The Yorks. put down by Mr. Knowles, of Earlston, were a picture, while the Norwich of Messrs. Weston, Higham, Fitchard, Nelson, etc., were worth going a long way to see. The worthy sec., Mr. G. M. Nelson, put down his famous team of wee gems. Messrs. Mort, Clare, and Barnett had quite a battle royal in British, each singing a beauty or two. The show was well patronised by the local fanciers. The secretary informs us he can do with a few more members from the outlying districts, so hurry up, fanciers; the society is worthy of your help. All entry fees are given back to members—an admirable way of giving encouragement to the novice. Mr. Knowles had quite a field day in specials, capturing Ramsden's and best in show. Mr. J. W. Metcalfe, of Liverpool, judged, and his awards were well received.

The Critique.

YORKS. YELL.: 1, 2, Knowles, rare length, straight as arrows, well filled in necks, put down in form. BUFF: 1, 2, Knowles, winner takes Ramsden's medal, shooty, round as a pencil, glorious feather, 2nd cinn. mkd., grand back, pipe tail; 3, Johnson, wing mkd., nice type, full of swank. HEN, YELL.: 1, 2, Knowles, topping hen, takes sp best in show, lovely front, straight as a gun barrel, exquisitely dressed, 2nd var. cinn. mkd., grand carriage, charming qual., full of nerve; 3, vhc, Johnson, wing mkd., rare shape and style, fails qual. to above. Hen, BUFF, cancelled. NOR. YELL.: 1, Fitchard, variegd., bold head, bull neck, short wings and tail, fair frontal; 2, vhc, Nelson, cl., rattling head and neck, bold eye, lovely qual., shade longer than winner; 3, Higham, var., looked like a hen, if so, a real good 'un; hc, Weston; c, Mort. BUFF: 1, Fitchard, cl., real good one, massive front, short flights, extra col., capital form; 2, Weston, runs very close, champion head, neck, and wings, tail well packed, glorious qual.; 3, Nelson, var., fair col., capital back, bold eye, hardly checks of above; vhc, Higham. YELL. HEN.: 1, Nelson, charming little girl, neat all through, but not quite enough subs.; 2, Weston, again smart, but small, lovely col. and qual., little to choose. BUFF: 1, 3, Nelson, short and compact, Bullfinch type, takes perches freely, sweet head and neck; 2, Weston, a good big one, capital round head, thick set neck, on to a good body, near thing, 3rd longer, fair size, grand condition, good breed hen; vhc, hc, Higham. BORD. YELL. COCK.: 1, 2, Nelson, two charming chaps, very jaunty and free, lovely contour, fine texture of silky feather, put down in style; 3, Warburton, neat shape, fair quality, capital condition, just a bit flat on head. BUFF: 1, 3, Nelson, smart, capital type, neat head, compact wings, and well rooted tail, 3rd sweet head and neck, close fitting clothes, jaunty and free; 2, hc, Pitchford, very near thing, charming style, moves well, lovely contour, just beaten qual. YELL. HEN: 1, Nelson, tasty damsel, full of life, round as can be, quite a gem; 2, Barnett, another of the correct type, jaunty, take perches well, rare sweep; 3, vhc, Pitchford, variegd., grand qual. and shape, neat front, just droops tail a bit; hc, Warburton. YELL. GR. OR CINN.: 1, 2, 3, c, Higham, very nice team of greens, winner looks like a hen, excellent shape, champion pencilling and ground col, 2nd shapely Border, good head, back, and tail, lovely qual., 3rd fair size, yell. green cock, good head and neck; vhc, Nelson; hc, Barnett. BUFF: 1, Nelson, smart green Border, looks well, rare markings and ground col., gem for shape; 2, 3, c, Higham, pair Nor. greens, nice Nor. properties, excellent col. and ground work; vhc, hc, Clare. MULE OR HYB.: 1, Clare, Linnet Mule, fair size, good col., lovely condition; 2, Barnett, similar for size, better col., foul tail; 3, Nelson, Goldie Mule, fine shape and col., bit rough. GOLDIE, ETC.: 1, c, Mort, real good Goldie, expansive blaze, even buttons, extra in tanning; 2, 3, Barnett, Bullie, well cut cap, fair size and condition, charming col.; 3, Chaffinch, big one, steady, good whites and sheen; vhc, Nelson; hc, Eckersley. LINNET: 1, Burnett, rare col., nicely pencilled cone shape; 2, Nelson, extra size and condition, but wild; 3, Eckersley, medium size, good work and shape. SISKIN, ETC.: 1, Clare; 2, Mort; 3, Barnett. A.O.V.: 1, 2, Mort, lovely 'Hammer, steady as a rock, perfect V, in grand order, 2nd massive Hawfinch, real good cap and bib, nice plumage; 3, Barnett, Greenie, fair shape and size, fine skull.

BOLTON ROLLER C.S.

Annual Singing Contest, December 31st, and January 1st, in their showroom at the Joiners' Arms Hotel, Deansgate, Bolton, which is specially adapted for the purpose, being well lighted, warm, and free from draughts. Entries did not quite come up to expectations being a few short of last year, but the birds that were sent were the cream of the Fancy. One of the things that was remarked upon was the absence of London birds, only one or two fanciers showing. Several water tins which would not hold water were sent, and we had to change them for the seed tins. If it had not been for the vigilance of the stewards some of the birds would have been without water. There was a good muster of visitors, nearly all the leading Lancashire fanciers being present. Mr. Lyons, Blackburn, and Mr. Walton, Leeds, were the judges and gave every satisfaction.

HAWARDEN C.B.S.

Second annual show held December 28th in the Gymnasium. The room is a capital one for a show, having good light and being free from draughts. There was a good entry of over 160, and some capital birds were staged. The enthusiastic Secretary, Mr. J. T. Lloyd, had everything well in hand, and the judging was got through in good time, and the rush when the doors were opened promised that the gate would be a good one. Mr. S. Hadwin, Liverpool, judged, and gave every satisfaction.

WAUNARLWYDD.

First show of the above society was held January 2,, in Sheppard's Hall. The venture proved a success, entries coming up remarkably well, and quality throughout was most excellent, many well-known winners being staged. Another year the committee might safely give an extended classification in the Canary section; we feel sure, with the excellent management, exhibitors will support with their entries. The exhibits were nicely staged, and had every attention given to them by a keen lot of fanciers. The hall is a capital place for a bird show, being roomy and quite free from all draughts. Mr. Jack Walters makes an admirable secretary, having a firm grip of his work, and was most affable and courteous to all. He was well backed up by a good hard-working committee. Mr. J. H. Payne made the awards.

CRADLEY HEATH F.S.

Sixth annual show, held Dec. 18 and 19 in the Victoria Hall, kindly lent by Mr. J. Barnes. Entries turned up better this year, competition in some of the classes being very strong. The Secretary, Mr. W. Broadbent, had everything in apple-pie order, and some very nice specimens were staged by Messrs. E. Hingley, Dudley, Raybould, Grove, and others, Mr. Hingley winning challenge cup for best bird with a wonderful young Chough, which looks like making a champion. Prize cards were up in good time. Mr. Hanford, in place of Mr. Ward, judged, and his awards were well received.

BINGLEY AND DISTRICT O.S.

Annual Boxing Day show, distribution of prizes, and discussion on the Yorkshire Canary generally, held in the Co-operative Assembly Rooms. Mr. H. W. Walsh (Halifax) judged to the satisfaction of everyone. The concluding points for the year are:—S. Denby, 79; A. M. Craven, 74; Livesey and Son, 72; Ed. Townley, 40; S. H. Bailey, 36; W. Dean, 26; R. Wade, 26; G. Lee, 29; H. Shaw, 24; Butterworth and Hardy, 21; T. Smith, 19; A. Blakey, 18; H. Hardacre, 16; G. H. Sunderland, 4; A. Godwin, 3. The awards for the show were:—CL. OR TKD. YELL.: 1, 3, Craven; 2, Dean; 4, Bailey; vhc, Lee; hc, Blakey. BUFF: 1, Craven; 2, 4, Townley; 3, Livesey and Son; vhc, Bailey; hc, Dean. CL. OR TKD. YELL. HEN: 1, 4, Craven; 2, Smith; 3, Dean; vhc, Townley; hc, Butterworth and Hardy; c, Bailey. BUFF: 1, Livesey and Son; 2, 3, Craven; 4, Dean; vhc, Townley; hc, Lee; c, Bailey. EVEN: 1, vhc, Craven; 2, Lee; 3, Butterworth and Hardy; 4, Bailey; hc, Townley. HEN: 1, Butterworth and Hardy; 2, Craven; 3, Townley. SELF, ETC., GR.: 1, 2, Hardacre. ROLLER: 1, 2, 3, 4, Livesey and Son. On Dec. 28 the President, Mr. G. H. Lee, presented the prizes. The society's silver cup, valued at £3 3s., was presented to Mr. S. Denby, it being his third year of holding it. Other prizes, which were thankfully received from tradesmen in the district, were presented in the following order:—Ship Inn, box of cigars, Mr. S. Denby; Co.-op. Society's copper kettle, A. M. Craven; Geo. Browne's breakfast cruet, Livesey and Son; Tomlinson's pair of vases, Ed. Townley; Granby Hotel, pint whisky or rum, W. Dean; W. A. Cowburn's pipe, R. Wade; H. Hall's tobacco pouch, G. H. Lee; Volan's special bottle of wine or half-pound of tea, H. Shaw; Kershaw's half-stone of apples, Butterworth and Hardy; Sandiford's medal, S. H. Bailey. Very good wishes were given to each recipient and suitably responded to. Mr. James Hartley, of Bingley, gave an admirable lecture on the present status of the Yorkshire Canary, explaining his views that the Yorkshire Canary was deteriorating, the members being especially interested on account of a recent article in CAGE BIRDS. Mr. Hartley holds that no person ought to be allowed to be a member of three or four societies in one Union, and that a Union should give each society a radius so that no other society could join within that radius. His views are strong on this point; it causes too much inbreeding, which is to the detriment of the Fancy. Inbreeding should only be practised where a direct object is in view. Mr. Hartley pointed out also the result of breeding with too many hens run with one cock, and also breeding with birds before they are fully matured, the consequence being that the market was flooded with many birds without the proper stamina of the show specimen. Questions were asked by Messrs. Lee, Denby, Dean, and Wade, and admirably answered by Mr. Hartley. Mr. H. Shaw gave a good outline of how to run an open show. A vote of thanks to Mr. Hartley was proposed by Mr. G. H. Lee, seconded by Mr. W. Dean, and carried unanimously, and thus ended a very pleasant evening.—Asa Livesey, sec.

DUNFERMLINE AND WEST FIFE.

Held Jan. 1-2, in Drill Hall, which is an ideal room, being well lighted and free from draughts. Entries in the Canary classes showed a falling off, especially in Plain Heads (judge, Mr. J. Smeaton, Musselburgh), and were a poor return for an extension of classes. Borders (Judge, Mr. Arnot, Kirkcaldy) were fairly up to average, despite the counter attraction in the Scottish capital. Crests and Crest breds were down, none of the eight classes being filled, but the quality in some was excellent. Mr. Paul (Uphall) judged these, and left no room for adverse comment. Mules, Hybrids, and British were favoured with a record entry, the awards being placed by Mr. J. Steel (Dalkeith), who managed to pick out most of those which have already proved their qualities. Favoured as this society is with the patronage of most of the nobility in the Fife Kingdom, the financial question is non est. Mr. Alex. Hynd pilots the cage bird section in a manner which resembles clockwork, and is assisted by a crew of real workers. Many fanciers were quite unaware of the fixture. Not a single entry came from the south side of the Tweed, due, doubtless, to the fact that the fixture was not advertised. Points special over show was won by A. Moffat (Musselburgh). The show was well patronised by the public.

FALKLAND O.S.

Fifty-third annual show held in the Town Hall, January 2nd. The hall is a good one for the purpose, there being a good light and every comfort for the exhibits in the way of temperature. The office bearers are a grand set, the genial president, Mr. John Angus, being the life of the show, and doing his utmost to ensure its success, while the members of committee, Messrs. Cation, Gold, Litster, Fulton, Melville, and Reedie, were very active in carrying the show to a successful end. The treas., Mr. McLaughlan, had charge of the section, and was very courteous and obliging to all, while the sec., Mr. Anderson, had all his arrangements well forward. The entry was a good bit back on last year, only about 60 birds being forward, several of the classes having to be cancelled. This is a very poor reward for the society's enterprise in engaging two judges for the cage birds, and we hope by another season that fanciers will rally round this, one of the oldest societies in the country, and give them a bumper entry. The judges were Mr. Leslie (Thornton) and Mr. C. White (Pathhead), but Mr. White lost his train, leaving Mr. Leslie to take the whole section.

PORT GLASGOW, GREENOCK & GOUROCK

Annual show held January 4, in the Boilermakers' Hall, Greenock, under the patronage of the Lord Provost, magistrates, and town councillors of Greenock. The entry was a fairly good one, totalling 250, much about the same as last year, and the birds were nicely arranged all round the hall. The staging was tastefully decorated. The hall is a very suitable one, plenty of light and abundance of room. Some very nice Crests and Crest-breds, fit to win anywhere, were shown by Mr. S. Loudan, who secured medal for best Canary. Borders were a fine lot, and special for best was captured by President Stewart. British contained some fine outstanding birds, especially the winning Goldfinch belonging to Mr. Mackay, which won cup for best British, medal for best Goldfinch, and vase for best in section. The small foreigners exhibited by Mr. Cameron were a very pretty lot. The management was in the hands of Mr. Samuel Loudan, who had all arrangements well in hand. He was ably assisted by a willing committee, including President T. Stewart, vice-pres. J. Smith, sec. and treas. J. Service; stewards: McKay, Ralston, Molley, and McKie. The judges were: Canaries, Mr. George Smart; remainder, Mr. R. V. Raine, and we heard no grumbling.

The Critique.

ANNFIELD PLAIN F.F. AND C.B.S.

First annual open show, held January 4th. The cage bird section was staged in the Co-operative hall, a really grand place for the purpose, lofty and large, any amount of light, and provided with every comfort for the welfare of the exhibits. Entries came up splendidly, totalling 359, and quality in all sections was grand, many tip-top specimens being staged in every section. Borders, with four classes, topped the averages, with 16 per class. Norwich averaged nearly 15 per class in six classes, and Yorkshires came up well with just over 11 per class in six classes. British also made a fine display, and although not quite up to the average of the other sections, they were quite equal in quality. The staging was very creditably arranged, and reflected every credit upon those responsible for the arrangements. The society is well supported by a grand body of officials, consisting of the President, Mr. Atherley Jones, M.P.; chairman, Mr. W. Hall; vice-chairman, Mr. G. Lane; treasurer, Mr. M. Davison and Messrs. Calaway, Williams, Hutchinson, Oxley, Goodchild, and others, all keen fanciers, and doing their level best to enable the show to prove a success. The man at the helm is the genial and courteous secretary, Mr. J. W. Christon, whom we found to be a thorough worker, hard working, yet withal, most obliging to everyone, and evidently most popular with all who have dealings with him. He got through his arduous duties in a most creditable manner, and without the slightest hitch, and the ability with which he handles the secretarial reins must be a source of gratification to the members of the society, who, we understand, hold him in the highest esteem. Great praise must be given to Mr. W. Tomlinson, the genial secretary of the Chopwell C.B.S., who in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Christon, rendered great help, and practically undertook the secretarial work during the morning, he being a source of great assistance to the assistant secretary, Mr. G. Lane. The show was well patronised, and we noticed many well-known fanciers present. We think that the committee will be able to note with satisfaction the financial side of the show. Special prize-winners were: Best Yorkie, also most points in young Yorks., Mr. E. Pyman. Mr. J. Armstrong took sp. for best Nor., also Sandiford's medal. Special for most entries in open section went to Messrs. Stanger and Herdman. The judges were Mr. T. Dixon, Bedlington, and Mr. J. Slack, the latter taking the British section, owing to the heavy entry.

WISHAW (Clydesdale) CBS

Annual open show held in Mr. Watson's Hall, Young Street, 1st Jan. Entries were taken up till the morning of the show, but fanciers would lighten Mr. Watson's work to a great extent if they would send their entries one or two days previous. If anything was lacking, it was due to exhibitors holding up their entries till the morning of the show, as Mr. Watson is a very energetic secretary and quite the right man in the right place. He had a very hard morning's work, as he took over two hundred entries with the able assistance of Mr. Dan McPhee. Judging was a little late in starting through the late entry. President Mr. Pringle was always in attendance, and also Mr. Jas. Wright, vice-pres., who headed a very hard-working committee comprising Messrs. A. Allardice, sen., R. Wyper, R. Gemmell, H. McKenna, R. Richmond, A. Allardice, jun., A. Ray, C. Pollock, D. McAllister, J. Nimmo, and Wm. Watson. All the above are well-known fanciers, and the exhibits were attended to at once when they arrived unaccompanied, and were watered immediately each class was judged. Entries came well up, totalling over 400, and Mr. Watson informs us that the show he believes is a financial success, the gate coming up to its usual standard, the hall being well packed with visitors during the afternoon. The management would be well advised to take advantage of the "Show Dates" columns in CAGE BIRDS. The income would more than cover the expense, as this show is becoming a well-known New Year fixture, especially in the county of Lanark and the surrounding districts, British birds were the feature of the show, and it would probably be to the interests of the society if they would engage a specialist judge for this section, although Mr. Haddow, who made the awards, gave what we thought entire satisfaction. Mr. Griffiths drew an excellent entry in the Crest section, and the Norwich Plainheads were up to their usual, but the entry in Scotch Fancies was disappointing. Mr. Allardice has done his very best to uphold this section in the district, but he has had very little support from Glasgow and elsewhere. Owing to the late start the management had to engage Mr. Marlin to judge the following classes: Siskin, Bramblefinch and Chaffinch, Mules, Foreign, Goldfinches, and the specials throughout the British section. The following were the judges: Mr. E. Boyle (Wishaw), Mr. Wm. Haddow (Hamilton), assisted by Geo. Marlin (Hamilton) and Mr. Wm. Griffiths (Glasgow), and their awards were received with general satisfaction.

TREDEGAR (Mon).

First open show held Jan. 2, in the Town Hall, one of the best halls for the purpose, wonderfully lighted, entirely free from draughts, and situated in centre of town. Success crowned the first venture, over 400 birds facing the judge. All the South Wales cracks were up against one another, and some keen fighting went on. The society deserves every credit for running the show so late, as open shows have been galore in S.W., and it was asking a big thing to risk it. However, the cracks put out to a man, showing implicit faith in the Tredegar committee. Norwich opened the ball, and a bonny lot they were, comparing very favourably with the Northern birds. Yorkshires created a furore. For type and shape they want some beating, but some are just a shade on the small side. The winning novice buff was a clinker, quite an ideal Yorkie; its owner should be proud of him. Novice classes were hot stuff, containing some smart exhibits. British and Mules were a show on their own, and very hard to separate. The Welshmen seem to set themselves out to stage eye openers in this section. Many flinches that are winning in England to-day first adorned a Welshman's room. "Cymru Am Byth!" Special winners were:—Hyde's, Mr. Powell; best Nor. cock and best hen, G. T. Jones; Yorks. cock, E. Richards; hen, J. Parfitt; Brit., J. H. Jones; members' Nor. cock, E. Powell; hen, J. Griffiths. Unfortunately Mr. Price's birds did not arrive until 2.30 p.m. Mr. Evan Powell had charge of the show, assisted by a very hardworking committee in Messrs. D. Davies, Woodall, Bennet, Milliard, H. O. Jones, Bartlett, Hull, D. Turner, Lewis, R. G. Griffiths, W. Turner, T. Bevan, and J. Llewellyn. Mr. E. J. Bevan is the treasurer, and a worker, while the secretarial reins are in the hands of Mr. Watkins, who runs the show like an old hand. We did not catch the name of the young lady who was helping, marking catalogues, watering the birds, and doing much for the visitors' comfort. Prospective assistant secretary, eh, Mr. Watkins? There was a good gate, and we trust a great financial success will be the reward. Mr. J. W. Metcalfe, Liverpool, judged, and his placings gave entire satisfaction.

CHIRNSIDE.

Thirty-second annual show held in Volunteer Hall, Jan. 1. Entries showed a slight increase, and the quality was of the best. Mr. A. Shiell is still Secretary and no further remarks need be made as to management. The Stewards, Messrs. Young, Denholm and Ferguison, gave every attention to the Judge and exhibits. A good deal of interest was taken in a bird shown in the Mule class, which won 1st and spl, many fanciers being of opinion that it was a variegated Border Fancy. Our own opinion is that the breeder has, like many another, made a mistake either with exchange of eggs or young birds, as we really failed to trace the Linnet in it. We will not be surprised to see the owner breed some rare good Borders from him. Borders, as usual, were the feature of the show. The Judge, Mr. Murray, Broxburn, made his debut at this show. The cup and B.F.C.C. medal was won by Mr. J. Young, Allanton, with a yellow uneven cock. Varieties were fairly well represented, a nice Thrush and Silver Greenfinch came in for a deal of attention. A good attendance in the afternoon and evening made the executive put on a happy smile.

The Critique.

CL. YELL. BORD. LOUGHBOROUGH.

The initial venture of this noted "hosiery centre" held January 4th, was an undoubted success. The entry was a capital one, and our Midland friends were in raptures over the glorious and exceedingly meritorious exhibits that were placed under their care. No fancier need lack the utmost confidence on any future occasion in forwarding his most valued specimens. They will be in safe keeping and judiciously handled; better management we have not observed this season. The Temperance Hall was the rendezvous. Possessing grand light, spacious and well ventilated, the hall is absolutely void of draughts, and cosy to the extreme; a very commendable venue. The membership is not strong, but is comprised of the most enthusiastic of fanciers. All are workers of a strenuous order, and their full desires are to enrol as many new members as possible. In the midst of breeders and most centrally situated, we venture to predict a great future for Loughborough Society. Mr. J. H. Caldwell, Chairman, knows to a nicety the correct manipulation that is required of one who holds this all-important position. Great praise is due to him for the very able manner in which he officiates. His understudy, Mr. C. Dutner, presses hard his colleague, his undoubted ability proves of rare assistance, and should the chair become vacant on any unforeseen circumstances cropping up, he will fill the same admirably. The committee worked with a will. All gave of their best, and laudable efforts were put forth by Messrs. Foster, Sharp, James, Ball, Ward, Jeffries and Widdowson. The "house" could not have been kept in a more orderly or a more methodical manner; everything went as smoothly as marriage bells. Last, but by no means least, we wish to speak of the very energetic and most courteous Secretary, Mr. V. A. Harris. Although fresh to this kind of work, his advanced views and his business abilities stand him in good stead. Tact and perseverance place him amongst the most valued of servants. He is the right man in the right place, is a great asset, and under his control success is bound to be attained. The patronage of the Midland C.Y.C. Club was in evidence, their very valuable trophies were being competed for, thus bringing in combat most of the cream of the Midlands. Yorkshires beyond doubt were the feature of the function. In most of the classes it was a case of Midlands v. North. Special prizes were gained as follows: Best Lanes., Mr. F. J. Green; Yorks., L. Dykes; A.O.V., unfli. Nor. and best Nor. in show, R. D. Parlett; Brit. (memb.), J. James; York hen (memb.), W. P. Foster; Nor. hen (memb.), J. H. Caldwell; Hyde's (no name in catalogue); most points Nor., Messrs. E. Fox and J. Thomas tied, this award being given to Messrs. E. Fox for best team shown (Committee's decision). Stewards, who practically and effectively officiated, were Messrs. Widdowson, James and Foster. Staging was neatness itself, three tier high, all specimens seen at a glance. During the early part of the afternoon arrangements were made with the railway officials to return exhibits by early trains, so as to reach home same night where possible. All long distance birds were got off first. By orders of their owners, many birds were being held over until Monday, and same were looked after with every care. Judging was over in good time and cards affixed promptly as each class was adjudicated upon. The weather unfortunately was of a very moist description, no doubt keeping many visitors away. Mr. J. C. Barnes, Sheffield, judged, and his placings met with universal approval.

The Critique.

NOR. YELL. (4): 1, Leng, mkd. wing and eyes, capital feather and col., neat head and neck, bold chest, A1 wing carr., clean cut away; 2, Thomas, lightly varieg., ablaze with col., short and thick set, rich feather, loose behind or might have won; 3, Hulse, mkd. head, wonderful subs., silky texture, good head, neck and chest, crosses wings which tells against it; vhc, Caldwell. BUFF (8): 1, Fox, very massive var., rattling shape and carr., lovely feather, tight as a Java, well put down; 2, Thomas, cobby cl., teeming with qual. and col., jaunty in movement, beaten in subs., yet close up; 3, Dodd, mkd. wings and eyes, red hot, capital feather, plenty of size, little free of feather behind; vhc, Leng; hc, Freestone; c, Clarke. HEN (10): 1, Thomas, charming cl. yell., round as a ball, nice subs., delightful carr., bewitching; 2, Fox, magnificently shaped cl. buff, clothed to perfection, rich col. and frosting, pressed hard; 3, Dean, very promising unfli. cl. buff, sweetly moulded, rich tone of col., smooth as wax, hardly so large; vhc, Walton and Noakes; c, Hulse. YELL. UNFLI. (10): 1, Parlett, massive cl. yell., delightful shape, col. and feather, clock-like action, stood 4th Scottish National, gem; 2, Fox, cl., lovely quality and col., beautiful shape and carr., not a feather misplaced, beaten a little in size; 3, vhc, Walton and Noakes, mkd. wing and head, hot as a stove, A1 feather, nice shape, not quite so thick throughout; hc, Growdridge and Sons. BUFF (12): 1, Parlett, cl., rattling subs. and shape, superb col. and feather, lovely carr., 2nd Scottish National, should make a topper; 2, Hulse, grandly fed and richly clothed cl., shapely, nice subs., not depth of front, yet most promising; 3, Walton and Noakes, mkd. neck, good type and qual., neat carr., not so large or so rich in col. as above; vhc, Sharman; hc, Moores; c, Millward. NOV. YELL. (15): 1, Briggs and Walker, mkd. wings and eyes, ablaze with col., short and thick set, tight as wax, not of the largest but of the smartest description; 2, Hoperoft, mkd. head, silky feather, well up in size, good head, neck and chest, little longer in barrel, flights and tail; 3, Dodd, cl., nice feather, good subs. and col., shapely, neat carr.; vhc, Mores; hc, Dean; c, Butler and Barlow. BUFF (23) fine class: 1, Briggs and Walker, cl., smartly clothed, rich in col., fine size, shape and carr., capable of winning well in the "upper circles," beauty; 2, Hoperoft, mkd. wings and head, smooth as a Java, very shapely, capital size, close on the heels of winner; 3, Sharman, mkd. wing, fine subs., A1 col. and feather, rare head, neck and chest, little loose under; vhc, Ball; hc, Day; c, Smith. YELL. YORKS. (11): 1, Dykes, mkd. neck, straight as a pencil, tight as a drum, rare length, clever legs, gem; 2, vhc, Odgen Bros., most stylish brace, mkd. wing and cheek, sweetly moulded, lovely feather, lengthy and leggy, fine back, flights and tail, close up; 3, Lane, mkd. wing, not a feather wrong, full of nerve, delightful stand, beaten in length, yet a charmer; hc, Thomas; c, Williams. BUFF (9): 1, Dykes, well-known, neck mkd., smooth as marble, looking so well as ever; 2, Ogden Bros., mkd. breast, magnificent feather and col., lengthy and erect, well on leg, can beat more than beats it; 3, Thomas, mkd. eye, straight as a rush, good length, not so boxy in feather, yet one we like immensely; vhc, Lane; hc, Williams. MKD. (8): 1, Ogden Bros., var. buff, wonderful feather, col. and pos., not of the longest, but of the very smartest, full of true character; 2, hc, Wells and Clempson, yell. var., marvellous length, smooth as wax, A1 qual., stands like a Guardsman, pressed hard, bit flat in col.; 3, c, Williams, yell., mkd. wings and head, red hot, good length and qual., not so good in position and little behind in style; vhc, Dykes. UNFLIG. (12): 1, Dykes, yell., mkd. head, rattling qual., wonderful length, nice position, well filled in back, neat wing carr.; 2, hc, Thomas, buff, lightly var., delightful feather, straight as a gun barrel, well on leg, full of swagger, close up; 3, Lane, yell., mkd. root of tail, well feathered, good tone of col., upstanding, not so lengthy; vhc, Williams; c, Wells and Clempson. YELL. HEN (15) fine lot: 1, Ogden Bros., capital feather and col., marvellous length, fine position, neat and narrow, clever legs, rent charmer; 2, Dykes, mkd. wing and head, lovely feather, wedge shaped, full of nerve, well on leg, not quite so lengthy; 3, Elks, cl., A1 qual. of col., rare position, true character, showing signs of wear in neck, yet very fascinating; vhc, Foster; hc, Wells and Clempson; c, Lane. BUFF (16): 1, Wells and Clempson, tightly clothed cl., straight as a rush, superb col., grand back and wing carr.; 2, Ogden Bros., cl., lovely gowned, rich col., fine pos. and length, well on leg, pressed hard; 3, Dykes, cl., one of the longest seen for many a day, nice feather, not the position of above; vhc, Parkes; hc, Lane; c, no name. NOV., YELL. (12): 1, vhc, Chew, neat brace, mkd. head, stands well, good length and qual., capital col., shows nicely; 2, Graham, very promising, 1912 bred, capital outline, lengthy and leggy, in breeding form, does not show well, or might have won; 3, Philpot, cl., tight as a Java, delightful position, capital back and wing carr., not overdone with length; 4, Kelsey; c, Helsby. BUFF (12): 1, Hall, mkd. wing, straight as a gun barrel, smooth as wax, full of nerve, stood 2nd Leeds, bonny; 2, hc, Farrell, mkd. head, A1 qual. and col., good length and pos., hardly so stylish, yet neatness itself; 3, James, mkd. wing and neck, capital feather, nice position and well on leg, bit wild, when steady should do well; vhc, Chew; c, Wall. LANCS. (10): 1, 2, 3, vhc, hc, Green, magnificent team, leader cl. buff, coppy, wonderful merit, Leicester winner, etc.; 2 cl. yell. STOKE-ON-TRENT C.B.A.

Third annual club show, held Red Lion Hotel, Dec. 26th. Entries came up very well, about 140 being staged, just a few less than last year. The quality was excellent, many birds being staged capable of winning in open competition. In Norwich Mr. W. Roberts held a strong hand, and captured the special for best with his winning yellow. Yorkshire classes filled best, and competition was very keen. Special for best in this section was awarded Mr. Pitchford's yellow hen. Mr. Davis staged a nice Goldie-Bullie. British were not numerous, but were really good, and proved a great attraction. Special for best went to Mr. Davis's Linnet. Mr. Pitchford's birds being debarred from competition for it. The cup for most points with four nominated birds was captured by Mr. R. Smith with 33 points, Mr. Davis running very close with 32, and Mr. Walker with 31. Special most points in show, Mr. Davis. Mr. Henry Tams judged.

SHIPLEY O.S.

Annual open show of Canaries, held January 4th, in the Central Schools, Saltaire Road, Shipley. Only very meagre response was received to the schedule of 27 classes, and as for several years the members have been hard hit at their annual fixture, they will have a hard task to gather themselves together for next year's show. They have a splendid room, and are a very efficient set of workers, comprising amongst others the following: Mr. T. Motson (sec.), Messrs. Brown, Martin, Towers, Sutcliffe, junr., vice-presidents; Crossland, treasurer; J. B. Martin, chairman; Grange, assistant sec.; Bradshaw, Armstead, Murgatroyd, Craven, Excell, committee. Entries only totalled to 305, averaging short of 11 per class; several classes only paid half prize money. Mr. J. Robson, London, officiated as judge. The show was held under the rules of the Yorkshire Union and the patronages of the C.M., Y.C.C., and the N.G.M.Y.C.C. The special winners were:—Messrs. Ogden Bros., most points open classes; Mr. S. Binns, most points in novice classes;; Mr. A. M. Craven, Sandiford's medal; Messrs. Sutcliffe and Son, most points in selling.

GLOSSOP C.B.S.

Show held Dec. 28 at Victoria Hall. The entry was a good one, and quality was of a high order. The silver challenge cup went to a team of Lizards shown by Mr. Harold Garside, put down in excellent condition; Mr. A. Booth pressing close with a neat team of Yorks of rare length, slim and short in feather. Silver medal for best in show went to a typical Norwich shown by Mr. W. Watson. Mr. E. Thompson's Buff Yorkshire securing the prize for the second best, Mr. C. E. Fisher's Lizard that for the third best; and Mr. J. Senior's Norwich fourth best. Points spl was won by Mr. E. Thompson, and the Ramsden silver medal for the best colour-fed bird, fed on Ramsden's pure peppers, went to Mr. Fisher's Norwich. Mr. Booth carried out his duties with commendable smartness, and the secretary and stewards had the cards up without delay.
